

SHEVLIN-HIXON AIDS WAR LOAN

EMPLOYEES HELPED TO PURCHASE BONDS.

Money Advanced Up to $500 Per
Man, for Year's Time at Same Interest as Is Drawn by the Liberty Loan Bonds.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

As a practical means of showing its patriotism, and at the same time giving employees of the company a chance to aid in financing the war against Germany The Shevlin-Hixon Company offices throughout the country are advancing money to employees at what amounts to no interest, for the purchase of Liberty Loan bonds. Authorization was received from the central offices this morning by T. A. McCann, general manager of the local plant, and lists passed out in the office in a short time resulted in the subscribing to $1300 worth of the bonds this morning, when only a small proportion of the employees had been seen.

According to the terms made by the company, the employee must put up four per cent in cash, of the total amount of the bonds to be purchased, the company advancing the remainder, not to exceed $500 for any one individual. The loan of the company need not be entirely liquidated for a year, but payment in the meantime will be made in 12 monthly installments, the final payment discharging the obligation. The company charges three and one-half per cent interest on the money advanced, but as the bonds draw exactly this rate, the employee really receives the use of the company's money for nothing, during the time of the loan.

west. Tennis medals were presented to Arthur Norcott for winning the singles at Redmond, and to Norcott and Percy Stevens for taking the doubles.

School Growth Shown.

Before the presentation of diplomas, Mr. Bolt read a letter from President P. L. Campbell, of the State University, urging high school boys to make every effort to continue with their educational work, in order to fill up the gaps in the ranks of trained men, which will be made by the war.

Summing up the progress of the city school system in the past year, Superintendent Thordarson gave evidence of the city's phenomenal growth when he pointed out that

CAR SHORTAGE IS PAST EVIL

BEND WELL TREATED BY RAILROADS.

Surplus Wheat Now Practically All
Disposed of, and Mills Are Given
Plenty of Rolling Stock—
Eastern Conditions Better.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

All illis must end, and the car shortage in its effect on Bend is no exception to the rule. Local railroad men are having their hands full taking care of the heavy shipping, for rolling stock sufficient to meet all demands is being sent to Bend. Freight and Passenger Agent Keller fixes the average number of cars being received as 35 daily. The contrast between this and the winter and late spring supply will be seen when it is remembered that during the shortage a 10 car average was not unusual.

In mid-winter and for a large part of spring, a major share of the 1916 wheat crop was warehoused, and stacked on the ground near stations between Bend and the Columbia, for lack of means to move it, but the thousands of bushels of cereal thus withheld from the market have now practically all been taken out of the country, Mr. Keller says.

Chief among the Central Oregon industries to feel the change are the big Bend mills, which during the winter piled up vast quantities of excess stock, and built warehouses to hold finished products, keeping the plants running until it would be possible to fill the rapidly piling up contracts for white pine lumber. The car supply now is not only allowing the mills to work to full capacity, but in addition to taking care of the daily output, is permitting them gradually to fill the old orders.

"We can expect that these conditions will continue until the time comes to move the 1917 wheat crop," Mr. Keller states, "and it's up to shippers to do their shipping while the shipping is good."

Easing of congested freight conditions in the east is given as the chief cause for the improvement here.

the registration in the schools reached 1015 this year, whereas it was only 544 last year. He mentioned that two departments, music and manual training would be added next fall, and outlined the plans for building a new unit for the high school, and the construction of a first unit for a new grade school.

with the avowed purpose of causing the dethronement of Kaiser Wilhelm.

A statement issued by David Lloyd-George, British premier, asserts that the anti-submarine campaign of the last three weeks has been the most effective in the whole history of the war. Losses from submarines included the sinking of the Canard liner Peitria, the hospital ship Dover Castle, the merchant cruiser Hilary, and the British transport Transylvania, making a total loss of life of nearly 450.

McNary New Senator.

Chief among items of miscellaneous interest is the appointment of Charles McNary, of the State Republican committee during the last campaign, as United States Senator from Oregon to succeed Dr. Harry Lane, whose funeral was held in Portland Tuesday.

In the middle west, 235 were killed and thousands injured and rendered homeless this week in one of the most disastrous tornadoes in history. Illinois, Indiana and parts of Kentucky and Kansas were included in the territory devastated.

East St. Louis is under martial law as the result of a race war started by manufacturers importing negroes from farther south as factory hands. The situation is now practically under control.

After four years isolation in the frozen wastes of the far north, the MacMillan-Crocker Arctic expedition is now on its way back to the United States, having lost not a single man, according to cablegrams received in New York Tuesday.

McNARY NAMED SENATOR

Oregon State Horticultural Society.
Following his appointment, Mr. McNary made the following statement:

Senator McNary's Statement.
"In common with the people of Oregon, I sincerely regret the occurrence that made necessary the appointment of a United States Senator. The death of Senator Harry Lane removes from public life a lovable and an aggressive character whose ways were frank and open and who, under all circumstances, performed his duty as he saw it.

"I am deeply appreciative of my selection as United States Senator by Governor James Whitbycombe and am not unmindful of the large responsibility the office enjoins. And while it is my belief that the public welfare would be promoted by a return to Republican principles, I shall go to Washington, not as a narrow partisan to oppose President Wilson, but on the contrary, to support the administration in every legitimate effort it may employ in ending the war to the credit of America, and in bringing about a lasting and honorable peace to all the nations involved.

"While a want of time precludes any elaboration of the various matters that may engage my endeavors, I shall advocate and enlist my efforts in behalf of national equal suffrage and national prohibition, as each of these principles has been adopted by the people of the state which I am selected to represent. I shall cooperate immediately with any movement which has for its purpose the suppression of gambling and speculation in the necessities of life to the end that the consuming public shall pay a fair profit to the producer only.

"Knowing that I owe my state whatever service I may render, prompts me to leave for Washington, D. C., within a day."

Will Be Elected.

Ex-Governor Oswald West, who has been looked upon as the Democratic candidate for the Senate at the next general election, and as such would be an opponent of Senator McNary, who is now certain of the Republican nomination, is reported in the Oregon Journal as saying the following concerning the appointment:
"In placing the senatorial toga upon the shoulders of Charles L.

McNary, the governor has acted wisely," Mr. West said, "for Judge McNary is a young man of splendid ability, high ideals and has always shown an earnest desire to render worthy public service. Inasmuch as he is a close friend of Senator Chamberlain, I am sure we can look for team work in the Senate which will redound to the benefit of our state."

"Senator McNary and I have been lifelong friends, and his appointment was most pleasing to me. If the pledges he has made to the people are kept, and I am sure they will be, he will unquestionably be returned to the Senate at the next general election."
