TAXES.

Serious charges are made by the Labor Bender, the official organ of the Central Trades, Labor and Farmers' council of Bend, in its latest issue. It is unfortunate that they are not more specific. Reference to "the graft system in public offices," the allegation that "Shevlin-Hixon" and "Brooks-Scanlon" are stooping "to such graft" and the suggestion that someone is guilty of dishonesty—all these are rather grave matters, and the individuals concerned, as well as the public, are entitled to know more specifically what they are charged with.

If it is meant that there are grafters in public office in Deschutes county let's have the facts. One of the reasons for our advocacy of the creation of Deschutes county was a belief that in a smaller county the people would be in closer touch with their officials. If graft has sprung up here, let's know about it.

If the reference is wholly the matter of property valuations now under discussion, we think the language somewhat stronger than the conditions warrant. We have long felt that valuations in Crook, and later, Deschutes, county were low. That is agreed by every man who has any knowledge of the facts. If they are unequal they should be equalized. We believe that all want to pay their just share of the taxes, and with valuations equalized they will so pay.

Until man changes his nature, or knows that his neighbor is assessed evenly with him, he is going to make his tax return just as low as his conscience will permit. We do not seek to justify the practice but simply to state the fact recognized by all. In this county, where valuations are agreed to be low, no one is going to impose a penalty on himself by giving in a 100 per cent. valuation to the assessor. Each will try to keep even with his neighbor in having a low assessment.

If the time has come when the valuations are to be raised, and, if discrepancies exist, equalized, well and good. We are sure every good citizen will be glad to see the work done. The only thing that has held any class of property owner back in the past has been the fear that all classes would not join in the change.

If conditions have now arisen under which the farmer is getting the short end and he therefore is ready to kick out for an equalization, he ought to get what he is after. And we believe he will. We believe that all classes of property owners can get together and work out an adjustment that will be mutually fair. They can ask nothing more.

But to charge graft in public office and dishonesty in private business in connection with the matter is putting it pretty strong. If we are all sincere in this tax business we can get our results without quarrelling and without calling each other names.

OFFICERS SPEAK AT C. C. LUNCHEON

New Relationship Between Employer and Employee Is Lauded—

Fire Question Up.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

A talk by Lieutenant William Cutts on the new relationship between employers and employees, brought about by the war, featured the noonday luncheon of the Bend Commercial club today. Lieutenant George P. Syphers also spoke, saying how favorably impressed he was by the town. For the fire committee it was reported that the bond money was ready for the purchase of equipment. Carl A. Johnson announced that on Friday evening there would be an exhibition of French war posters at the athletic club, and H. C. Ellis called attention to the fact that Hershel Rongy, formerly of Bend, had been killed in action in France. C. S. Hudson reported that the county had met its Liberty loan quota and thanked all those who had worked in the drive.

TOOK OUT DREADFUL SORENESS.

When the kidneys are weakened and fail to throw impurities out of the blood, the poison remains in the system and backache, soreness and rheumatic pains develop. Mrs. David Henry, 65 S. Lincoln Ave., Washington, N. J., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills took the dreadful soreness out of my limbs and I walk good." Sold everywhere.—Adv.

TAX VALUATIONS ARE DISCUSSED

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

No appearance being made by the petitioners, the hearing before the board of equalization yesterday afternoon in respect to the tax assessment of a number of Bend and Redmond firms resolved itself into a discussion of county valuations. Assessor Mullerky detailed the manner in which the assessments were made and asserted that they were as equal throughout the county as he and his deputies could make them. All the firms represented indicated their willingness to open their books to the board for verification of their claims.

The sittings of the board for equalization purposes are not over until October 9, and the matter will be held open until that time to give the petitioners opportunity to be heard further if they desire it.

he had come in he would have met certain defeat and the derision of his former party mates. As it is, there may be a prize shining on a golden shelf somewhere for the judge.

Chapman Against Hoff.

C. C. Chapman, editor of the Oregon Voter, has various different kinds of fits every time the name of O. P. Hoff, Republican nominee for treasurer, is mentioned. C. C. C. (suspiciously familiar initials) has been working while others slept devising ways and means for causing O. P. Hoff as a dangerous brand of anarchist, Bolshevik or some similar type of an animal.

The impression had sort of gained ground that Chapman wished to be linked up as a Republican, but his onslaughts on Hoff make this rather doubtful. Chapman's attitude on a number of public questions has not met with altogether the best of favor from the great mass of people who are trying to pay house rent and grocery bills by the toll of their hands. His little magazine has more than once been accused of having a kindly leaning toward the larger interests. Hoff is a sort of a plain plug for the common people, and he hasn't seemed to care much whether they wore overalls or silk white panties. As a result, Chapman shudders when he thinks of the "horrid common thing." As has been said before, Hoff will make a good treasurer and no revolutionist. The state is going to get him anyway and Chapman might as well accept the inevitable. It is the writer's guess that mighty few flaws will be left to pick in his administration when all is said and done, and that if he wishes it for four years more he will get it.

Somebody asked Hoff whether he would tie up with Olcott or Withycombe on the state board. "I will tie up with Hoff," was his answer. "If Olcott is right I'll vote with him. If Withycombe is right I'll vote with him. If neither of them is right I'll vote with Hoff." That's plain enough. It is our guess that the great mass of the electorate is looking for just that sort of an administration of affairs in the treasurer's office.

The desert land board has petitioned members of Oregon's delegation in congress to pass a bill giving another 10 years' extension of time on the Tumalo project. If this is granted ample time will be given to work out the details of the great centralized project for the Deschutes valley.

STOPPED HER BABY'S COUGH.

No remedy is better known than Foley's Honey and Tar for giving quick relief from coughs, colds and croup. Mrs. W. M. Stevens, Vivian, W. Va., writes: "My baby had a terrible cough, and nothing did him any good. I read about Foley's Honey and Tar, the first dose helped him and in two days the cough stopped." Sold everywhere.—Adv.
