MISINFORMED.

The following is from the April 19 issue of the Redmond Spokesman:

"The apparent attempt of the governor and state treasurer to have the suits against the Pacific Livestock Co., of Harney county, dismissed, will win them little praise in the state of Oregon. There was ample grounds upon which to base these suits and Governor West was interested enough to protect the interests of the people of the state against the ring that the evidence showed were looting it of thousands of acres of its most valuable lands. Let the action be prosecuted with vigor."

"Let the action be prosecuted with vigor." Exactly.

And that is just what Governor Withycombe is trying to have done. The Spokesman has its facts twisted.

From the very first, the governor has stated that he would follow the advice of the Attorney General in the matter of this suit. When the attorney general advised that the suit be continued, the governor approved. Through the suggestion of the governor a meeting has been called of the Emergency Board, for the very purpose of voting funds with which to follow out the attorney general's advice and prosecute the case.

All of which is a matter of record, and has been clearly set forth in the Portland papers, although the Oregon Journal has garbled the facts somewhat so as to reflect discredit upon the governor.

Whatever the Spokesman's politics it should be fair enough and honest enough to get the facts before it rushes into criticism which is founded on misinformation.

A Real American Woman's Idea of the Enlisted Men of the United States Army and Navy.

By M. L. Stepp.

I wouldn't want a dastard for a sweetheart,
I'd rather be an old maid all my life;
A man must be a patriot of his country
If he ever wants to call me his wife,
If mothers teach their sons to shun the army,
We'll be the laughing stock of all the world,
Uncle Sam, the football of all nations,
And the Stars and Stripes in dishonor furled.

I'll cart my love upon the path of honor,
And smile, though breaking is my heart,
I'll think of him and pray for him
And try to do a loyal sweetheart's part,
Though cruel foe may wound and mangle him,
Perhaps from him his manly looks be torn,
But if he has breath left to say "I love you,"
I will marry him as sure as I was born.

If he gets ill I'll quickly go and nurse him
And help him win his strength to fight again,
I will stay as near the front as they will let me,
And help the sick and wounded men.
If he dies in battle I will mourn him
As my hero who has struggled for the right;
Our country will not be fit to live in
If our brothers and our sweethearts will not fight.

Some wonder why the women love the Bluecoats,
Be he soldier, sailor or marine,
Why they always wave their handkerchiefs to cheer him
When on parade the troops are often seen,
It isn't in uniform that he is so handsome,
It's not because he looks so spick and span—
But "Because he is the nation's brave protector,
He is the only real American Man."

CARPENTERS GO OUT, DEMANDS REFUSED

Twelve Men Discontinue Work on New Garage Being Built for Philip R. Brooks.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Because their demand for wages of $4.50 a day were not granted for carpenter work on the new garage of Philip R. According to carpenters' representatives, the demand made about 75 days ago, was refused by Mr. Brooks.

The demand drawn up some time ago by the carpenters' union, asks for a raise of 50 cents a day. It is understood that the raise has been complied with on other construction work about the city.

SING FOR CARS

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

At a recent meeting of the Montana Lumber Manufacturers Association, a set of verses was sung to the tune of "America" which give an idea of the chief thought now uppermost in the mind of the lumber manufacturer. The verses, which are dedicated to W. C. Watrous, chief car accountant of the Great Northern, are as follows:

"Oh! Watrous, 'tis through thee
We think and hope to see
A bunch of cars,
If you will help them these,
We all can rest at ease
And on our bended knees
Will thank our stars.

"Quit making promises
And get right down to biz
And show you're right;
We'll then do our bit,
Just for your benefit
And make the HILL road IT,
Through your great might.

"There's Baird and Tom McCann,
March and McGoldrick's clan,
Thy praises sing,
If you will help them now,
Laurels be on your brow
And save you from a row,
Oh; mighty King."

ASSESSOR AT WORK

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Frank H. May has been appointed deputy assessor by County Assessor Mullarkey, for the work in the city of Bend. He began his duties yesterday.

giving the work of the chapter a flying start.

In his address before the Bend residents who have made the Red Cross possible, Mr. Hush emphasized that the organization is the humanitarian arm of the government. "In time of peace, we also have need of it, but not of course, to the extent that we have now. It is up to us to care for the army and navy," he declared.

Needs are Great.

The need for a $25,000,000 endowment fund, and for the establishment of base hospitals, was pointed out. Mr. Hush mentioned that in the work of the society on the Mexican border at the time of the militia occupation, $340,000 was used, a large

In fact, more merchandise went out of the store than ever before, the "drive" being especially directed against the shoe department. In the knit underwear section the bombardment was furious at times. Summer wash goods, percales, etc., suffered severely too; but altogether it was such a selling as we delight in.

Positively the larger portion of goods offered in this sale could not be replaced at anything near the prices at which they are sold, and in a great many instances could not be replaced at any cost.

We need a large amount of cash, and need it badly, and we are going to get it right out of this stock—by compelling sales of dependable and trustworthy merchandise. Surely an exceptional opportunity—take early advantage.

part of this being for the refugee fund.

Especially did the speaker seek to destroy the opinion that the Red Cross society is an organization for women. "This is not a sewing circle," he declared, "but an organization for everyone. We want men as well as women, and we want school children, too. All can help in the work.

Wires to Capital.

"Do you know that if the United States were to have one great battle tomorrow, that the supply of lint, bandages and other material of the kind available would last for only 24 hours? We have only one hospital ship, and God knows how many we are going to need if this war gets under way in real earnest."

At the close of Mr. Hush's address, a nominating committee composed of W. D. Barnes, Mrs. H. K. Brooks and A. Whinnant, was named, their report resulting in the election of the chapter's officers.

As soon as the meeting had adjourned, Mr. Hush sent a night letter to headquarters at Washington, D. C., announcing the organization of the Bend chapter.

Committee Heads Named.

Heads of standing committees were appointed this noon at a meeting of the executive committee held at the Pilot Butte Inn. It was decided that the board of directors should be named at another meeting to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Brooks at 7:30 o'clock Monday night. The committee heads are: Membership, Mrs. C. S. Hudson; Civil Relief, Clyde M. McKay; Military Relief, Dr. B. Ferrell; Publicity, R. W. Sawyer; Finance, W. D. Barnes; Education, Mrs. H. K. Brooks.
