

Flour Substitute Problem Solved

Once More the Food Administrator Has Found It Necessary to Increase the Amount of Substitutes with Each Purchase of Flour, and each day Substitutes are harder to get

SAVE MONEY

Right now when we are all doing our very best to conserve the food supply of the nation in every possible way, we find that the greatest problem of all is that of conserving the wheat flour. The Government has found it necessary to require each person who buys flour to also buy an equal number of pounds of flour substitutes. In many instances the substitutes are more expensive than the flour and are exceedingly hard to get, therefore the cost of Bread to the ordinary family will be increased to a considerable extent.

It is the patriotic duty of every person to save wheat regardless of the cost, but by our system it is possible to save flour, save substitutes and to save money.

SAVE WHEAT

Years of experience in the Bakery Business has taught us to save flour wherever it is possible. We buy substitutes in large quantities and know how to use the substitutes to the best possible advantage and can mix and bake BETTER Bread much cheaper than any individual, at the same time keeping the quality and the weight of the loaf at the same high standard that was maintained before the war began. So we say to you, why isn't it to your advantage to buy your bread from us, during these troublesome times, than to lose time, and money, and to worry about the substitutes that you must buy with each purchase of flour?

The Price of Our Loaf Has Not Advanced, Regardless of the Increase in the Price of Substitutes. We Pay Freight from Portland and Sell at the Same Price as Portland Bakers

We want you to try this system for one month and see for yourself the saving that can be made. Our Bread is made according to government requirements under the most sanitary conditions.

In view of this fact, we urge you who are confronted with the Bread question to order our Bread from your grocer, who will deliver it fresh every day to your home.

of oats planted is five per cent greater. The seed stringency is now relieved to some extent and the farmers are getting most of their seed, with the exception of rye, which remains scarce.

Mr. Ward secured a shipment of Minnesota Twenty-three corn just this week and this is to be used largely by those having silos.

SHEEP MEN ARE IN ASSOCIATION

The benefits of such an organization are many. The sheepmen might work for the co-operative selling of wool, legislation of benefit to the district and adjust the use of the forest range so there will be no economic loss in trailing sheep. Any act of the advisory board is binding upon the entire association.

100,000 EXTRA VOTES.

the opening date of the campaign will count on this offer.

The Best Offer.

This will positively be the best offer that will be made to candidates during the campaign, so it is of the utmost importance for every candidate in the race to make the best of it and get all the new and old subscription payments that she possibly can.

All Entitled to Votes.

Some candidates do not understand that they are entitled to votes for making back collections. Votes are issued on all subscription payments, new or old, whether they are paying up arrears or in advance.

New and Old Subscriptions.

Some candidates seem to have difficulty in determining the difference between "old" and "new" subscribers. All one needs to do is to find out if the party was receiving The Bulletin on the day this campaign was started. In every case where the party was already receiving the paper on that day, even though it may have been stopped since, he or she is on "old" subscriber. Only those who subscribe since the opening date of the campaign are "new."

Enter Your Name Today.

It is not too late to enter the campaign and win one of the nine prizes offered. If your name has not yet been sent to the campaign manager as a candidate, turn to the advertisement in this issue. Fill out the nomination blank as directed and upon receipt of this blank at the campaign department you will immediately be supplied with full and complete information, together with all necessary receipt books.
