

FOREST FIRES MANY SUNDAY

EIGHT REPORTED IN NATIONAL FOREST.

Two More are Outside of Limits
—Lightning Chief Cause of Fires
—Report for Today May Be Heavy, Is Belief.

(From Monday's Daily.)
For causing trouble in the way of forest fires, yesterday was the banner day of the year, Forest Supervisor W. G. Hastings reported this morning. No less than eight fires were discovered within the confines of the Deschutes forest, while a blaze in The Shevlin-Hixon Company timber close to town and an unusually large sage fire thought to have been about 40 miles out on the Bend-Burns road, were other conflagrations included. According to all reports which came in, the fires were small enough so that the men at the command of the various ranger stations could bring them under control without assistance from the main forestry office. Mr. Hastings believes that a majority of the fires have already extinguished.

Lightning Chief Cause.
The large number of fires yesterday was due particularly to the lightning storm of the night before, which started three in the Beaver Marsh section, one near Crescent Lake, two in the Fort Rock district, and one in the Big River district. One fire on the Metolus started when a careless camper cooked his dinner on a fire built in the end of a rotten log, then went away without extinguishing the coals.

The two conflagrations in the Fort Rock country, and the one in the Shevlin-Hixon timber all menaced valuable forests. Little damage was done by the last named fire it was announced at the company's offices this morning.

Mr. Hastings is of the opinion that when the reports of today's fires begin to come in, the season's total will be greatly augmented, due to the lightning storms of yesterday afternoon and evening, which swept over practically the same territory as the storm of the night before.

Half Truths.
Half truths are often more calamitous than whole falsehoods. Not a word may be uttered, but a half suppressed innuendo, a dropped lip, an arched eyebrow, a shrugged shoulder, a significant look, an incredulous expression of countenance—any, even an emphatic silence—may do the injurious work.

Highly Estimable.
"Half a loaf is better than no bread," said the philosopher.
"There's no doubt about the respect to which half a loaf is entitled," replied the plain person. "It costs as much as a whole loaf used to."—Washington Star.

LADIES PLAN ON FLOWER SHOW

PERSONS HAVING FLOWERS AND VEGETABLES URGED TO MAKE
ENTRIES, ALTHOUGH FEW CASH PRIZES GIVEN.

(From Friday's Daily.)
Believing that the Flower Show, conducted annually under the auspices of the Library club, is one of the best advertising features that the people of Bend undertake, the Library club at its last meeting determined to perpetuate the display. The date for the Seventh Annual Flower Show will not be determined until later in the month, because it is thought that at that time it can be better determined just how far local flowers and vegetables will be advanced. The last week in August will likely be the time during which the show will be held.

Because the demands upon persons in town during the last two months have been so excessive in a financial way, the Library club this year will not solicit financial aid to carry out the premium feature. The club believes that people in town having flowers to show will be just as liberal with their entries with ribbon prizes as they have been with cash prizes in the past. This feeling has been expressed among a large number of former prize winners at the local display. The club will receive voluntary subscriptions from individuals or firms desiring to assist the Flower Show.

Special pains will be taken this year to stimulate interest among the children and growers of vegetables this year. It is probable that cash prizes will be offered to encourage

"OVER THERE"

The Thrill and Heil of the Trenches Described by an American Boy

We have secured a series of six articles by Sergeant Alexander McClintock of Lexington, Ky., and the Canadian army. He has a gripping tale that every American will read, for he tells the facts, unadorned. Wounded, a Distinguished Conduct medal man, he was invalided home, but is going "Over There" again to fight for Uncle Sam and his allies.

Feb. 14, 1917.
Sergeant Alexander McClintock served in the Eighty-seventh Battalion Canadian Grenadier guards from September, 1915, until November, 1916, the last four months of that time at the front in France, where he gained the Distinguished Conduct medal by his devotion to duty and bravery under fire.
As his former commanding officer I can testify as to his good qualities, and I consider he would make a valuable officer.
(Signed) F. S. MEIGHEN,
Brigadier General, Commanding Canadian Training Division, Bramshott.

- NO. 1.—In Training. How the men are finally brought to the firing line. A description of conditions that our own boys and their parents will read eagerly.
- NO. 2.—The Bomb Raid. The great preparations and rehearsing for this attack. The men who were to be taken behind the line where the German trenches are exactly reproduced. The days of preparation. Heretofore unwritten detail of modern trench raids. This article concludes with the men going out to their job.
- NO. 3.—Over the Top and Give 'em Hell. The English Tommy's battle cry as he breaks from his trench. The bomb raid and what happened. Of sixty that started forty-six failed to return because the Germans had prepared and mined the trench. Graphic description of Sergeant McClintock's terrible experience.
- NO. 4.—Shifted to the Somme. Sergeant McClintock takes part in the greatest of all battles and tells of the hell of it. "The front in Belgium was really a rest sector in comparison with it," he says. The extensive preparations of the allies for open warfare afterward abandoned because of the failure of expected developments.
- NO. 5.—Wounded in Action. This article describes the terrible fight, the dead and dying, the loss of a pal and the final falling of McClintock in No Man's Land. Simply told, it is one of the most remarkable descriptions of a battle by a participant ever put together.
- NO. 6.—Decorated For Bravery; Home and Uncle Sam. This concluding article of the series relates in detail how England cares for the wounded. How the king and queen came to the bed of an American boy and decorated him in a London hospital for gallantry. Interesting, intimate and amusing incidents told by and of the wounded Tommies. Trying to fight for Uncle Sam.

We will print one article each week for six weeks. First installment beginning this week on page 3.

large entries in the vegetable department.
The rules and regulations as well as the entry list of flowers and vegetables will be published at a later date.

COOKS AND BAKERS NEEDED FOR ARMY

Recruiting Officer Ordered to Enlist Men Who Have Had Training, or Those Willing to Be Trained.
Cooks and bakers for the army are badly needed according to a letter received this morning by Recruiting Officer Charles Davis, from the office of the quartermaster general. Seventeen privates are to be trained as bakers, and 500 as cooks to be transferred to the quartermaster corps at once.

Early enlistment for this branch of the service is desired, and men who have already had similar training in civilian life are especially needed, although others of good physique who are willing to go into this line of work will also be accepted.

WAR ON RABBITS PROVES SUCCESS

59,118 OF LONG-EARED PESTS
ARE KILLED IN COUNTY AT A
COST OF ONLY ONE-THIRD CENT PER BUNNY.

(From Thursday's Daily.)
That the cost of rabbit killing is almost negligible when the work is handled scientifically, is shown in the report of County Agriculturalist Blanchard, submitted to the Deschutes county court. His summary of the results of the free distribution of poison shows 200 ounces of strychnine sulphate distributed to 21 farmers' clubs at a cost of about $1.15 an ounce. The returns gave 59,118 rabbits killed, making a cost of approximately three and one-third cents per rabbit to the county.

Early in the season the Deschutes county court set aside $500 for the purchase of poison. This was distributed by the county agriculturalist's office only to farmers who were organized into clubs, with regular officers, supporting a poison mixer. The clubs were required to follow the instructions of the Biological Survey, Department of Agriculture, and submit a report on the number killed at the end of the season.

During the winter, the county agriculturalist, in co-operation with H. A. Ward of the Biological Survey, carried forward a rabbit extermination campaign. Each locality was visited, the methods of proper mixing and efficient use of the poison were explained. This makes the second season of organized effort against rabbits. The results are highly gratifying to the officials, as it represents a most economical and efficient method, over the offering of bounties. The following clubs, the amount of poison used by each, and the number of rabbits killed, is as follows:

- Pilot Butte Rabbit club, 20 oz., 1850;
- Tumalo Dev. club, 10 oz., 1960;
- Tetherow Butte Farm club, 10 oz., 900;

NEW STANDARD WILL BE PUT ON TONIGHT

Oregon Trunk to Have Complete Pullman Equipment for 60 Days to Try Out New Business Needs.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Beginning tonight, the Oregon Trunk will add another standard sleeper to its present equipment, making the best grade of accommodations available nightly on its train to and from Bend, Travelling Freight and Passenger Agent J. T. Hardy announced this morning. No change will be made in the tourist schedule, so that the equipment of six months ago is virtually doubled. Leaving Bend at 9 o'clock, the sleepers will be carried through to Portland on the fast train, arriving at 8 o'clock in the morning.

The new plan will be tried out for 60 days, Mr. Hardy states, and at the end of that time, if the volume of business warrants, the improvement will be made permanent. If the amount of night passenger travel fails to justify the hopes of the railroad officials, one of the standards will be taken off.

WILL SHIP BODY OF E. R. MOORE THURSDAY

Funeral for Idaho Man Drowned in Deschutes on Monday to Be Held in Fort Worth, Texas.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Tentative preparations for the funeral for E. R. Moore, who was drowned Monday afternoon in the Deschutes river, were announced today following the receipt of a telegram by W. H. Kime, an associate of the deceased, from J. A. Haley, president of the Caldwell Horse and Mule Co.
Mr. Haley will arrive in Bend tonight, the telegram stated, and tomorrow morning will accompany the body to Caldwell. From there Mr. Moore's brother will go on to Fort Worth, Texas, where relatives are living and where services are to be held.

NORTHERN EXPRESS TO MOVE UP TOWN

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Before the end of 30 days, the Northern Express Co., operating over the Hill lines, will move its local offices from the union depot to a location in the business section of the city, it was learned today. Increased business, and the need for more room than that now afforded, are given as the reasons for the change. The location for the new office has not been definitely settled on as yet, it was stated.

KEELER BROTHERS END LONG DELAYS

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
After lengthy delays on the part of Keeler Bros., bond dealers of Denver, the city warrant indebtedness is to be taken up in exchange for Bend refunding bonds. Taking advantage of a loophole in the contract, the Keelers are substituting $2479.70 in warrants which they had bought up, in lieu of cash, although it had been tacitly understood that only $575 worth of warrants would take the place of money in the $17,500 to be turned over to the city.

Interest charges on the warrants which the city must redeem from the Keelers amount to $63.74, and in addition, the bonding company is charging exchange, payable at Denver, although the Bend council had understood that this would be charged here. The amount of exchange is now being computed at the First National Bank.

Miss M. E. Coleman, city treasurer, issued a call for warrants today, so that the whole matter may be closed up as rapidly as possible.
