

JAIL ORDERED BY THE COUNTY

WILL INSTALL MODERN EQUIPMENT

New Cells Will Be Ready for First Tenants Some Time in December—Jail Will Be Absolutely Proof Against Escape.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Within a few months, Deschutes county will have one of the most up-to-date jails in Oregon, for the county court today ordered a complete jail equipment capable of confining 19 prisoners, and in addition having rooms for witnesses, juveniles and women. The order was issued with A. C. Peel, of the Pauly Jail Building Co., and the cells will be installed some time in December.

The equipment includes two cells and corridor of tool proof steel, the entire jail being furnished with a locking device which will permit the jailer to handle any number of men. Concrete floors, wash rooms, and shower baths will be provided. The building will be erected back of the new county headquarters by the Deschutes Investment Co., and will be heated from the county building.

The purchase was prompted by the fact that the U. S. government may soon commandeer all steel in the country, and by the fact that charges against stalkers, and other troubles incident to the war are expected to provide more county prisoners than have ordinarily been kept in custody.

LITTLE RAIN FELL IN THE LAST MONTH

Thirty of 31 Days Without Precipitation—Maximum Heat Recorded Is 90 Degrees.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Just six-tenths of an inch of rain which fell in a half hour on the afternoon of August 17 kept the month just past from being entirely dry, as far as Bend was concerned, in the showing made by the report of the official co-operative weather observer here. Twenty-one days of the month were clear, six were partly cloudy and four were cloudy, the report stated.

Temperature ranged from 59 degrees on August 2, to 34 degrees on August 16, while the greatest daily range was 52 degrees, on August 2. Twenty-six was the least daily range, on August 17.

The mean maximum for the month was 87.3 degrees, the mean minimum 34 degrees, and the general mean 68.7 degrees.

MAGAZINES GIVEN FOR U. S. SOLDIERS IN EUROPEAN WAR

TOTAL GIVEN TODAY IN BEND WILL BE NEARLY 2000—NOVELS ARE ALSO OFFERED—NEXT MAGAZINE DAY WILL BE AFTER SCHOOL OPENS.

(From Saturday's Daily)
Even more successful than two weeks ago was Bend's Magazine Day, held today on the suggestion of City School Superintendent F. Thordarson. Before noon more than 1000 periodicals had been brought to the stand on Wall street in front of the N. P. Smith hardware store, and promises of more would bring the day's total up to nearly 2000. Mr. Thordarson said, Small cash donations easily financed the expense for postage.

The magazines will be sent out tonight, their ultimate destination the American military camps in Europe. Novels are also being collected for the Y. M. C. A. headquarters at Vancouver barracks.

The next Magazine Day will not be held here until five or six weeks after school starts, Mr. Thordarson states.

(From Friday's Daily Bulletin)

Hoas, Ontario stockman, of 2600 head of sheep by Billy Nelson and William McCarmark, of this section, at $13 per head, making a total consideration of $33,800. The deal was handled through J. B. Miner, of Bend.

Mr. Hoas is also negotiating for ranch property and has secured options on two ranches located within 17 miles west of Bend. This end of the deal when completed will involve an additional expenditure of approximately $21,000.

Mr. Hoas will move to this vicinity in the near future with his family.

CLOSING RULE HITS FOREST HUNTING

Sportsmen Permitted to Shoot in the Open, Is Ordered by State Game Warden Shoemaker.

(From Friday's Daily.)
In spite of the governor's proclamation closing the hunting season, you can shoot a deer (if you have a hunting license), if you can get one out in the open. In other words, the proclamation applies only to the timber lands of the state which would be put in danger of fire by hunters.

This is the information given Deputy Game Warden John Cunningham by a telegram received this morning from State Game Warden Shoemaker. Mr. Shoemaker's message reads as follows: "Governor has explained that his proclamation closing the hunting season only affects the timbered area and that open seasons are not affected except in the forests. All other seasons which are open now or may be opened within the next 30 days are not affected."

QUO WARRANTO AGAIN CHECKED

JUDGE DUFFY OVERRULES DEMURRER, IN COUNTY DIVISION CASE, AND REPLY TO ANSWER CANNOT BE MADE.

(From Friday's Daily Bulletin)
Another victory for Deschutes county in the old quo warranto proceedings instituted months ago by opponents of county division, when this county was separated from old Crook, was won yesterday in Prineville, when Judge T. E. J. Duffy, of the circuit court handed down an order overruling the demurrer to the answer which District Attorney H. H. De Armond and Vernon A. Forbes had filed to the complaint.

The case now stands on the complaint and answer, and will probably continue in this status until dismissed. The next step in the proceedings is a reply to the answer, but this cannot be filed until the individual in whose name the complaint is drawn has sworn to the allegations contained in the reply. This is impossible, the attorneys point out, as Gus Stadig, of Lower Bridge, the private complainant in the case, withdrew shortly after the passage of the legislative act which formally created Deschutes county.
