

Your brother, your son or husband, may be going to the front in a few days, give him a kodak as a parting gift. It is not the danger that the men look forward to, it is the monotony, the same thing day after day that gets under the skin. A kodak will help to make the days shorter, help to make the letters back home more interesting. The little vest pocket kodak will tell the story more vividly than anything else. The cost is little but the pleasure that is received is great. Get one now.
