

SCHOOLS WILL HELP WIN WAR

TEACHERS ADOPT SET OF RESOLUTIONS.

State Superintendent of Education Tells of Ways in Which Instructors and Pupils May Render Service to Their Country.

(From Thursday's Daily.)
 Pledging to devote every effort possible to aiding this country in the war by giving patriotic support and following plans outlined for food conservation, the joint teachers' institute completed its work yesterday afternoon by adopting a set of eight resolutions. One of the biggest things accomplished this year was the bringing before the instructors practical methods by which they can assist in carrying on their share of the war. Encouraging the production of food products through the organization of industrial clubs and teaching food and clothing conservation are two of the main ways recommended.

Want Teachers' Pensions.
 Another thing advocated was the pensioning of teachers. Changes in the free school book law were also suggested. It is desired that the cost should be greatly reduced from the present unrestricted terms.

State Superintendent of Education J. A. Churchill gave one of the closing addresses at the institute. He spoke on the importance of the students aiding in the war and the opportunity given the teachers for instilling patriotism into their charges.

Link Studies With War.
 "Practically every subject in the school course could be correlated with the war," he said. "History and civics could be linked with it, and food conservation may be brought into the study of arithmetic. Agriculture clubs will work in with botany."

The speaker spoke briefly and to the point, every statement he made was a convincing one. "At one time we saw fit to offer students who left school and enlisted their full credits for the year," he went on. "Now it looks as though they can serve their country better by staying in school. The wrong ones in many cases took advantage of our ruling last spring and left school to evade poor grades. If they remain in their classes they can give much assistance with gardening and raising pigs, sheep and animals of food value. There is also the little matter of writing to the soldiers, not individually, but as a school, and keeping the boys posted on the news from home."

Industrial club slides and Oregon Agricultural College films were shown yesterday afternoon in the Liberty Theatre. They were explained by H. C. Seymour, state club organizer.

A few teachers are still taking their examinations at the Elkh school but most of them have left for their homes or on Christmas vacation trips.

The following are the resolutions adopted yesterday:

- Adopt Eight Resolutions.
- Resolved, that we express to the Commercial Club and Board of Education our hearty appreciation of the generous entertainment furnished during our stay in this city.
  - Resolved, that we extend a vote of thanks to the management of the local mills, the manager of the Liberty Theatre, the entertainment committee, and all others who have so kindly helped to make our meetings pleasant and entertaining.
  - Resolved, that we, as teachers, endeavor to teach the lesson of conservation of food and clothing, by example as well as precept.
  - Resolved, that we look with disfavor upon the plan of furnishing unrestricted free textbooks; but believe that such changes should be made in our textbook law as will provide for supplying textbooks at greatly reduced cost.
  - Resolved, that we endeavor to stimulate interest in the production of food products by the pupils of the schools and for this purpose we recommend the organization of industrial club work wherever feasible.
  - Resolved, that we believe it will result in greatly increasing the efficiency of our schools in the future if a teachers' pension law can be passed which is fair and equitable to both teacher and state.
  - Resolved, that, since the rural school is at present the weakest part of our school system, we as teachers, shall lend our influence in any movement which aims to better such conditions and especially believe that a more equitable taxation system and more central administration of rural schools will help solve the problem now facing us.
  - Resolved, that believing we are now engaged in a just and unavoidable war for the rights of democracy and the future welfare of all mankind, we, as teachers and individuals, pledge to our government officials, both national and state, our most earnest cooperation in all that is attempted to successfully accomplish the high object which we have in view; and that we endeavor by all means in our power to inculcate into the minds of our pupils a loyalty and devotion which will make them, not only zealous in winning the war, but in making the future safe for democracy.

ARRESTED MAN DENIES THAT HE IS SLACKER

Oswald Angoli Says He Kept Local Board at Emmett Informed of Address—Ready to Serve.

Oswald Angoli, formerly of Emmett, Idaho, who was arrested by Sheriff Roberts last week on the charge of attempting to evade the draft, feels that a great injustice has been done him by the authorities at Emmett in posting him as a deserter and causing his arrest.

According to Mr. Angoli, when he left Emmett in August, he reported to the local board that he was going away and said that he would forward his address when he knew what it would be. He was successively in Baker and Portland and from each place sent his address back and was careful to look for his mail regularly. Coming to Bend in September he again sent his address back to Emmett for any notices that the board might have. In all this time nothing was received and then, when he learned about the Questionnaire, he sent to Emmett to have his sent to him here. The next thing to happen was the notice from the authorities there for his arrest.

Mr. Angoli denies that he is a "slacker" and asserts that he is ready to go into the army whenever he is wanted. He has given these facts to Sheriff Roberts who, in turn has reported them to the local board at Emmett, and he now is waiting to have a report from them.

FOREST SUPERVISOR ARRIVES THIS WEEK

Norman G. Jacobson, of Portland, Will Take Place Left By W. G. Hastings.

Norman G. Jacobson, of Portland, the new supervisor of the Deschutes National Forest, is expected to arrive here early this week and make his headquarters in Bend. Mr. Jacobson was appointed last September to fill the vacancy left by W. G. Hastings, who resigned. At the time he had expected to enlist with a forestry regiment and delayed putting in an appearance at the local office. Since then he has taken a trip east.

Acting Supervisor H. E. Vincent, formerly district ranger at Sisters, will remain in Bend permanently. It is probable that he will be appointed deputy supervisor. Ranger P. A. South will be sent to Sisters from his present station at Crescent.

Making a Marine.
 It takes longer to make an efficient marine than to make an infantryman. This is because the marine is a man of many specialties. He is, of course, in season and out of season, an international policeman. That's his job in time of peace. But when he faces abroad to fight his country's battles he may be called upon to do almost any kind of work. He may be an artilleryman, a signalman, an airman. He may be, and usually is, anything that his country needs at that particular time. And he is trained to meet the emergency.

We Label Everything as Pure.
 The word pure is a curious example of the striving of people after perfection. We have pure olive oil, pure rye and pure reading matter. Everything that we know is likely to be adulterated we take pains to label "pure." We never call pure the thing we know to be pure, but only those things about which there is an element of doubt. Only in one particular do we vary from this rule. If some kind friend tells us the truth about ourselves we are very likely to refer to that as pure nonsense.—Woman's Home Companion.

FREE SEEDS HERE FOR DISTRIBUTION

Congressman Sinnott's allotment of seeds, to be distributed through The Bulletin, has arrived as a Christmas present this year, being now here. There are both flower and vegetable seeds, the former including balsam, candytuft, poppy, mignonette and escholtzia, and the latter cucumber, lettuce, onion, radish and turnip. While they last they will be given to farmers and others with gardens, who write or call for them.

HUSBAND PROVES HE HAS GOOD MEMORY

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Men may be forgetful, according to the popular idea, but there is one woman, at least, in Bend who knows that her husband has a good memory. This is Mrs. C. E. Reed, whose husband recently enlisted in the 26th Engineers and is now with his regiment in the east preparatory to going to France.

Today is the 12th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Reed's wedding, which took place in Prineville on December 22, 1905. Mrs. Reed was sure that her husband had forgotten all about it, but yesterday there came a telegram which he had found time to send, making it clear that while some men might have poor memories his is good.

This Was No Joke.

J. E. Colver, 103 Labor Temple, Los Angeles, Cal., writes: "I have had about 56 years of experience with all sorts and kinds of cathartic remedies—some good and some a joke. When I got wise to Foley Cathartic Tablets for constipation, I got it right. The best I ever used." Do not gripe; no unpleasant after effects. Sold everywhere.—Adv.
