

CLUB HEARS OF CINDERING PLAN

STREET COMMITTEE REPORTS AT COMMERCIAL GATHERING—MAY MAKE EFFORT TO IMPROVE MAIL SERVICE.

Work accomplished by the committee looking into the matter of cinderling down town streets was the principal topic under discussion at the noon luncheon of the Commercial club today. Judge Eastes, chairman of the committee, reported on having secured special meetings of the county court and city council at which the proposed improvements were favorably passed on.

Among matters referred to committees during the week, are the placing of advertising signs on highways and securing mail service for Burns through Bend. A. Whisman, who returned from a trip to Crook county this week, said that a number of people in Burns have asked that the Commercial club aid them in bringing in the mail by a more direct and quicker route.

W. C. Birdsall has secured 60 signs advertising the city and the Pilot Butte Inn, which he intends placing at the intersections of the principal roads on all sides of the city. One of these is 25 by 12 feet in size and lighted by electricity. The club will probably assist him in placing these.

The next meeting will be in the evening at 6:30 and will be open to the members and their wives.

INSPIRING HEROISM SHOWN BY FRENCH

By W. S. Forrest,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Jan. 15.—(By Mail.)—Inspiring heroism which sets an example for any soldier is the story of the French adjutant, Joseph Edward Garnier.

Garnier was in a regiment of infantry which fought its way into a German position in the Wood of Chevreux and held its ground against numerous counter attacks. The following day after a continuous battle of hand grenades and rifles, the first line needed ammunition. The route to the munition depots was swept by German machine guns and sniper's bullets.

Garnier volunteered and started with a group of 12 men. Ten steps and four men fell. Half way no one remained but Garnier. He escaped unharmed, reached the depots and again traversed the fire-swept route with all the grenades and cartridges he could carry. Without a word he started back. The Germans, enraged by his audacity, concentrated their fire on Garnier but again he miraculously reached the depots in safety. Here he organized a new group of volunteers. Inspired by his marvelous sangfroid, all wanted to follow him back to the first line. But choosing a number necessary to carry munitions enough to last through the night he ordered his followers forward. A short distance and Garnier fell fatally wounded.

An army citation, unique for its words of praise, told of Garnier's bravery.

FIERCEST OF FIGHTERS

The French colonials are probably the fiercest fighters in the French army. The Germans at any rate fear them more than anything else on earth. It is said that these "colored gemmen" never take a prisoner.

Frost Bitten.

Harold Mueller, a young civil engineer of Richmond, whose work carries him in the country and in association with a good many farmers, tells this story: His mother told him to be on the lookout for any bargains the farmer might offer him. While driving along the road one day in his car he noticed a sign on the fence which read, "Take home all the pumpkins you want—free." Mueller thought to himself, "Here is a farmer after my own heart, who is not a tightwad!" He got three of the largest pumpkins he could find and returned home with his find. He was quite proud of his find, and a few days later inquired of his mother when he could hope for a nice pumpkin pie. His heart sank when he learned the pumpkins had fallen to pieces. The free pumpkins had been frost bitten.—Indianapolis News.

EXPECT GERMANS TO ADOPT USE OF TANKS

By W. S. Forrest,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Jan. 18.—(By Mail.)—Though no German tanks have yet appeared on the front, documents and letters taken from captured Germans now identify the first detachment of these weapons at Wunsdorf, possibly a training center, 16 miles south of Berlin.

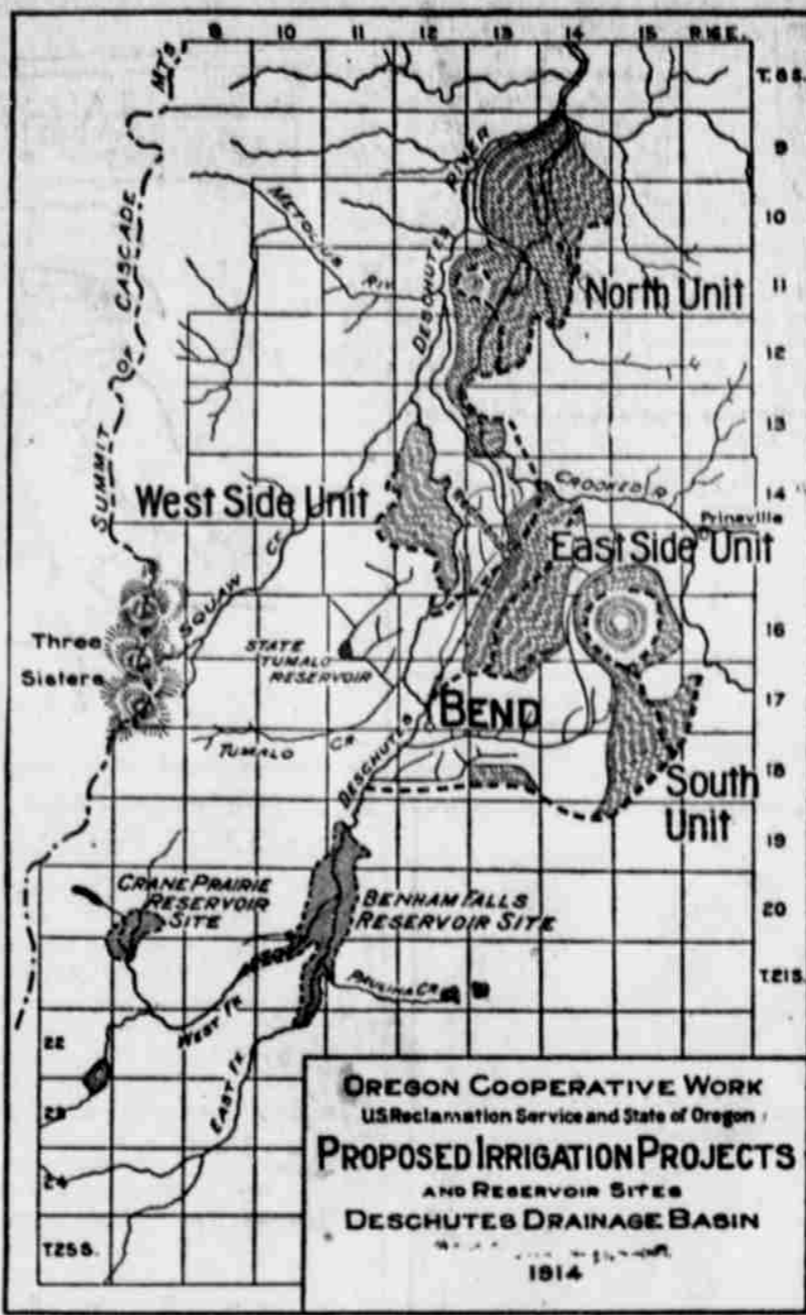

So far as known three detachments of German tanks now exist, the third destined for the Turkish front, possibly against the British, as indicated in the following letter written by a German under-officer from Berlin on November 18:

"My Dear Adolphe: I write to announce that I will not return to the regiment. I visited the doctor yesterday and have been declared fit for tropical service. I will leave immediately for Turkey. Monday or Tuesday I will rejoin the third detachment of tanks, at Berlin Lankwitz."

A previous letter written by the same under-officer on November 13, announced his transfer to the tank service:

"My Dear Adolphe: I learn that I am to be with the tanks. What a strange calling for an old soldier. I will give you more details later. It is well when one can reach the trenches behind a plate of armor. However, it is certain death! We have seen what the English have done with their tanks. We will do the same thing. Don't write to me until you receive my new address."

The new German tanks, according to accurate information, are heavily armored and carry both machine guns and cannon. The caterpillar wheels are entirely hidden by armor plate which converges into a sharp projection at the front.

LEWIS PROPOSES BIG IRRIGATION PROJECT

water to the North Unit a canal would be run from below Bend on the east side of the river.

Storage at Crane Prairie would be abandoned.

The cost of carrying out the plan is as yet unknown but it is agreed to be many millions of dollars. This fact, however, Mr. Lewis argued, should not deter consideration of the plan, because undoubtedly government aid would be available for irrigation districts and the placing of returned soldiers on the land ought to furnish sufficient settlers.

One of the first steps to be taken is obtaining money for surveys and this Mr. Lewis will begin on at once.

At the evening banquet approval of the plan was voiced by many, although some felt that such an undertaking should not be begun until the war is over. Dr. J. F. Hosch, of Redmond, acted as toastmaster. Among the Bend men called on for speeches were Messrs. Dancer, Leo Young, Melvin, Fuller, De Armond, Mahaffey and Thompson.

Resolutions adopted by the members of the irrigation school were read at the meeting as follows:

"We, the members of the Central

Oregon Irrigation school, hereby desire to express our most sincere appreciation and thanks to all those who have contributed to the success of the school so willingly and liberally by their untiring effort.

"We especially desire to thank all the instructors and other speakers who have so generously given of their time and talent to make this school a benefit and success.

"We especially commend the executive ability, as shown by County Agent R. A. Ward in arranging and carrying to a successful end the affairs of this school.

"We further feel that we voice the sentiments of the entire Central Oregon districts in desiring that the work of our county agent may continue in usefulness in the future as it has in the past.

"We further desire to express a hearty vote of thanks to the citizens of the city of Redmond and to all members of the Redmond Commercial club and allied commercial interests for their welcome, assistance and generous entertainment accorded the members of the school."

Recommendation to the director of extension service of O. A. C., O. D. Center:

"Whereas, the benefits of the Central Oregon Irrigation school already derived need to be extended and maintained, therefore, we, the scholars of the Central Oregon Irrigation school, respectfully request your honorable body to make the necessary arrangements to insure the continuance of the school as an annual event.

"Whereas, the Central Oregon Irrigation school just closed has by reason of its limited duration of time been condensed, that we, the members of the school feel the need of and desire that your honorable body make the necessary arrangements to send to this district a competent representative to carry on practical demonstrations under field conditions this season.

"We especially favor the cooperative extensive work in agriculture as planned by the Oregon Agricultural College management and desire perfect cooperation, and look to the Central Oregon Irrigation school session as furthering that end. Respectfully submitted, FRED N. WALLACE, Chairman of Committee on Resolutions."
