A GOOD SHOWING.

Bend is doing herself proud in her subscriptions to the Liberty Loan. With nearly $75,000 already subscribed it seems certain that before the drive is over we shall have offered more than $100,000 to help defeat our enemies. Except for the work done at the mills there has been little organized effort to sell the bonds in the city and when that phase of the campaign has been started the total should be big.

The results of the mill campaign are most gratifying. Patriotism was never expressed more definitely than it is in the offer made by the two companies to their men, and the response to the offer found in the subscription lists. On the one hand the companies have offered to carry the employees' purchases without interest, making the bonds an insurance policy as well; on the other, the men have come forward and taken $35,000 worth of bonds. Read the names of those who have subscribed and see how fast Americans are being made.

For the results that have been shown at the mill credit should also be given to the men who have devoted their time since Tuesday explaining the need of the United States for money and the technical features of the bonds. Reverend Snyder and Mr. De Long have made a good team and their efforts have helped in getting our result.

SUPPOSE.

Suppose you were an enlisted man in the United States army and had gone to France with the first of Pershing's troops? Or suppose that when war was declared you had felt the call and had volunteered and were now in training preparatory to taking your place in the trenches "somewhere in France"? Or suppose that you had watched the country declaring almost unanimously that the draft was the essence of democracy and that nothing was too good for the man who, when drafted into the service of his country, went cheerfully to his place?

Suppose any of these things and then—

Suppose that word came to you that the people you had left at home, your friends and neighbors and fellow townsmen, when asked to LEND their money to help you carry out your GIFT of yourself, refused, or were reluctant or niggardly?

How would you feel?

You know how. Little imagination is needed to enable you to picture to yourself what your feeling would be. You would be sore and disheartened and filled with the idea that the people "back home" did not much care what happened.

Now stop "supposing" and think. You are the people "back home" to scores of young men now in camp or at the front. They look to you for support as you look to them for defense. Support them with your money and buy a Liberty bond.

"Kirk Whited is a collector. Many things in his collections have historical value. For instance, he has complete volumes of the Laidlaw paper Bend and Prineville papers for the year 1907 to its finish. Also the same periods."

The foregoing from the Redmond Spokesman is somewhat inaccurate so far as The Bulletin is concerned. We have not yet reached our "finish" and do not expect to do so for a while.

The extra one-cent stamp we must begin to use next month ought to bear a picture of the Kaiser. Whenever used he would be licked, and how often the postal clerks would plug him in making cancellations.

DEMANDS ARE STATED.

(From Wednesday's Daily.) At the meeting on Monday between Manager Keyes, of the Brooks-Sean Ion Lumber Co., and representatives of the men who had walked out that morning the following paper was presented:

"Demands by the organized employees of the local mills:

"(1) That all those discharged for participating in organizing the mill men be reinstated.

"(2) That the mill companies do not interfere with the peaceable organization of their employees.

"(3) That the organization have a right to investigate the discharge of employes belonging to the organization before they have to leave their employment."

At yesterday's meeting of the employes the following motions were adopted:

"Moved, seconded and carried that we extend an invitation to the employers to discuss in open meeting at our hall any proposition they may have to offer.

"Moved, seconded and carried that the employes' meeting extend a vote of thanks to those donating the use of their autos and to the business men who have extended us their sympathies and offers of help."

OREGON BOY WRITES FROM CAROLINA CAMP

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The following are a few extracts from letters written to his parents by Corporal Sidney Clarke White, Jr., a volunteer in the old Third Oregon, now at Camp Greene, Charlotte, North Carolina:

"Well, the real work has started. We get up at 5:45 and are allowed to 7:15 for exercise, to eat and clean up camp before drill. We are now drilled eight hours a day. The mess has improved wonderfully; I had all the roast beef, soup, creamed potatoes and bread pudding I could possibly eat this noon. I am on guard duty today, so I don't drill. Our three new second lieutenants were assigned to us today; in another week there will be 250 men in Company H.

"Charlotte is absolutely closed up on Sunday. One fellow was telling of a drug store where a person could order black coffee and get Coca-Cola. All this talk about the 'Sunny South' is bunk; it is colder here than in Oregon. One lady asked a Wyoming boy if he ever had seen a street car, and an old man said, 'Oh, Oregon? That's somewhere out west, isn't it?'"

"There is no more Third Oregon. It has been changed to the 162d U. S. Infantry, 41st division. But our company is still 'H.' We are drilling eight hours a day now; and it is sure drill. When we come in at 5:00 p. m. we are all just 'all in.'"

"I am having a great time here. The Charlotte people are the most hospitable I ever knew. An old southern lady came up to me in church and invited me to their home for dinner. I had all the fried chicken I could eat, two kinds of spuds, some very excellent rice, etc."

STATE'S INDUSTRIES WILL BE SUMMARIZED

A. C. Jackson, of O.-W., Tells of Work Railroad Is Doing to Aid Colonization in Oregon.

(From Friday's Daily.)

As a part of the work of the O.-W. R. & N. in advertising Oregon, a photographic summary of the state's industries is now being prepared, to be used with lectures on the north-west. This was the report this morning of A. C. Jackson, advertising agent for the O.-W. who was in Bend on a business tour of the state. He arrived here from Redmond, where he attended the Potato Fair yesterday.

Another agent of the railroad, Mr. Jackson explained, is also busy selecting the best industrial subjects and material for Oregon, to be used at Omaha, where the system maintains an industrial bureau covering the states in which it operates.

The O.-W. has been instrumental in sending to Oregon more than 300 men, many of them heads of families, in the last eight months, Mr. Jackson stated.

NO REPORT ON DAVIS LAKE EXPERIMENTS

Department of Agriculture Officials Find Too Few Improvements Made on Forestry Land.

(From Friday's Daily.)

Reports of the experiments in cultivating the prairie near Davis Lake will not be made this year by the Department of Agriculture on account of the small crop raised on the ground during the summer. Thomas Sherman, from the office of the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., and A. H. Wright, of the district office of the department of lands with Ranger Vincent, of the local forestry office, went to Davis Lake

The experiment work is being conducted by the forestry office at the request of persons who desire to have the prairie thrown open for cultivation as farms. In order to ascertain whether it is possible to raise anything on the meadow, 40 acres were put under cultivation this year.

GEOLOGIST IS HERE.

(From Wednesday's Daily.) Professor Ira Williams, geologist for the Oregon Bureau of Mines, was in Bend this morning before leaving for the southeastern part of the state to investigate nitrate deposits. He will be remembered as one of the three men appointed to investigate the stopping of the leak in the Tumbalo reservoir.

CLOTHES FOR ALL AGES AND SIZES

Being young is a great thing; but it's the sort of thing that doesn't last very long; men get over it very quickly.

Next to being young, it's fine to look young, and feel young; and that's something that some men never do get over.

The right clothes help the looks and feelings, too; you can dress in style always, and the fact that your clothes are stylish and fit you helps a lot toward the youthful spirit. Even when a man adds weight, as he adds years, there are clothes-styles that are designed to keep up the idea of youthfulness.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

design special models for men of all ages and sizes. The young men find just the smart, snappy, fashionable types; belt styles, models with the military note sounded loudly in them; older men who feel young and want to look as they feel, get the models they need, stylish with dignity; stout men, or medium stout, find clothes that make the best of such a figure.

Come here and we'll show you how well these designers have done it. Suits and overcoats in the latest styles. Complete line of Young Men's Trench Overcoats, nobby patterns, at $12.50 to $20.00.
