

MORE PRAISE FOR BULLETIN

JOURNALISM SCHOOL DEAN WRITES.

Eric W. Allen, of University of Oregon, Pays High Tribute to Typographical Appearance of Paper—Is Valuable to Advertisers.

The Bulletin's recent purchase of a Model 14 Linotype, concerning which a complimentary letter received from President Brodie, of the State Editorial Association, was published last week, has been noticed with interest by Eric W. Allen, dean of the School of Journalism, of the University of Oregon.

Mr. Allen, besides complimenting the Bulletin on its recent purchase, also takes occasion to comment in a kindly manner on features of the paper which have played a large part in its growth.

Mr. Allen's letter follows: "Mr. R. W. Sawyer, The Bend Bulletin, Bend, Ore.

"Dear Mr. Sawyer:

"As you know, we watch the Oregon papers pretty closely, and I've just noticed with a good deal of satisfaction the big improvement the Bulletin has added to its plant in the purchase of your new linotype. That certainly shows that you plan to make the paper bigger and better—and it's fair to say that the Bulletin has always been considered one of the very best small-town papers in the Northwest.

"One feature of your paper that impresses me is the excellence of your country correspondence service. I know how hard it is to develop that feature of country journalism, and how valuable it is. It insures circulation, and especially it means that the paper goes to the people of the country and that it is read by them; which in turn means that a paper which has developed this feature so well as you have is especially valuable to its advertisers. Advertising by a town merchant brings big returns when it gets before the men and women who live outside of that town and come to it for their shopping. It is more important to reach these, from the merchants' standpoint, than it is the local folks, who are on hand every day to see what the merchant offers.

"And I want to congratulate you upon the excellent typographical appearance of the Bulletin. In many ways it is a model of what a small newspaper should be. I don't know many papers outside of the metropolitan publications which set up their advertising matter so attractively, for instance.

"A good weekly is in many instances so much better than a struggling daily—better for the community and for itself—that I hope you'll not be tempted to enlarge in this direction until you are sure.

"Yours fraternally,
"ERIC W. ALLEN."

Took the Hurt Out of Her Back. Mrs. Anna Byrd, Tusculum, Ala., writes: "I was down with my back so I could not stand up more than half the time. Foley Kidney Pills took all the hurt out." Rheumatic pains, swollen ankles, backache, stiff joints and sleep disturbing bladder ailments indicate disordered kidneys and bladder trouble.—Adv.

Kedleston Hall. Kedleston Hall is considered to be Robert Adams' masterpiece. Its scale of magnificence may be gauged from the fact that one entire wing is taken up by the kitchen and its offices. The design of the garden front was copied from the arch of Constantine, and the drive through the park to the hall, a mile in length, is through some of the noblest forest scenery in England. It is said that when in 1761 the first Lord Scarsdale resolved on building Kedleston Hall as it now stands he removed the entire village to another spot to make room for his new mansion.—London Globe.

Largest Wild Rose. The great briar rose, from upper Burma, which is the largest of the world's wild roses (Rosa gigantea) was discovered by the late Sir Henry Collett among the Shan hills, where it climbs over the tallest trees, from the tops of which the long, pendant branches send down profuse festoons of huge white flowers. It was introduced into England about thirty years ago.—London Mail.

A Last Resort. "Little Boy—I want you to write me an excuse for being late to school yesterday. Jeweler—Eh? You are not my son. Little Boy—No; but mamma says I had plenty of time to get to school, so I guess the clock you sold her doesn't go right.

She Was. "Now, my angel!" "Not a word," said his wife. "You can't touch me. You came in soured last night, and I'm going to put it down in my diary." "Ah, my recording angel!"—Kansas City Journal.

Let this be your constant maxim. "That no man can be good enough to neglect the rules of prudence."—Fielding.

New Road From The Dalles to Jefferson County Line Planned

THE DALLES, Nov. 11.—At the recent election, Wasco county voted bonds to the amount of $260,000 for the construction of a trunk road leading from Mosier to The Dalles and thence south via Dufur, Kingsley, Tygh Valley, Maupin, Shaniko and Antelope to the Jefferson county line.

Immediately after the canvass of the vote the county court will arrange for the issue and sale of the bonds so that actual construction work can begin early in the spring. For the most part the road will be macadam construction and will provide a first-class, all the year round road.

The county court will so endeavor to administer the funds that practically the entire length of this road, which is approximately 90 miles, will be macadamized. The state of Oregon set aside $90,000 to be used in the construction of a road from
