

HOMESTEAD LAW HAS AMENDMENT

ADDITIONAL ENTRIES ARE POSSIBLE

New Act Is Signed by President on July 3—Amendment Consists of a New Section—Leave of Absence Privilege Is Extended.

(Oregon Journal.)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The new act amending the enlarged homestead law, which was signed by the president on July 3, will enable many additional entries to be made of the non-irrigable land in Oregon and other far western states. The amendment consists of a new section, reading as follows:

Section 7.—That any person who has made or shall make homestead entry of less than 320 acres of land of the character herein described, and who shall have submitted final proof thereon, shall have the right to enter public lands subject to the provisions of this act, not contiguous to his first entry, which shall not with the original entry exceed 320 acres; provided, that the land originally entered and that covered by the additional entry shall first have been designated as subject to this act as provided by section one thereof; provided further, that in no case shall patent issue for the land covered by such additional entry until the person making same shall have actually and in conformity with the homestead laws resided upon and cultivated the lands additionally entered, and otherwise complied with such laws, except that where the land embraced in the additional entry is located not exceeding 20 miles from the land embraced in the original entry no residence shall be required on such additional entry if the entryman is residing on his former entry. And provided further, that this section shall not be construed as affecting any rights as to location of soldiers' additional homesteads under section 2366 of the Revised Statutes.

On the same day this bill was approved the president attached his name to an act extending the leave of absence privilege to settlers on unsurveyed lands, this act reading as below:

That any qualified persons who has heretofore or shall hereafter in good faith make settlement upon and improve unsurveyed unreserved unappropriated public lands of the United States with intention, upon survey of entering same under the homestead laws, shall be entitled to a leave of absence in one or two periods not exceeding in the aggregate five months in each year after establishment of residence; provided, that he shall have plainly marked on the ground the exterior boundaries of the land claimed and have filed in the local land office notice of the approximate location of the lands settled upon and claimed, of the period of intended absence, and that he shall upon the termination of the absence and his return to the land file notice thereof in the local land office.

MAZAMA OUTING PLANNED

Mountain Climbers to Spend Vacation on Three Sisters.

Details of the Mazama outing, which is to take place this year in the Cascades west of Bend, the objective point being the Three Sisters, have recently been announced. It is expected that some, at least, of the party will return to Portland by way of Bend. As in past years the outing will be on a national forest.

The mountain climbers will enter the National Forest just west of McKenzie Bridge, by way of the McKenzie highway. This highway is a splendid road extending eastward from Eugene, along the McKenzie river, through the lava fields west of the summit, and up over the divide, connecting on the east side at Sisters with the main roads to Central Oregon points. The Mazamas will follow this road up into the Forest, visiting Foley Hot Springs, Belknap Springs, the Fish Hatchery and other interesting points along the route. The road leaves the McKenzie river at Lost Creek, following the creek to the Frog camp on the summit of the divide. The Mazamas will then travel along an easy trail for six miles, and camp on the west base of Middle Sister.

From this camp the Mazamas will be able to visit the nearby peaks—North, Middle and South Sisters, Broken Top, Bachelor Butte, and Husband and Wife. There are also numerous glaciers, ice caves and other natural phenomena in the vicinity and hundreds of acres of mountain meadow surrounding the camp site.

At the Movies

Bend Theatre.

That most romantic of all heroes, Dustin Farnum, again scores a success in "The Call of the Cumberlands." This red blooded Southern story of clans and feuds; rifles and hounds, hatreds and loves will be the Paramount attraction at the Bend tonight and Thursday.

The second chapter of "The Girl and the Game," contains several new thrillers, one showing the fearless Helen Holmes in the act of jumping from one speeding engine to another. Every chapter of this railroad novel pictures some complete action, and will be shown every Friday and Saturday till completed.

The photo drama, "Damaged Goods," is founded upon the fact that a moral decision awaits every young person stepping out into life. Richard Bennett, who plays the hero of this story, permits himself to be drawn into the social vortex with deplorable results. Later an eminent specialist pronounces him unfit to marry, in fact a piece of Damaged Goods. Bennett then resorts to quack cure. Subsequent developments are no less appalling because of their frequency.

RICHARD BENNETT IN "DAMAGED GOODS" A MUTUAL SPECIAL FEATURE IN SEVEN PARTS MADE BY AMERICAN

"Damaged Goods" is intensely absorbing. Its first purpose is, however, to serve as a warning to the American people. As is customary in exhibiting this picture all children under sixteen must be accompanied by their guardian or older relative.

Owing to the unprecedented demands for this picture a higher rental than was ever paid in Bend was required, and it could be reserved for one day only, Wednesday, July 26th. There will be a matinee and evening show of "Damaged Goods," and reserved seats are now on sale at Reed & Horton's Drug store.

The many admirers of Margaret Clark and Mary Pickford will be glad to learn that managers Catlow & Doonar have booked for July and August, four superb attractions featuring these favorites, the first of which is "Fanchon, the Cricket," starring Mary Pickford.

Falls of Iguazu.

More than twice as wide as Niagara and fully fifty feet higher, the falls of Iguazu, in South America, is one of the great wonders of that continent.

Our affections are our life. We live by these. They supply our warmth—Channing.

Man and the Camel.

When man first saw the camel he was so frightened at his vast size that he fled away. After a time, perceiving the meekness and gentleness of his temper, he summoned courage enough to approach him. Soon afterward, observing that he was an animal altogether deficient in spirit, he assumed such boldness as to put a bride in his mouth and to set a child to drive him. Use serves to overcome dread.—From Aesop's Fables.

Social Structure.

What is a social structure? It may be an ant hill or a democracy. It is usually composed of a mass of individuals banded together for mutual disagreement. It is centripetal and centrifugal. Each individual would like to get out of it, but he doesn't know how. Small masses of individuals, also banded together, would like to get out of it, but they don't know how. Larger masses of individuals banded together would like to get rid of some of the smaller masses, but they don't know how. Nobody wants everybody else to stay. Everybody doesn't want anybody to stay. The result is that nobody can get rid of anybody. Hence the social structure.—Life.
