OREGON VOTERS FOR FAIR PLAY

FALSEHOODS DO NOT GAIN PURPOSE.

Vote Given to Governor Withycombe Evidence That People of the State Cannot Be Misled by Untrue Reports.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

SALEM, Nov. 14.—Under this date a week or two ago attention of the esteemed editor of the Portland Journal was called to the fact that he had frequently dissertated upon Oswald West being elected governor and Ben Olcott being elected secretary of state because their opponents waged a campaign of vilification and abuse, and that in spite of these dissertations, the Journal showed its inconsistency by stooping to a campaign which makes all previous campaigns waged in the state read like the leading editorial in a Sunday school magazine.

The election returns show that the Journal's first hunch was right. Lies, political skulduggery, sandbagging and iron knuckleism make no hit with the patriotic voters of this grand old state of Oregon.

Governor Withycombe has it up his sleeve to see if the engine of the law cannot be directed against some of the parties who filled the columns of newspapers with deliberate and ill-intentioned falsehoods.

One of the most flagrant examples of this sort of political Dick Turpinism developed at the eleventh hour, when scarcely a chance was given to show it up as the lie it was. The Democratic state central committee openly declared that Governor Withycombe had opposed Attorney General Brown in investigating the Pacific Livestock company land fraud case, and as equally out in the open declared that the governor had never taken a single step toward returning to the state an acre of land that had been taken from it.

That this was a deliberate lie is evidenced by the records at the state house so numerous that a child could find them. Five minutes after he had first read the advertisement the writer had his hands on a stack of documents going to show that Governor Withycombe was one of the moving spirits in the Pacific Livestock case, that he voted consistently all along to prosecute it after Attorney General Brown had advised that he probably had sufficient evidence on which to base his case, and furthermore he voted to provide funds to carry on the investigation to unearth testimony for the prosecution by the state. It is true that the Governor personally had an idea that perhaps the alleged frauds were so obsolete that it might be working an injustice to prosecute the suits, but he did not allow this personal idea to override his plain duty to the state and he backed the attorney general in every move he made. The record in this instance is so clear, it was so easily obtainable, it was so open to any individual who sought it, and open without price, that even if the Democratic central committee was not aware of the facts it was culpable in the extreme in assassinating, or attempting to assassinate, a high public official's character. But that it knew it lied and wished to lie seems possible from the fact that it issued the advertisement at a time so near election that refutation of it was almost impossible.

That is one instance of the lies that were spread in a frantic effort to pull the governor from the pedestal upon which he has been placed by the people of the state.

The campaign was surcharged with lies about the governor and about his administration.

The answer to these lies was registered by the people's ballots on election day. As the first page on the primer of the campaign for budding politicians should be written the Golden Rule. On the inside pages should be printed the Golden Rule, and on the back page should be stamped the Golden Rule. A politician who really followed that doctrine might rise high and last long. What happens to the other brand of gasbag was told in living letters on a recent Tuesday.

One Walter Pierce will return to the senate and no doubt he will be weeping the senatorial cuspidors to overflowing at the coming session of the legislature.

Now that it is all over, let it be known that Walter traveled far and wide during the last campaign. He whispered to his friends that the governor was not American born; he whispered to his friends that the governor had one foot in his grave; that the governor was in ill health and would never live his term out, and a few more such scandal mongering tales which few politicians of high calibre would stoop to.

He peddled it far and wide. And, as a result, Walter has been gored by his own bull.

The people of this little old state may be thankful that they didn't boost Walter into the governor's chair.

He did enough damage for one lifetime when he engineered the calamitous undertaking known as the 6 per cent limitation amendment to a successful conclusion a few years ago

COUNTY FIRST OVER THE TOP

EXCEEDS QUOTA LAST NIGHT.

Other Communities Are Yet to Be Heard From—Congratulations Are Wired by the State Director.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Deschutes is again the first county in the state over the top. Last night T. H. Foley, chairman of the United Welfare campaign, wired the state headquarters at Portland that the county had secured $9820 on a quota of $6500 plus 50 per cent., or $79 over the necessary amount. As a result of this wire, Mr. Foley this morning received the following dispatch from Orlando W. Davidson, state director:

"Congratulations upon your wonderful showing. Hood River, Union and Deschutes counties are over the top in the order given, but Deschutes is the first county to report the 50 per cent. increase. We take our hats off to Deschutes county. Portland reports $125,000 today. We have every hope that the campaign will be successful."

Deschutes county's quota was reached late last night when reports from the outside districts commenced to come in, while the city subscriptions yesterday afternoon helped to swell the total. Three districts have not yet been heard from, and it is expected their reports will be handed in today. These are Hampton, Brothers and Cloverdale. Several other districts of the county have yet to report their 50 per cent. increase, and it is believed that by the end of the week Deschutes county will have several hundred dollars over her quota.

During the balance of the week the Liberty temple will remain open from 1 o'clock until 6 each day. This is being done in order that all those who desire to do so will be enabled to make their subscriptions and have their names placed on the honor roll.

O'Donnell Brothers yesterday voluntarily doubled their subscription. Earlier in the week this firm had made a subscription of $25. Yesterday an additional $25 was subscribed to aid the work.

With the announcement that this county was the first in the state to reach its total plus 50 per cent., it is the third time during the past six months this has occurred. She won first honors in the War Savings stamp drive, again in the Salvation Army drive and now wins out with first honors in the welfare campaign.

In connection with the drive the Victory Boys and Girls of Bend are, so far as is known, the first in the state to finish the drive, their report being sent in at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, when $500 on a quota of $450 had been secured. The report was wired by W. C. Stewart, who had been appointed by Chairman Foley to handle the work in this county.

MUST RETURN ALL QUESTIONNAIRES

New Ruling Stipulates That They Must Be in Hands of Local Boards.

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—A new order issued by Provost Marshal Crowder stipulates that all men who have received their questionnaires from district boards are required to return the documents to the board, but it is not necessary that they be filled out.

PRINGLE MAKES A NEW RECORD

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Making a trip to the Caldwell ranch at Paulina Prairie in 35 minutes, a distance of 27 miles, is the record established by A. M. Pringle last night. Word was received here late that Grover Caldwell was in a serious condition from influenza and needed a physician. Pringle volunteered to drive one to the scene.

Mr. Caldwell's condition is reported much improved today.

FUNERAL HELD THIS MORNING

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Funeral services over the remains of John Nystrum, who died Sunday of influenza, were held this morning under the supervision of the Moose lodge. His brother, Gus Nystrum, who was expected to arrive from California, where he is in the service, could not make the trip, being under quarantine at the Presidio.

NEED MORE HELP TO CARE FOR ILL

OVER 30 PATIENTS NOW AT GYM.

Persons who Can Give Several Hours Each Day Are Wanted—None but Influenza Cases to Be Admitted.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Spanish influenza cases are still being received at the emergency hospital, over 30 cases being reported at the institution this morning. Although the help situation is somewhat improved over last week, there is still a shortage, and more men and women are being appealed to to give their time in aiding to care for the patients who are already there.

Persons who can give a certain amount of time each day are being sought and will be paid for their services if it is necessary. Those who can give two to four hours each day can be used, providing they can report for duty at a definite time and remain at their posts until relieved by others.

Under this plan it will be possible for those in charge to make provisions so that there will be no confusion so that those in need of care will be given it at the proper time and in the proper manner.

It was again emphatically stated this morning that no patient would be admitted to the institution without a doctor's certificate showing it to be suffering from influenza.

Two have died in the city of the disease during the past three days. John Ohman, 27 years of age, died at a private residence in the city Friday evening from complications of pneumonia following influenza.

John Nystrum, an engineer at the Brooks-Seaman logging camp, died last night. He had been ill for several days, being cared for at a private residence. Pneumonia had followed the attack, and late last evening he was taken to the emergency hospital, his death occurring within a few hours afterward. He leaves no relatives, with the exception of a brother, Gus Nystrum, who is now in the ordnance department, U. S. army, located at the Presidio, California.

Funeral services over Mr. Ohman are to be conducted by the Moose lodge, of which he was a member, tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock on the street in front of the Niawonger undertaking parlors.

DRAFT CALLS WITHDRAWN

LOCAL BOARD RECEIVES ORDERS TO HOLD ALL MEN ON CALLS MADE BY THE WAR DEPARTMENT BEFORE PEACE SIGNING.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

No men are to be sent from Deschutes county on calls for service which have been issued by the provost marshal prior to the signing of the armistice terms, according to an announcement received by the local draft board this morning. Three men boarded the train this morning, two for Camp Lewis and another for Camp Fulton, North Carolina, but under the orders they are to be stopped at Portland and returned here.

No other calls are pending at the present time.

NISWONGER RECEIVES AID

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

C. H. Irwin, undertaker of Redmond, Oregon, is in the city aiding C. P. Niswonger at the Niswonger undertaking parlors.

Eric Bolt, Former Bend High School Principal, is Dead

- Eric P. Bolt, camp secretary
- of the Y. M. C. A. at Vancouver
- barracks, and former principal
- of the high school in Bend,
- died at the post hospital at Van-
- couver Sunday night, according
- to reports in Monday's Oregon-
- ian. He had apparently recov-
- ered from an attack of influenza
- which prostrated him for three
- weeks and made a trip to Utah.
- On his return trip he had a re-
- lapse on the train. He was 26
- years of age and married last
- June. He was the son of Mr.
- and Mrs. George W. Bolt of
- Marshfield, Oregon.

Wilson Makes Known Terms of Surrender

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—President Wilson this afternoon told congress and the world the terms which Germany accepted with the signing of the armistice.

The terms picture Germany as surrendering abjectly to Marshal Foch in the field, her armies beaten and her government overturned, her master in flight. It was a small congress and a small crowd that heard the President's burning words, but enthusiasm ran riot.

The terms as made public to the world through the President are as follows: The evacuation of invaded territory, including Alsace-Lorraine, and Luxemburg.

The surrender of a vast amount of guns and equipment.

The evacuation of the left bank of the Rhine and the unconditional surrender of all German forces in East Africa.

Reparation for damage done.

The surrender of scores of submarines and battleships.

The concentration of aircraft at stipulated points.

The reparation of all allied and United States merchant vessels.

The abandonment of Bucharest and Brest treaties.

The evacuation of all Black sea ports.

MILITARY CONDITIONS.

The evacuation of Alsace-Lorraine and Luxemburg must be completed within 14 days, and the occupation by the allies and the United States forces jointly of the evacuated territory to keep peace.

All inhabitants of the evacuated territories must be repatriated within 14 days. The German army must surrender in good condition 5000 guns, heavy and field pieces, 30,000 machine guns, 3000 Minewerfers and 2000 aeroplanes.

The evacuated territory on the Rhine's left bank to be administered under local authorities under the control of the allies and the United States. The allies are to hold the principal crossing of the Rhine at Mayence, Coblinse and Cologne, with the bridge-heads at these points. The wide strip along the Rhine's right bank becomes a neutral zone. Eleven additional days have been allowed for the evacuation of Rhine lands.

The evacuating armies shall not harm or deport the inhabitants, and all food and live stock must be left behind.

The Germans must deliver 5000 locomotives, 50,000 wagons and 10,000 motor lorries within 14 days. The Alsace-Lorraine railways must be delivered within the same period.

Germany must immediately repatriate all allied and United States prisoners without reciprocity.

All German troops in the territory formerly belonging to Russia, Roumania and Turkey to be withdrawn to the German frontiers.

Germany must immediately cease all requisitioning and the seizure of supplies.

FINANCIAL CONDITIONS.

Reparation for damage done. The enemy to remove during the armistice no public securities which can serve as a pledge for the recovery of allied war losses.

The immediate restitution of a cash deposit in the Belgian National Bank, and the immediate return of all documents, stocks and shares, specie and paper money.

The restitution of Russian and Roumanian gold yielded to Germany, to be delivered in trust to the allies until peace is signed.

NAVAL CONDITIONS.

The immediate cessation of naval hostilities. Definite information on German ship movements.

The surrender to the associated powers of 160 submarines with their complete armament and equipment. The crews of all other submarines to be paid off, the vessels completely disarmed and placed under the supervision of the allies.

Disarm and intern in neutral ports six battle cruisers, ten battleships and eight light cruisers, together with 50 of the most modern destroyers.

All other surface warships, including river craft, concentrated in German naval bases, paid off completely and disarmed and placed under allied supervision.

The associated powers have been given the right to sweep up all mine fields, with the Germans indicating their positions.

The freedom of access to and from the Baltic, with the allies occupying all German defense works in the entrances from Cattaget into the Baltic.

The allied existing blockade conditions to remain unchanged.

All German merchant ships found at sea to remain liable to capture.

In evacuating the Belgian coast, the Germans must abandon all merchant ships, all stores of arms, armament and apparatus of all kinds.

All naval aircraft to be concentrated and demobilized in German bases specified by the allies.

All Black sea ports evacuated.

All Russian warships seized by Germany in the Black sea delivered to the allies.

All neutral merchant vessels seized must be released. The German government must formally notify all neutrals, and particularly Norway, Sweden and Holland that all restrictions placed on their trade with the allies are immediately cancelled.

The Germans must not transfer any merchant ships to neutral flags.

The armistice duration to be in effect for 30 days, with the option of the allies and the United States to extend it.
