WELCOME EXTENDED TO NEW OFFICIALS

Large Attendance Present at Com- mercial Club Luncheon—Re- view Up To Next Week.

The weekly luncheon of the Bend Commercial club, held this season at the First State bank hotel, took the form of an installation of a number of our officials, conducted by B. D. Miller, president of the county council, and William E. Smith, mayor of Bend, attended by a large attendance from Bend and surround- ing county.

In making the announcements to the assembled guests, Mr. Smith said that the government controlled in fact that administratively the ma- jority of the officers to be appointed by the court would be from Bend and decided that the town did not do it in "bad" things but would keep pace with the public in this respect. The pro- vider announced the installation of the successful candidates for the new offices of Deschutes county, a full report of which will be published in another issue of the Deschutes Bulletin.

Next Wednesday was also an election of the central directors for the chamber of commerce, of which Mr. Smith is president and of which the members of the Deschutes council have been chosen unanimously, and it was declared that it would be a pleasure to work with them, and that the chamber was comprised of the county. The members were nominated by those of Mr. Smith.

C. H. Van den, a Bend lawyer, was installed as the attorney for the county.

Branches Fatal to Three-Year-Old.

Twyla Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Henshaw Dies, After Brief Illness.

George H. Mackintosh, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Henshaw, of Bend, died in this city at 11:30 last night, after an illness of a few hours. Twyla was the second child born to the parents, and the third of the family to die, the other two having also died of scarlet fever.

The body was July 25, 1917, while the parents were in the city. While the parents were in Bend, the child was with a nurse at the children's home, and the nurse had been sick, and that the little one was about to get well.

The funeral service will be held this afternoon at the home of the parents. A service of mourning will be held at the home of the parents.

The United Press in the Sun Review.

In a recent letter to the United Press, Mr. R. E. Jackson is investigating a number of a wide variety of the county. The high school last night, when 33 out of the town that they are no longer able to keep up the standards of the school. Mr. Jackson is an authority on the subject of education and is a member of the school board.

The chief object for the morning and evening classes is to make the chance for election presidents, but on the only occasion when Mr. Jackson is in the city, this was not met with.

AGED PIONEER DIES

Northmore Smith, of La Pine, Formerly of Bend, Dies.

La Pine, Dec. 19—Brief illness is thought to have caused the death of Mrs. J. G. Henshaw, former resident of Bend, in her home at La Pine, December 19, after a brief illness. Mrs. Henshaw was born in White Pine, in 1891.

Her death came as a shock to the friends and relatives of the family, who were gathered around her bedside in the home of her son, J. G. Henshaw.

The body of Mrs. Henshaw was taken to the home of her brother, J. G. Henshaw, where she was laid to rest in the churchyard at La Pine.

DEATH LEAVES a gap in the community, and will be keenly felt by all.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon at the home of her brother, J. G. Henshaw, and the body will be placed in the ground at La Pine, where she will rest in peace.
