

SUGAR LIMIT IS LOWERED

TWO POUNDS PER PERSON PER MONTH.

Supply to Merchants Is Also Cut One-Third—Sugar Permits for Home Canning Will Be Issued.

(From Tuesday's Daily.) Limited purchases of sugar in Oregon have again been reduced, according to a telegram received by the county food administrator's office this morning. Under the new ruling the ratio has been placed at two pounds per person per month. This applies to restaurants, hotels and eating houses and families, the only exception being in the case of logging camps or institutions engaged in government contracts where the former ruling of three pounds is still maintained.

Retail dealers are also effected by the new ruling. Under the provisions of the former rulings, dealers were permitted one-third of their monthly sales total for May, June or July, or an average for one month of the three months' sales, but this has been reduced to two-thirds of one-third. In one instance, where a dealer had applied to the food administration office for 1,800 pounds, his allotment for the month was cut to 1,200 pounds. Similar cuts were made in every instance.

Will Make Up Difference. It is the opinion of the food administration that placing the maximum amount to be used by each person at two pounds per month instead of three will make up the difference in the sales to justify the cut on the retailers. This will hold good in every instance except canning, where special provisions have been made, whereby the dealer can secure certificates for additional sugar upon submitting evidence that his stock has been used for domestic canning.

More Sugar for Canning. In an effort to increase the supply of sugar so that the amount necessary for domestic canning will not fall short of the mark, candy manufacturers and commercial canners are further restricted. H. C. Hartranft, county food administrator, stated today that permits for sugar will be issued during the month of August, the same as previous, contrary to a former report, the only restrictions being that evidence will have to be made to the food administrator's office that the supply is being used judiciously and as great an amount as possible of food being canned.

FEEDER CATTLE WILL BE IN DEMAND

Feeder cattle are to be in demand this fall, according to the opinion of R. A. Ward, county agriculturist. The corn crop in the middle west has been greater this year than for a number of years, and it is expected that this will create a demand for the lower grade of cattle.

About two hundred head of cattle are to be fed in this county this year as an experiment, the corn being shipped in from outside points.

Captain Russell to Deliver Address at the Gymnasium --All Drafted Men Must Go

(From Wednesday's Daily.) All registered men in Deschutes county are required to report at the Gymnasium at 8 o'clock Friday evening, August 2. This includes men of all classes among 1917 and 1918 registrants. S. E. ROBERTS, Chairman Local Board.

Captain E. M. Burke, representative of the Oregon Social Hygiene society, arrived in Bend this morning and is making arrangements for the meeting of the drafted men of the county which is to be held in this city at the Gymnasium at 8 o'clock Friday evening. Captain Burke in an interview this morning stated that the work was being taken up under the supervision of the government in an effort to make it known to the registrants what is expected of them previous to and following their induction into the service.

He was very emphatic in his statement that all draft men are required to be in attendance, for "the government is not sending out officers to the various towns throughout the nation to talk to empty houses. If it were not information required by the men, there would be no necessity of the meetings." The term "registrants" includes all men who have registered in the county and men of other boards who are residing here or may be visiting here. On Friday evening the main speaker of the evening will be Captain Richard Russell, who is sent out from Camp Lewis by the war department, but speaking throughout Oregon under the auspices of the Oregon Social Hygiene society. John Kollock, secretary of the State Council of Defense, will also be in attendance and will address the meeting, and also Colonel Hibbard of Portland, at the head of the Home Guard organizations throughout the state.

SUGAR SUPPLY OUTLOOK IS DIM

(From Wednesday's Daily.) Slight relief can be expected from the present sugar situation, and for several months to come, possibly until the next sugar crop more than a year hence, the people of America will have to rigorously conserve the supply. This was the statement made by Arthur M. Churchill of the state food administrator's office, who has been in Bend since Sunday morning checking up on the county office and aiding the county food administrator, H. C. Hartranft, in preparing a method of propaganda which will bring more clearly to the people of the county the true conditions.

Over fifty million pounds of sugar have been sent to the bottom of the Atlantic by the submarines, thereby cutting off from the supply of the allies and this country this amount. Besides the enormous loss in sugar alone, the ships have been put out of commission and are sorely needed for the purpose for which they were used. Without these ships Cuba's sugar supply is not available for the United States, the greater amount already having been contracted to be sent to European countries, and all necessary vessels are tied up on this run. Much Less at Home. At home the condition is more critical. The average consumption of sugar in America during the pre-war period averaged a per capita of eight pounds. To supply this demand America had been compelled to utilize the greater part of the Cuban output, together with that of the Hawaiian islands. Germany during that time produced about one-fourth of the world's supply, and it was from this country that England secured the amount necessary for home consumption. France produced a sufficient amount for her own use. Under the war conditions, the British supply from Germany has been entirely cut off and the rich sugar producing belt of France is now in the hands of the Germans or has been devastated by the war. This leaves it up to America, Cuba and the Hawaiian islands to supply the demand of all three countries, and with a supply which previously had been consumed by the people of the United States alone. The need for saving is evident.

Hawaiian Crop Unavailable. Mr. Churchill stated that there is at the present time a supply of sugar being held in the Hawaiian islands to insure enough for home consumption under the present reduced rations, but this is not available because of lack of vessels for transporting it to this country. In his opinion the government will make arrangements to have this supply moved as soon as the vessels are turned from the ways on the Pacific coast, but such a possibility is at least several months ahead.

Not Drawn Tighter. Mr. Churchill stated that he did not believe that the present amounts permitted, of two pounds per person per month, would be drawn tighter. Arrangements have been made and the consumption of each section scheduled so that the apportionment is made from the amount of sugar available at the present time, and any surplus which may eventually be added to this supply will take care of future submarine losses. Under the present plan where the consumer is regulated to two pounds per person per month, the retailer, the wholesaler, manufacturer and state are all regulated on the same basis. The state of Oregon, under government regulation, will receive only sufficient sugar for the needs as compiled by the state food administration. This is true of every state in the union.

This regulation of the supply to each state will do away with the condition which existed last year when the east was suffering for want of sugar and there was a surplus on the Pacific coast.

Food Conditions Good. In other supplies, Mr. Churchill stated that the conditions, while they would not permit of waste on the part of the American public, was good. Under the 50-50 basis there will be ample wheat flour for the needs of the armies and our allies, and substitute prices will be reduced greatly within the next few months, a drop of 20 per cent, already having been effected.

Advice. "I want to know how to succeed in the world," said the young man to the older one. "Young fellow," said the gray-haired individual, "right now you've got no business worrying about your own success. All you've got to do is to get a job in the army or navy and help to win the war. After that I'll be glad to give you a tip on how to become rich or famous."

Superiority. "Mr. Blobster has been a rich man for years, yet he still stands in awe of his butler." "And how can you account for that?" "I can't explain it unless it's because the butler is a much better grammarian than Mr. Blobster."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Wrist Watches Afloat. Wrist watches at sea, with their luminous dials, are at once a convenience, a safeguard and a peril. You can tell the time without tearing your clothes to pieces or going to a light. When you walk along the deck at night you can hold your forearm so that the dial glows in the sight of all who are passing along the deck and thus prevent collisions. If you don't play up your wrist watch, you are supposed to whistle "sweet and low" in the dark as you pass along. But if you are not passing along the deck, only lingering along the deck rail, and are fortunate in having one of the few women who are crossing as your companion in that lingering, your luminous dial at rest on the deck rail is apt to wreck the wonderful sense of seclusion that darkened decks give these war times. One heartless patrol a trip or two ago stepped to the rail and asked a dismayed subaltern not to have his wrist watch "quite so far around," whatever that meant, because it might be detected by a submarine.—Nelson Collins in the Century Magazine.

"The Fool Hath Said." This is a message from one who knows—Coningsby Dawson—to those who do not realize. It is a message direct from the trenches in France by a soldier and writer to us behind the lines. He says: "Life has swung back to a primitive decision since the war commenced. The decision is the same for both men and nations. They can choose the world or achieve their own souls. They can cast mercenary lots for the raiment of a crucified righteousness or take up their martyrdom as disciples. Those men and nations who have been disciples together can scarcely fail to remain friends when the tragedy is ended. What the fool says in his heart at this present moment is not of any lasting importance."—Red Cross Magazine.

Italy's Greatest Harvest. Italy's soil, which has been cultivated continuously for thousands of years, promises this year to produce the greatest harvest of wheat ever reaped in that country. An Italian professor, a member of a university delegation which visited London recently as guests of the ministry of information, announced that owing to the abundant harvest expected in 1918, he had reason to believe that Italy would be for the first time self-supporting in the matter of grain.

LOCAL UNION PROTESTS MOVE

ARE AGAINST FORMING DUAL ORGANIZATION.

Resolutions to Be Sent to Office of Colonel Disque—Will Not Sign Agreement Cards.

(From Monday's Daily.) Protesting against any action which might be taken by Col. Disque to form a dual organization, and destroy the Timberworkers union, the local organization in regular meeting in this city yesterday afternoon passed resolutions which are to be forwarded to Col. Disque.

The action was taken here following the lead of the International Timberworkers in protesting to the government officials, and other locals throughout the Northwest, where the members of the organization are employed in the spruce and yellow pine production, and came as a direct result of resolutions passed by the Northwest operators wherein the open shop is upheld and Col. Disque named as arbitrator of all troubles between the operators and employes.

Ray Canterbury, secretary of the Bend local, this morning stated that the men had made the protest not out of unpatriotic feeling, but rather with the thought of the nation and the nation's welfare foremost. The men, he declared, went on record as protesting the stand of the operators and also the stand taken by Col. Disque regarding the arbitration policies and the matter of forming a dual organization out of the Timberworkers and the Loyal Legion. That the Timberworkers' organization has been recognized by the government was brought to the attention of Col. Disque and the formation of a dual organization would create discontent among the workers, bringing about confusion and unharmonious relations between the employe and employer, which at the present time is at the best.

At the meeting it was announced that within a short time cards would be circulated among the workers by the employers, to be signed by the employe, whereby he will agree to remain with his present situation until peace has been declared. This is also protested by the workers, and a vote was taken whereby the men agreed to sign no cards until after the matter had been taken up with the union direct. This action is taken because of the fact that it is believed that the men as a body are better prepared to cope with the situation than as individuals.
