PROFITEERING?
(From Thursday's Daily.)
"For some time it looked like wool was going to be the issue in the senatorial campaign, but when it was shown beyond question that the wool grower received only from 40 to 65 cents a pound for his wool, and the consumers and knitters had to pay from $4.50 to $7.00 a pound for yarn, the charge of profiteering on the part of the wool growers fell flat."

The foregoing item has been going the rounds of the state press for the past few weeks as a part of the alibi being offered by a well-known candidate for the Republican nomination for senator. It seems to us that if folks wanted to be wholly honest about this they would ascertain something about the costs put into the finished product by the men who are selling at $4.50 and up per pound.

And then they would find out something about the individual who is not mentioned in the paragraph quoted—the speculator who buys from the grower and sells to the manufacturer. How much did he pay for his wool and what was the "spread" between the cost to him and "the present market price" at which he is willing to sell?
Profiteering on the part of wool growers is not the question. The question is whether or not there was profiteering on the part of a candidate.

Senator McNary's prompt answer to the Commercial club's inquiry concerning the aviation camp sites in Oregon shows that he is right on the job. A man who is right on the job is a good man to keep there.

In Jefferson county a patriotic association is obtaining the names of all Jefferson county boys who are in service and providing a Jefferson county service flag. A good idea.

WINGATE TELLS OF ATROCITIES

Many of them were slaughtered as they marched, and those who escaped the saber and guns of the soldiers only wandered to starve or die of privations later on. He named one instance where out of a company of over 200 of those deported two years later 20, the sole survivors of this contingent, arrived in Egypt. Other instances similar were given where the refugees had found their way into Persia and a few into the city of Jerusalem, where they are being cared for by the English, who now have control of the city.

Following the talk of Prof. Wingate, J. J. Hundaker, state chairman for the Armenian relief in the state of Oregon, told of the work which had already been done in this state to aid in the care of the refugees, and made a special appeal to the people of Bend to do all in their power to aid in raising the quota of $3,000 or to double it if possible. Oregon sent one check of $70,000 to the headquarters of the society in New York late last year, and has been sending an average of $1,000 daily since that time, he said.

J. J. Haner, county chairman, told the meeting of the plan which was to be followed in raising the quota in this county. It is the idea of the committee here he said to take the listings for the Liberty loan and send out to each one listed an especial appeal, specifying the amount which they are entitled to give to help aid in the work of raising the necessary amount. This work will be commenced immediately and the efforts to raise the $3,000 will not be suspended until the task is accomplished.

Fifteen Years Ago This Week

J. M. Lawrence has been commissioned notary public for the state of Oregon, and is now ready to do any and all kinds of notarial business.

The Deschutes Lumber company has completed its new sawmill and planing mill. There is a large force of men at work and the mill will be turning out lumber in earnest in about ten days.

Gas Reese, the young man who was ill with smallpox at the Caldwell ranch, about 27 miles east of here, died last Friday. As far as is known this is the only case of smallpox and the only death resulting from it to occur in Deschutes county this year.

During the past ten days several prairie schooners loaded to the hubs with household utensils and kids have passed through Bend on their way to Southwestern Oregon. Some of the Great Central hot air merchants have induced these misguided folks to seek for homes in the Coos Bay region. They are passing up the best part of Oregon and are going to a place where a mosquito has a hard time to eke out an existence.

Mr. Tucker of the Haystack settlement, accompanied by a neighbor, came through Bend yesterday on his way to the Meadows for a load of hay. It seems to be a case of carrying coals to Newcastle to haul hay to the Haystack country, but the festive, long-eared jackrabbit played havoc with the hay crop in that section and the people there feel lucky if they don't have to haul hay more than 75 miles.

A large force of men started to work on Wednesday felling timber for the P. B. D. Co.'s sawmill.

Sherlock Holmes Steffa left today for the Tumalo on the trail of a bold bad man wanted here by the authorities on a case of assault and battery. Mr. Steffa had a small arsenal concealed somewhere about his person and we anticipate no dire results to Steffa.

Word has reached us of the death of Miss Kate Helfrich in Portland.

A. J. Rubble of Gray Butte, in the Haystack country, brought in on Tuesday a fine load of fresh vegetables of all descriptions for Dad West's market.

frequently in the past few years. According to Mr. Henshaw, there was very little snow in the mountains in the past winter compared with other years, and much of the moisture that fell at different times went into the ground instead of remaining to run off in the spring and summer. On this account the river promises to be low and to make possible serious difficulty with both irrigation and power production.

Only Two Days Remain Of Vote and Gold Offer

largest sum of money in new subscription payments wins the $25 in gold.

Three More Days.
The fact that only three more days are left on the big special offer is creating a whirlwind of excitement among the candidates in all sections, and every day witnesses enormous changes in the standings of the candidates. One candidate is at the top of the list today and tomorrow half a dozen others will have passed her.

Perseverance Counts.
This is truly a race where perseverance counts and no candidate can rest on her laurels simply because she is in the lead one day. Every candidate who has been in the lead has found that she has had to hustle with all her might to keep her position for more than one day, and if she laid off for a single day numerous others had her completely outclassed.

All fully realize the advantage they will gain by working during this period, and all are hustling subscriptions from friends, acquaintances and strangers with a vim that could be induced only by such a fine array of prizes as The Bulletin is offering the workers.
The standing of candidates today includes all votes received up to 8 p. m. yesterday.

Note that only a few subscriptions will enable any candidate, now at the bottom of the list, to equal and even surpass the leaders. Now is the time when a few good strokes will send you ahead, and enable you to cross the winning line. Think what it means to win in this campaign—then GO AFTER IT.
Future Subscriptions.
Candidates may find in some cases friends who wish to help them in the campaign by subscribing for The Bulletin, but are already taking a paper which is paid in advance and do not desire to receive more than one paper in their home at the same time. The management has arranged to accept and issue votes on all such subscriptions and the paper to start at any future date the subscriber may designate.

Back Subscriptions.
In answer to the many inquiries, we wish to state that back subscriptions count for votes the same as paid-in-advance subscriptions. For example, if your subscription is in arrears six months and you pay twelve months your time is extended six months or twelve months from expiration and votes issue accordingly.

Open Evenings.
For the benefit of those who are not able to get to the office during business hours, the campaign department of The Bulletin will remain open evenings until 8 o'clock.

Cut This Out—It Is Worth Money.
