

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Some day there is going to be a celebration in this city. It looks now as if that particular day was in the dim and distant future. But when it comes there promises to be riot such as this locality has not seen in many a day. It won't be when the President makes a tour into these parts. It won't be when the U. S. A. declares war. It won't be when the O. C. & E. railway announces beginning of construction, but it will be the day when a box car comes to the city.
Woe to the pioneer of the rails when it is spotted in one of the mill yards. The Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Company avers that it has scouts out along the line and that it will carnap (akin to kidnap) said common carrier before it ever gets to the region west of the river where it is very much needed. The Shevlin-Hixon Company is planning a super-celebration on the occasion of this event. It will have guards stationed in the yards to prevent souvenir taking and looting. Staff photographers will be out to get advance information on the history of this traveling stranger, and grandstand seats will be sold at $1 per.
"I've talked car shortage until I am blue in the face," says H. H. Lamping, of the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Company. "I am getting to be an admirable protegee of Adonais, but it can't be helped."
"I can't see that it will make a great deal of difference with us about a strike on the railroad," said J. P. Hennessey, "we aren't getting enough cars to worry about handling them these days. The fact is, conditions could not be much worse."
Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Company.
Beginning tonight and extending over a period of three weeks, the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Company will shut down its saw mill and those departments which handle green lumber, including one camp of its logging department, stackers, graders in the mill, lumber piles and sorters.
This shutdown has been occasioned primarily by the shortage of freight cars for shipping. The warehouses of the company have been filled to their capacity for several weeks and it has been necessary to erect temporary sheds in some departments to accommodate the overflow. A suspension of sawing operations during this time will enable the company to do considerable repairing around its plant to make ready for its spring and summer runs.

"Of course I am unable to say just what effect the impending railroad strike will have upon our operations," said J. P. Keyes yesterday. "I feel that even if the strike does go into effect as scheduled, it cannot last any great length of time. If, however, it does, such a situation would threaten a complete shutdown of the plant."
In closing down a part of its plant for three weeks approximately 200 men are effected as regards employment.
***
In order to take care of its accumulation of box shooks stock in the future, the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Company will begin next week on the construction of a storage shed near the box factory, 140 feet wide and 128 feet long.
***
Dr. D. F. Brooks, of Minneapolis, president of the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Company, arrived in Bend Sunday morning and spent Monday in inspecting the plant, and left Monday night for his home.
***
The Shevlin-Hixon Company.
If the railroad strike is called, as scheduled by trainmen, it will have no immediate effect upon the operations of the Shevlin-Hixon Company's plant, as seen by Assistant General Manager J. P. Hennessey. The length of time during which it continues will determine largely the policy of the company with regard to operations.
In the opinion of Mr. Hennessey, the strike will not have a long life, and as the company has not been supplied with even a small percentage of the cars necessary to meet its orders, no immediate cessation of operations will occur.
With a week's close down considerable relief has been given to the box factory and it will begin its work again Monday morning.

RUSH FOR LAND BIGGEST EVER
U. S. OFFICE IN THE DALLES IS 46 DAYS BEHIND IN HANDLING THE BUSINESS, SAYS LETTER TO H. C. ELLIS.
(From Friday's Daily Bulletin)
That the rush for Central Oregon land is the most energetic in the history of the country, was indicated today in a letter received from the government office in The Dalles by U. S. Commissioner H. C. Ellis, stating that the office force is 46 days behind in its work.
This especially is true in regard to applications for 640 acre homesteads, business of this kind for January 29 now being handled. Current business is piling up more rapidly than it can be handled.

BEND HIGH TO HAVE GEOLOGICAL MUSEUM
Specimens Being Collected to Aid Students in Work in Physical Geography.
(From Friday's Daily.)
To add in the establishment of a high school geological museum, primarily for the use of students in Physical Geography, City Superintendent Thordarson is requesting that any people in Bend having specimens which they will be willing to donate, notify him as soon as possible. The introduction of a course in elementary science next year may be contingent on the securing of a good collection, he intimated.
George S. Young is aiding Mr. Thordarson in securing specimens for the museum.

STOCKMEN TO MEET AT SISTERS SOON

Members of the Sisters-Metallus Stock Raisers' association will meet Saturday at Sisters, Forest Supervisor W. G. Hastings announced today. The meeting will be the adjourned session of their annual gathering held several weeks ago.

PRINGLE WILL ADD TO BLOCK
SECOND STORY FOR BUILDING ON OREGON AND WALL, MAY BE TAKEN BY THE MASONS OF BEND.
(From Thursday's Daily.)
That he will add a second story to the one arranged in the original plans for the Pringle building to be erected on the corner of Wall and Oregon street, was the statement last night of A. M. Pringle, whose name the structure will bear. The addition will involve an extra expenditure of approximately $5000, making a total of $19,000 in round numbers.
No changes will be necessitated in the plans for the first floor, which is to be cut up into store rooms, as the original outline was made by Architect Lee A. Thomas, so as to allow for the placing of a second story in the future, if deemed advisable.
The purposes to which the second story will be put are not yet absolutely decided, but it is understood that the Masonic fraternity is considering having it constructed so as to serve for lodge purposes. If this is not done, the space will be divided into office rooms.

A PROTEST.
(From Thursday's Daily.)
BEND, Or., March 15.—To the Editor: As a member of the Commercial club, may I state through the columns of your paper my belief that the club makes a serious mistake in limiting its meetings to one hotel, as proposed by yesterday's vote. There is no reason why it should play any favorites. The Wright hotel has served the club well since the beginning of the club luncheons several years ago and its crowded condition last week, due to the presence of out of town people who were attending the county court meeting, should not be held as a reason for leaving the hotel entirely. The Wright is a Bend institution and I happen to know, a member of the club. Why not give it equal treatment?

CENTRAL COUNCIL NAMES OFFICIAL PAPER—R. C. CUNNINGHAM IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF ORGANIZATION.
(From Monday's Daily.)
That The Bend Bulletin shall be regarded as the official paper of the Central Labor, Trade, and Farmers' Council, was the decision announced by Secretary P. H. Pierson, of that body, following a meeting held by the members of the council. The gathering was held for the purpose of electing officers, R. C. Cunningham being chosen president; C. A. O'Brien, vice president; Mr. Pierson, recording financial secretary, and A. Edwards treasurer. Each of the new officers is a member of a different local union.
One of the ideals of the organization is to effect a closer conjunction between producer and consumer, it being for this reason that the labor and trade unions are allied with the farmers of the vicinity of Bend.

MANY ASSEMBLE FOR UNIVERSITY DINNER
Varied Program Given by Club Members at Pilot Butte Inn—Next Meeting Set for April 18.
(From Thursday's Daily.)
Nearly 50 members of the Bend University club, gathered last night at the new Pilot Butte Inn for the second banquet of the organization. A brief business session, during which it was decided to hold another affair of the kind on Wednesday evening, April 18, was sandwiched in between a program of songs, instrumental selections, and addresses by a number of the members.
Quartet selections were given by F. Thordarson, Louis Bennett, and C. W. Hager, a piano solo by Ashley Forrest, and a violin solo by William Sprout. Impromptu numbers were given by B. A. Stover's "torture" orchestra. Speeches were given by E. M. Lara, Phillip Brooks, F. Thordarson, Carl A. Johnson, J. P. Keyes, Robert B. Gould, Judge W. D. Barnes, Clyde McKay, Dr. B. Ferrell, Judge H. C. Ellis, Frank May, H. J. Overturf and Dr. Dwight F. Miller.

TO RUSH BUILDING OF THE GYMNASIUM
Organization Will Be Effected Tuesday Evening, When Committees Report On Work.
To have the organization of the Bend Amateur Athletic club in such shape as will enable it to start on something definite in the way of building, is the plan of the committee in charge of the constitution and by-laws appointed at the last meeting of the subscribers, when they give their report at a meeting next Tuesday evening.
As soon as it is definitely decided relative to the type of building and the amount that will be expended in construction it is likely that contractors will be set to work at once in preparation of their bids. It is expected that actual construction will begin before the end of this month.
The work of enlisting more members than have already subscribed is now going on in town.
