

JURY CONVICTS IN BAILEY CASE

SENTENCE TO BE GIVEN ON MONDAY.

First Ballot Brings Unanimous Vote
—Penalty For Larceny From Three to 10 Years in Penitentiary—Trial Delayed.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
By the first ballot taken an hour and a half after the case had gone to the jury last night, Mrs. Elsie Bailey was convicted of larceny after the most unique criminal trial on this year's circuit court docket. The sentence will be given Monday by Judge T. E. J. Duffy and will involve the penalty of from three to 10 years in the state penitentiary.

Before a crowded court room last night the final testimony for the defense was given. Attorneys N. G. Wallace and Ross Farnham made an appeal to the jury on the grounds that L. A. Rawlings, the complaining witness, had conjured up the story of being attacked and robbed of a note for $500 in Mrs. Bailey's home on February 24. They claimed that it was the delusion of a mind grown morbid in old age.

District Attorney Harvey H. De Armond reversed the charge of a frame-up, claiming that neither Mr. Rawlings nor the state would have reason for attempting falsely to bring about a trial, whereas the defendant would have benefited by the possession of the note. That the witnesses did not agree on the color of the note and that the stories of Oscar Whitney, Mrs. Bailey's son, and Mr. Rawlings did not harmonize in the finer details, he said was a logical variance of viewpoints. He pointed out that the attorneys for the defense relied on little of the testimony given by witnesses called to support them.

Witness Delays Trial.
The latter part of the hearing was postponed from late afternoon until evening in order that Tom Ewing, purported to be the defense's chief witness, could arrive from Portland. In spite of the fact that he had been a constant visitor at the woman's home during the winter months, Ewing could give no positive testimony. He was questioned as to whether he had been at the Bailey home on either February 26 or 27, in order to ascertain whether he had observed any unusual occurrences. His reply was in the affirmative but after a cross examination he admitted, "I think Mrs. Bailey was the one who told me I was there on one of those days."

Keen Interest Shown.

The jury based its verdict on the bank's records which were considered to have conclusively proved that the check and note had been in existence and in the possession of Mrs. Bailey. Guy McReynolds, cashier of the First National Bank, who was called on the stand during the afternoon, testified that Mrs. Bailey had deposited a $500 check drawn on Rawlings' account and had immediately taken out of this sum $200.

Many persons interested in the outcome of the case remained at the court rooms until 1:30 in the morning when the verdict was returned. A straw vote of 11 to 1 was first taken. This was followed by an actual ballot showing complete concurrence of opinion.

BENHAM SUIT IS DISMISSED BY COURT

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Objections of the defense to the introduction of any testimony in the civil action brought by James Benham against Charles Griffith and Clara Griffith yesterday were sustained by the circuit court and the case was dismissed. Attorneys Forbes and Myers for the defense maintained that the complaint failed to state facts sufficient to constitute cause for a suit against the defendants. The action involved a partnership lease on land.

The principal part of the court business has been completed and what is left of the docket will be carried to Prineville tomorrow and will be brought up there.
