NEW HOSPITAL IS CONSIDERED

CATHOLIC SISTERS MAY COME

Bishop O'Reilly Here Tomorrow to Tell of Plans—Site For Institution to be Donated—Investment May be Heavy.

With the view to investigating the conditions locally for the establishment of an academy and Catholic Sisters hospital in Bend, the Right Reverend Bishop O'Reilly, of Baker City, will arrive in Bend tonight. Tomorrow evening Bishop O'Reilly will be the guest of W. D. Cheney at the Emblem club at a banquet at which persons interested in the enterprise will be invited to attend.

It is understood that a site for the proposed hospital has been offered free for this purpose, but the identity of its donor, and the location has not been made public. At the meeting tomorrow evening this will likely be made known, and something as to the character and the purposes of the hospital will be given out by Bishop O'Reilly.

Bishop O'Reilly has been a frequent visitor in Bend, and for some time had in mind the establishment of a hospital here. The bishop is greatly impressed with Bend and its future. On former visits he has expressed himself as favoring the foundation of an academy and hospital under the auspices of the Sisters in Bend provided local conditions were satisfactory. It has been learned that extensive support will be given to the school and hospital.

On a recent trip east Bishop O'Reilly conferred with the head officers of the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, who are almost exclusively an eastern and southern order of Sisters of Charity. This order is one of the most enterprising in the country and the institutions under its direction are known widely for their efficiency and modern methods. It has also been learned that the order is prepared to invest extensively in the erection and equipment of an up-to-date academy and hospital in Bend. The entrance of the Sisters into this locality has been deterred for some time owing to the scarcity of Sisters and the great demand for them in centers where their hospitals are located in the east. The order, however, has had Bend under consideration for some time, with the view to increasing its activity in the west and it is expected that definite results will follow from Bishop O'Reilly's visit.

COUNTY FAIR THIS WEEK.
The annual Crook county fair is being held this week at Prineville. An interesting program of races and special attractions has been arranged by Manager R. L. Schee and it is expected that fine exhibits of stock and agricultural products will be shown. From Bend an exhibit will be made by the Bend Flour Mill company, and children from the schools will demonstrate canning club work. In the line of sports, Max Martin will meet Fred Hiller, in a wrestling match and Fred Gilbert will box 10 rounds with Jack Dobrey.

County Division

ON THE BALLOT at the coming election will appear the question of removal of the county seat from Prineville to Bend, and the question of the formation of Deschutes county from Crook county. Two years ago a division campaign was waged and more than 60 per cent of the voters in the proposed Deschutes county voted in favor of division. As soon as Bend began its recent remarkable growth it was generally agreed that this year division would carry if the necessary 35 per cent vote could be assured from the east side. When an attempt was made to obtain this assurance Bend met with evasion and double crossing of such nature that a removal of the county seat seemed the only possible method of bringing to the west side what it wanted and was entitled to, that is, a county seat. Accordingly a local bill was initiated to remove the county seat from Prineville to Bend.

Later, assurances were received from representative citizens of the east side that the necessary 35 per cent vote could be obtained if division were undertaken and it was agreed that Deschutes county will receive much more than the 35 per cent vote needed from Prineville and the rest of the east side. It is apparent also that the necessary 65 per cent vote will be cast in Deschutes county. In fact, the certainty that the vote would be favorable has produced an apathy which has led some to ask if the issue were dead. The issue is not dead. It is very much alive, as is anything which the people want.

In the few weeks remaining before election certain aspects of the division question will be discussed here, particularly that of taxation, which is one of the most important and most misunderstood. Division is the question. County seat removal will be voted down. Get ready now to mark your cross against removal and for division.

STATE AND CITY HEALTH AUTHORITIES ON CAMPAIGN

Want Danger of Pollution of Deschutes by River Front Residents Removed At Once

Drastic measures are to be taken by state and city health authorities to remove the present danger of pollution of the water of the Deschutes by banishing from the river shore the out houses and refuse piles which have been collected in the past year. In the beginning owners and occupants of the river front property will be warned and given time to clean up their premises and thereafter those who fail to heed the warning will be prosecuted under the Deschutes pollution statute passed by the 1911 legislature.

In carrying out this campaign Dr. David N. Roberg, state health officer, of Portland was here for several days last week. Speaking of local conditions Dr. Roberg said that they were worse than in any other place he knew in the state and his work takes him around rather extensively. City Health Officer Coe has done his best to improve conditions, but public sentiment is not sufficiently strong to obtain results. One offender was tried while Dr. Roberg was here and fined $25. He left 12 complaints and depositions which are to be used in trials as soon as Deputy District Attorney Erskine returns to town. The council will also be asked to pass an ordinance requiring septic tanks on river lots.

While here Dr. Roberg also described the workings of the model registration law now in effect in Oregon under which all births and deaths are reported to a local registrar and by him to the state board of health. In this manner the state board is able to keep in touch with health conditions all over the state. The local registrar is Dr. U. C. Coe, who has appointed as his assistant Dr. Dwight E. Miller.

Dr. Roberg said that the town should do everything in its power to protect the Deschutes water shed, stating that the opening of Crane Prairie would be a great mistake.

WILL FIGHT DIVISION

Incorporators of Spokesman Co., to Publish Two Papers.

Back of the recent incorporation of the Spokesman Publishing Co., consisting of M. W. Pettigrew, J. N. Williamson, George Dickinson, E. T. Stanyon and C. W. Elkins is an interesting story which is expected to be unfolded as the county division campaign and the work on the Prineville railroad develop.

According to the best reports available the primary object of the new enterprise will be to obtain a location of the Prineville railroad satisfactory to the interests behind the new company. Another object will be to fight county division. It is understood that a portion of the Redmond Spokesman plant will be moved to Prineville and that two papers will be published, the Prineville Spokesman and the Redmond Spokesman.

WELFARE EXHIBIT COMING.
Under the auspices of the Bend Parent-Teacher association the exhibit of the state child welfare league will be shown here next week, the exact date not yet being known. Included in the exhibit is a display which will probably be set up in the Commercial Club room, and two lectures with stereopticon slides on kindergarten work and child welfare.

SECOND SHEVLIN-HIXON MILL STARTS CUTTING OCTOBER 5

Capacity of Plant will be Increased One-Third--- Nearly 200 More Men to be Added to Pay Roll--- Labor Situation Reported to be Brighter With the Ending of the Harvest Season

The third saw mill for Bend, the second or twin mill of The Shevlin-Hixon Company, with one band, will commence operations next week. Thursday, the finishing touches on the installation of the machinery now being almost complete.

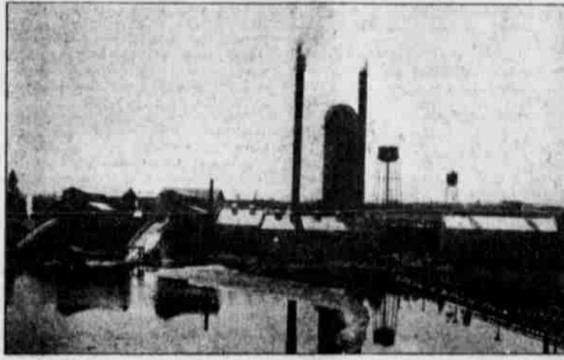

With the beginning of operations of the twin mill, the capacity of The Shevlin-Hixon Company will be one-third greater than the present output, daily on two 10-hour shifts. This will increase the cut from about 120,000,000 to 150,000,000 feet.

Together with the increased cut will come a one-third increase in the number of men directly connected with will be handled over individual tramways to the first mill and will all go through the trimmer of the first mill.

As the force of men in the woods is now just sufficient to supply logs for one mill, it will be necessary to increase the logging force about one-third by the employment of more than 100 men. A night force will be employed on the logging road. Fifty new logging cars have been ordered and are expected to arrive before the new mill begins operations. Next Sunday the water in the logging pond will be lowered and the piers in The Shevlin-Hixon Company's logging pond will be blown out which will in-the saw mill units of the plant which will affect the pay roll in the mill proper, sorting sheds, stager and unstacker, dry kiln, logging road and in the logging camps. It is estimated that between 150 and 200 men will be added to the present force of the company within the next few weeks. Of the number to be added about 50 men will make up the force at the company's plant. Twenty-five men will be employed in the mill during the two shifts.

The twin mill is identical in size with the first mill being 54 by 150 feet. Although only one nine-foot band saw mill will be operated at the present, the builders have made provision for the installation of a second band as soon as it is needed. The cut crease the pond area sufficient to handle the logs for the second mill. The new mill is built by Dion and Horsakotte, of Spokane. Duncan McLaurin has been in charge of construction.

With the labor situation at the mill now becoming brighter no difficulty in obtaining mill hands and loggers is expected. The situation which was acute a few weeks ago is much better, according to foremen of various parts of the plant. Men, who have been engaged on homesteads and in the harvest fields for several months, are now turning to steadier work for the fall and winter months and it is expected that all the men necessary to run the plant to its capacity will be available.

SISTERS FAIR NEXT WEEK

Saturday Will Be Bend Day—Crop Exhibits Promise Well.

The Sisters' Fair and Race meet which will be held, October 6 and 7, promises to be the best ever.

Crops are unusually good this year and farmers will be enabled to choose many fine samples of their produce for the exhibit. There will be no entry fees this year for exhibitors and farmers are eager to enter the contests.

There were nine horses trained on the track this year and all these horses will appear and contest in the races. The track is being put in excellent condition and the grounds and buildings are being improved. More interest is being shown in the fair than ever and indications are that there will be plenty to interest and entertain visitors every minute.

Saturday, October 6, will be observed as Bend day.

REGISTER NOW!

In the first week of September, according to Secretary of State Ben W. Olcott, the registrations for the coming election were 50,000 short of the total registrations for 1914. Registration books close on October 7 and all who wish to receive the pamphlet containing the measures to be voted on in November should register before that time. Those who have registered elsewhere and since removed to Crook county can have their registration changed by application to the registration officer and should attend to this at once.

AYA SEES MORSON.

Alfred A. Aya has brought suit against J. E. Morson, for $4,000, claiming that amount on account of transactions between the two in connection with phases of the Deschutes Land Company, or Morson project, at La Pine. Papers in the suit were filed in Portland yesterday, according to the Oregon Journal.

ORCHESTRA ENTERTAINED HERE

Party of 50 From Burns Arrived Saturday on Way to Salem.

The Harney County Sage Brush orchestra arrived in Bend from Burns late Saturday afternoon and left on the night train for Portland. While here the party of about 50, including the members of the orchestra and older folks traveling with them, were entertained at dinner at the Emblem club. They are expected to return this way later in the week and may possibly give a concert here before leaving for Burns.

Reports have been current here this week that the reason the orchestra cancelled its engagement to play here Saturday night was because an exorbitant price had been charged for the use of the hall. According to the best information available this is incorrect Manager Doudlah, of the Hippodrome, asserting that the price was reasonable, while the manager of the orchestra states that the trouble was caused by inability to obtain satisfactory hours for the concert. The chief difficulty seems to have been caused by leaving the arrangements to some one not connected with the orchestra.

BOX FACTORY STARTS WORK.

The Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Company's box factory started operations last Saturday morning. The factory will not be running to its capacity for a week. When going to its full capacity the plant will employ about 20 men. The manufacture of box shooks is a new field for the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Company.

TO CRUISE COUNTY TIMBER.

On their way to cruise the timber of Lake county for assessment purposes, M. G. Nease, of Portland, and a party of timber cruisers in his employ passed through Bend last week. One of the party was Sam Hellab, a well known athlete and pole vaulter. According to members of the party it is expected that their work will occupy them until snow flies.

HOTEL IS STARTED

Excavation For Pilot Butte Hotel Began Monday Morning.

The work of excavation for the new Pilot Butte hotel began Monday morning, and, according to Phillip Brooks, will be pushed as fast as possible with the idea of completing the hotel at the earliest possible date. Arrangements for the work were made by Mr. Brooks when here last week and on Saturday he explained to the Commercial club, at its luncheon at the Wright hotel, the reason for the various delays in starting work. The new hotel will be carried on by Mr. Brooks, Frank Sullivan, who has been associated with him in the enterprise having found it necessary to give it up.

A triangular piece of land belonging to the Bend Water Light and Power Co., and adjoining the hotel property will be sold to Mr. Brooks to give him a longer frontage on Greenwood avenue and the rear of the lot will be filled in by waste from the excavation. The construction will be in charge of George Ingemann. Mr. Brooks is expected to return on Saturday.

CORBETT GOES TO ASTORIA.

J. H. Corbett, who has been agent in Bend for the Oregon Trunk and the O.-W. R. & N., since the railroad was first built in here, left Sunday for Astoria where he will be freight and ticket agent on the S. P. & S. His position here has been taken by D. Keller, formerly agent at Redmond. Mr. Keller has moved to Bend with his family. The Redmond office will hereafter be in charge of D. E. Studebaker, of Washtuc, Wash.

MRS. J. MANNHEIMER DIES.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mannheimer left hurriedly Tuesday morning for Chicago, having received word the night before of the serious illness of Mrs. J. Mannheimer in Chicago. Later in the forenoon Claude Mannheimer received a message reporting his mother's death. Mrs. Mannheimer was 57 year old and leaves three daughters besides Clarence and Claude Mannheimer, of Bend. The funeral will be held on Friday and Mannheimer Brothers store will be closed for the day.

POTNAM RESUMES OFFICE.

With the mustering out of the Third Oregon at Cheukamas on Monday, G. P. Putnam, of Bend, publisher of The Bulletin, who has been serving as a corporal in Company M resumed his duties as secretary to Governor Withycombe. Mr. Putnam is expected to arrive in Bend for a short visit on Saturday. Mrs. Putnam will accompany him.

C. M. YAHNE BADLY BURNED.

C. M. Yahne, a driver of one of the mail trucks of the Pioneer Auto Stage and Truck Company, was badly burned last Monday by a gasoline explosion in the Walsh and Smith Garage at Silver Lake. Yahne was straining gasoline through a chamois into the gasoline tank of the truck when the explosion occurred. By the presence of mind of persons in the garage, who rolled Mr. Yahne in blankets and smothered the flames, the burns were less serious. The company's truck and a large quantity of freight was destroyed. Mr. Yahne was brought to Bend last night.

FAIR SITE PURCHASED.

A 40-acre tract, west of the Bend Company's old mill on the west side of the river was purchased Monday by the Bend Fair and Race Track association from The Bend Company. The consideration was $60 per acre. A crew of men under Charles Carroll was put to work Tuesday morning clearing and grading the grounds preparatory to the grading of the race track and the erection of grand stands and stables. The association plans to hold a race meet here some time during the latter part of next month.

TUMALO FAIR IS AGAIN A WINNER

LARGE CROWD SEES SATURDAY SHOW

Attorney-General Brown Present to Speak—Ladies Serve Usual Good Dinner—Sports Occupied the Afternoon.

The Sixth Annual fair of the West Side Agricultural Fair association, held at Tumalo on Saturday, was a worth while exhibit of the progress and industry of the people living on the Tumalo project, and a renewed testimonial to the productivity of the project lands. Also, it was the first of the fall fairs of the county where folks from all sections met to talk crops and politics and car values. And also again, it was the occasion for another one of those West Side Ladies' dinners which are always a drawing card.

How true this was on Saturday was shown by Attorney-General Brown, who was drawn all the way from Salem by the memory of the dinner served by these same ladies a year ago in June, when the Deuel Land board came in to inspect the project. Mr. Brown recalled this event in his speech, delivered from the front platform of the hall. Except for this, and congratulatory words for the standard of exhibits displayed in the hall, the greater part of Mr. Brown's speech was devoted to a discussion of two of the measures on the ballot this fall. One, the full rental value land law, he denounced, urging that every man who owned a piece of land should vote against it. The other, the so-called brewer's amendment, was equally repugnant to him, and apparently he had a good part of his audience with him.

Mr. Brown furnished a good fourth part of the day's program. Another, the dinner, has already been mentioned and a third, the afternoon sports, must find their tale in the summary of prize winners which will be published in next week's Bulletin. There remains one more, the fair itself, or more particularly, the exhibits in the hall.

The Exhibit.
In one initial respect the show was far ahead of last year's and that was in the arrangement. On Saturday, with the two side tables there were two tables up the center with an aisle between thereby doing away with the crowded appearance of last year and making navigation of the aisles a far easier matter.

On the tables the most abundant exhibit was possibly potatoes. The other more noticeable displays were the root crops and grasses and grain which, with the dairy cow and stock, will be the agricultural making of the country. Here and there were less hardy products, cucumbers, tomatoes and corn, but these were not up to last year's standards, nor was there any such fruit display as at last year's show. Perhaps the most attractive exhibit was the display of strawberries from the Becker ranch, big, red berries that ~~seem to~~ shout for the rest of a shortcake ingredients to make produce a perfect end. The Becker honey, alongside, made mouths water, also.

Another exhibit to which especial reference should be made was the general display of E. J. Rogers which took the blue ribbon. Mr. Rogers had over 10 different kinds of food products displayed, from cake and cheese and pie and bread to all the vegetables, smoked meats, a roast chicken, jelly and jams. And all, everything, from the cake to the jam, raised or made by him on his homestead. He is a bachelor, but some girl will have him cooking for her yet.

A number of the exhibits have been taken to the state fair at Salem by Manager Wallace.

A big crowd saw the show, coming from Sisters, Redmond, Prineville and Bend, as well as from every home on the project. The politicians were not very noticeable and almost best of all, there were no ring-the-cane, hit-the-nigger-baby and other bally hoo affairs which are so often found at agricultural fairs because those who attend them are more agricultural than the fair itself, at least in the eyes of the bally-hoo men who got their money.

TAXES NOW DUE.

The second half of the taxes for the year 1915 is now payable to Sheriff Knox, in Prineville, next week, Thursday being the last day on which payment can be made without interest. After Thursday, October 5, interest is payable at the rate of one per cent a month or fraction of a month until paid.

RECEPTION IS SUCCESSFUL.

Nearly 200 attended the reception given on Friday night by the Parent-Teacher association to the teachers of the Bend public schools at the Emblem club. Mrs. O. A. Thorson, as president of the association, introduced J. P. Keyes, of the school board for a few welcoming remarks and Mr. Keyes, in turn, introduced Superintendent Thordason. Following the speaking a musical program was given and refreshments were served.
