

BEND WINS 6 OF 10 POINTS

CONTESTANTS TAKE FIRST HONORS IN TENNIS, STENOGRAPHY AND TWO DIVISIONS OF ORATORICAL CONTEST.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Taking six out of ten medals for which they contested, the Bend high school students reaped a victory on Saturday at the tri-county meet at Prineville and made a good showing in the seconds. The grade schools in the declamation contest lost, the honors being divided between Madras, Terrebonne and Prineville.

In the tennis contest Arthur Norcott of the Bend high school won the medal in the single, and Norcott and Smith took the medal in the double.

In the declamation contest Bert Tardie came off with first honors in the oratorical division and Miss Saphrona Morris first in the humorous division.

In the stenography contest Miss Ida Dahl of Bend won the medal.

There were only two schools represented in the track and field meet, Prineville and Madras. Snook, the star of the Madras team, took three medals, the balance of the honors going to the Prineville contestants.

There was a large number of visitors from the three counties at the meet, although the crowd was not as large as in previous years because of the lack of interest in athletics by the Bend and Redmond schools.

CHAPTER XVII.

Out in Front.

After ten Lieutenant Stores of our section came into the dugout and informed me that I was "for" a reconnoitering patrol and would carry six Mills bombs.

At 11:30 that night twelve men, our Lieutenant and myself went out in front on a patrol in No Man's Land.

We cruised around in the dark for about two hours, just knocking about looking for trouble, on the lookout for Boche working parties to see what they were doing.

Around two in the morning we were carefully picking our way about thirty yards in front of the German barbed wire, when we walked into a Boche covering party nearly thirty strong. Then the music started, the fiddler rendered his bill, and we paid.

Fighting in the dark with a bayonet is not very pleasant. The Germans took it on the run, but our officer was no novice at the game and didn't follow them. He gave the order "down on the ground, hug it close."

Just in time, too, because a volley skimmed over our heads. Then in low tones we were told to separate and crawl back to our trenches, each man on his own.

We could see the flashes of their rifles in the darkness, but the bullets were going over our heads.

We lost three men killed and one wounded in the arm. If it hadn't been for our officer's quick thinking the whole patrol would have probably been wiped out.

After about twenty minutes' wait we went out again and discovered that the Germans had a wiring party working on their barbed wire. We returned to our trenches unobserved with the information and our machine guns immediately got busy.

The next night four men were sent out to go over and examine the German barbed wire and see if they had cut lanes through it; if so, this pre-arranged an early morning attack on our trenches.

Of course I had to be one of the four selected for the job. It was just like sending a fellow to the undertaker's to order his own coffin.

At ten o'clock we started out, armed with three bombs, a bayonet and revolver. After getting into No Man's Land we separated. Crawling four or five feet at a time, ducking star shells, with strays cracking overhead, I reached their wire. I scouted along this inch by inch, scarcely breathing. I could hear them talking in their trench, my heart was pounding against my ribs. One false move or the least noise from me meant discovery and almost certain death.

After covering my sector I quietly crawled back. I had gotten about half way when I noticed that my revolver was missing. It was pitch dark. I turned about to see if I could find it; it couldn't be far away, because about three or four minutes previously I had felt the butt in the holster. I crawled around in circles and at last found it, then started on my way back to our trenches, as I thought.

Pretty soon I reached barbed wire, and was just going to give the password when something told me not to. I put out my hand and touched one of the barbed wire stakes. It was iron. The British are of wood, while the German are iron. My heart stopped beating; by mistake I had crawled back to the German lines.

I turned slowly about and my tunic caught on the wire and made a loud ripping noise.

A sharp challenge rang out. I sprang to my feet, ducking low, and ran madly back toward our lines. The Germans started firing. The bullets were biting all around me, when bang! I ran smash into our wire, and a sharp

You can be the one to send him a pouch of Real GRAVELY Chewing Plug

It pays to know the facts before you spend your money.

You will be sending your friend more tobacco comfort and satisfaction in one pouch of Real Gravelly Plug than in half a dozen plugs of ordinary tobacco.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravelly Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the best.

Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravelly, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, slice Gravelly with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoke.

challenge, "All, who comes there?" rang out. I gasped out the password, and, groping my way through the lane in the wire, tearing my hands and uniform, I tumbled into our trench and was safe, but I was a nervous wreck for an hour, until a drink of rum brought me round.

MARINE RECRUITING STATION IS OPENED

(From Monday's Daily.)

Sergeant J. E. Brooks of the Marine recruiting station, who opened his offices in the O'Kane building Saturday, stated this morning that already several applicants had made inquiries for information. In the main these applications were made by men who are registered in the draft, the marines being one of the branches of the service where registered men can be taken, providing their number is low enough so that there will be no danger of their being drawn for filling in vacancies, and upon the consent of the local draft board.
