Buys Hotel Property.

Mrs. J. F. Magee, who recently leased the Hotel Madras, informs us that she was so well pleased with Madras and the future prospects of the town and the surrounding country, that she has decided to make this her permanent home, and last week she purchased the hotel property from the former owner, Fred Zogg. Mr. and Mrs. Magee have had long experience in the hotel business and will undoubtedly make a success of it here. Here's hoping they do.—Madras Pioneer.

Money Well Spent.

One of the surprising sights upon the trip in from Bend is noticed at La Pine where before one sees the town at all they are suddenly confronted by a beautiful school building costing $10,000 which that town has erected for high school purposes. It is a surprising and pleasing sight. But what is more attractive is the greater number of children of all ages which are seen about it at recess time. Ask any of the citizens of that town if they consider the money well spent and always the answer will be in the affirmative. They consider it the best investment the town has made.—Chewaucan Press.

Look for Development.

C. E. Hawthorn, a railroad man connected with the passenger department of the S. P. L. A. & S. L. R. R. was in Silver Lake the latter part of last week, remaining over Sunday. The purpose of his visit to this section was to look over some land he had been trying to dispose of ever since he got it last fall by a trade for some Idaho property. It is the W. R. Speck place of 320 acres near View Point. Accompanying P. D. Reeder, he looked over his land Sunday afternoon, announcing afterwards that it wasn't for sale. He said that the Strahorn railroad project was the chief topic of conversation in Los Angeles and Southern California, and that the people here could look for some real development soon.—Silver Lake Leader.

The Bridge.

If there is anything that harrows up the soul it is to look into the face and behold the form of some farmer's wife who has had to keep a house, raise a half dozen children, feed numerous farm hands and then run the dairy. Those hard lines around the mouth and eyes tell the tale that every honest man should be ashamed of.—Fort Rock Times.

Busy at Pringle Falls.

The big flume being built by the Power Co. is about completed. A small piece of flooring is being delayed because of green lumber, but with this exception, the big flume is practically finished. It is 12 feet 4 inches wide and 6 feet high, length about 350 feet. The brick making tests being made by the Pringle Falls company are about complete and the manufacture of building brick will be started within a few days. The experiments have proven very satisfactory.—La Pine Inter-Mountain.

Has Road Fever.

W. J. Buckley has evidently got a pretty bad case of road fever himself. It leaks out that after the rain of last week he not only dragged his own road leading to O'Neil hill, but sent a man and one of his own teams to drag the new road between here and Cline Falls. It was out of his district but he knew it needed dragging as badly as any road in the country and would likely not be done unless he attended to it. Good roads are his hobby and he always builds that kind.—Redmond Spokesman.

Silica Near Culver.

The deposit of silica near Culver covers a large area, and this is located only about three miles from the railroad station. Tests have shown that it is very pure. The deposit is located so that it may be easily mined and a large quantity could be turned out daily by a small force of men. In the refining process it is probable that much gold would be obtained, as tests have shown that it contains quite an amount of free gold. When a small chunk of it is pulverized and panned out, many colors are obtained. From the tests made thus far, the indications are that the gold would at least pay for the mining, milling and handling, and the fact that the deposit lays so near the railroad adds

One for the Court.

Crescent and the Crescent country will eventually become the center for all tourists passing through the country. It is the gateway to Crescent, Odell and Davis lakes, and all tourists who visit the famous Crater lake from the north must pass through Crescent. This being a truth, it is important that our roads be put in the very best condition. We can never expect the present county court to do anything on our roads.—Crescent News.
