

CONFIDENT OF STRAHORN LINE

SUCCESS IS SEEN BY CALDWELL MAN

After Visit to Spokane Swain Beatty Convinced of Future and Believes Western Idaho Will Benefit—Direct Communication Given.

That the Strahorn railroad project is attracting attention elsewhere than in Central Oregon, and that other sections are looking to it for assistance in developing their possibilities, is indicated in an article appearing in a recent issue of the Caldwell, (Idaho) Tribune. Incidentally it is apparent that the same confidence which is felt locally that the project will be carried through to completion exists in these other sections.

This article, which reported a trip to Spokane and visit with Mr. Strahorn enjoyed by Swain Beatty, of Caldwell, is in part as follows:

"Swain Beatty returned the latter part of last week from Spokane where he had been on business. While at Spokane, Mr. Beatty was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Strahorn, former residents of Caldwell and old time friends of Mr. Beatty.

"Mr. Strahorn, who is one of the greatest railroad builders the west has produced, is engaged in promoting the construction of railroads in the interior of Oregon and opening up that magnificent empire. Mr. Beatty is convinced that Mr. Strahorn will carry out his plans to a successful conclusion, and that Oregon, Washington and western Idaho will be greatly benefited by the new roads.

Proposed Routes of Railroads.

"Mr. Strahorn's plans provide for the construction of a railroad from Bend, Oregon, to Klamath Falls via Fort Rock and Silver Lake; from Silver Lake to Lakeview via Summer Lake and Paisley; from Bend to connection with O. V. R. & N. line out of Vale. The aggregate length of the proposed road is 400 miles. The estimated cost is $4,000,000. The roads are to be financed by independent capital, but to co-operate with all existing railroads with which the new lines will connect. The roads will open up immense timber tracts; top a great agricultural empire; and bring into communication with the outside world a stock country whose extent and potential value can hardly be estimated.

"Mr. Beatty is convinced that the railroads will be of great benefit to western Idaho. The line connecting with the Vale branch will give this section much closer connections with San Francisco and Nevada points. In fact it will lessen the distance to San Francisco by several hundred miles. It will place this section in direct railroad communication with Central Oregon and northern Nevada."

O'KANE GETS INTERVIEWED

Bend Man in Portland Boosts For Town.

(Oregon Journal.) Bubbling over with optimism and boasting from reviville to taps for his home town, Hugh O'Kane of Bend is a visitor in Portland.

Mr. O'Kane maintains that Bend right now is the liveliest town in the country, and says traveling men and others who have been there recently agree with him.

"We've a couple of thousand full dinner pails being carried to work every morning now," said Mr. O'Kane "and 10,000 population in the next two years is what we expect. Dwellings and business places are going up all over town and are at a premium. The mills are running full blast and every line of business is correspondingly active. The Strahorn railroad proposition is being supported in good shape, and August 3 next we will vote on a $35,000 bond issue to help the cause along."

Mr. O'Kane has just completed erection of a new building at Bend, to be known as the O'Kane building and containing 14,000 square feet of floor space on the ground floor.

Mr. O'Kane drove to Portland from Bend in his automobile, and says the satisfaction of travel and scenery along the Columbia highway more than repaid him for the abundant roads and trouble encountered until the highway was reached.

TRIALS OF AN ORCHESTRA.

Its Labors Marked an Epoch in Our Musical History.

Back in the eighteen forties a number of travelling orchestras came to America from Europe.

The most famous was the Germania, which gave its first concert in New York Oct. 5, 1848. The seed fell on stony ground at first. In Philadelphia Arch Street hall was rented for $10. Jan. 1, 1849—the receipts were exactly $9.50. In the middle of the performance the manager of the hall appeared and threatened to turn out the lights if the rental was not paid immediately. To a man the orchestra voted that the lights be turned out, and the concert ceased.

Later this organization was more successful. During the next six weeks it gave 829 concerts in the east, west and south, besides collaborating in oratorios and with local choral societies. Jenny Lind sang with them at times, and they were joined by Henrietta Soutag, Telesco, August Kreisnamm, Ole Hull and others now and then.

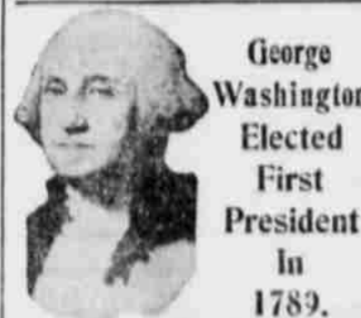

They disbanded in 1854, but where ever one of their number settled a contagion point was established from which a love and appreciation of music radiated throughout the community. This seed scattering was of incalculable value to the spread of musical taste in America. It marked an epoch in our musical history.—New York American.

Origin of Dukes.

The word "duke" is from the Latin "dux," a leader. In early Saxon times the commanders of armies were called dukes—i. e., the leaders of the soldiery.

In other words, the first duke was the first best fighting man. No regard was had to ancestry or present attainments or any other sort of thing beyond the simple matter of warlike efficiency. Naturally the leader of the fighting would, when the fighting was over, come in for the lion's share of the spoils and "honors," and naturally again the rest of the folks would "look up" to him, and by degrees his superiority would be imparted to his family, and a "nobility" would spring into being. It all rested, to start with, on brute force and animal courage combined with cunning in clubbing and thrusting.

ELECTING A PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON.

THE first presidents were chosen by electors who were chosen by the legislatures of the various states. The person having the majority of these electors was declared president. The person having the next greatest number was declared vice president.

The first election took place on Jan. 7, 1789, in the states that had ratified the constitution. The electors chose the president on Feb. 4, 1789. The vote, counted on April 6, 1789, was:

George Washington, 69; John Adams, 34; Samuel Huntington, 2; John Jay, 9; John Hancock, 4; R. H. Harrison, 6; George Clinton, 3; John Rutledge, 6; John Milton, 2; James Armstrong, 1; Edward Telfair, 1; Benjamin Lincoln, 1. Ten states voted, but there is no record of the popular vote.

In the election of 1792 Washington received 132 votes and Adams 77.

HABITS—RULE 12.

Avoid Poisonous Drugs.

Drugs that give you the habit of taking them over and over are poisons. Some of these drugs are cocaine, heroin, alcohol, opium and acetanilid. Many patent medicines contain such drugs and are very dangerous.

The best way to keep your mind and body strong is not to form habits of drinking liquids like spirits, wine, beer, patent drinks sold at soda fountains, and patent medicines. Do not drink much tea or coffee.

It is wrong to think that drinking much beer, ale and other liquors gives strength. These onlyadden the tired feeling and do not really take it away. You are more tired after drinking them and less able to keep away sickness.

Do not smoke too much. It would probably be best for many people not to smoke at all. If you do smoke, do so in moderation.

- DO YOU KNOW THAT...
- It's worry, not work, which shortens life?
- A cold bath every morning is the best complexion remedy?
- Poor health is expensive?
- The U. S. Public Health Service has reduced malaria 60% in some localities?
- The death rate from typhoid fever in the United States has been cut in half since 1907?
- Pneumonia kills over 120,000 Americans each year?
- Flyless towns have few funerals?
- The well that drains the cesspool is the cup of death?
