POTATOES GO 200 SACKS TO ACRE

Long Distance from Market Only Thing That Holds Back the Pringle Flat District.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

William Hubbard, who spent the summer with his daughter at Pringle Flat, is back in Bend for the winter. Before coming to town he picked a few tubers from Eli Wilson's potato bin to show what is produced in that line in a dry region and in an exceptionally dry season. The five potatoes Mr. Hubbard brought in weighed just a fraction under 11 pounds, the biggest weighing two and a half pounds. Mr. Wilson harvested 400 sacks of potatoes from two acres, a great demonstration for the country, but the 56 miles to market or a railroad kills the profit of such industry.

SUGAR CARDS ARE WITHDRAWN TODAY

Grocers to Be Responsible with Consumer for Maintaining a Four-Pound Maximum.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

FEDERATION TO MEET AT SALEM

PLANS TO HOLD MEET HERE GIVEN UP.

Will Assemble in Capital City During Legislative Term--Bend to Be Chosen for Next Year's Convention.

The state Federation of Labor convention, which was to have been held in this city during the week commencing October 14, and which was postponed through an order of the state board of health, will not come to Bend this year, according to an announcement received from state headquarters by local labor officials.

Several weeks ago it was announced that the postponed meeting would be held here in the week commencing December 9, but these plans have since been changed and there will be no meeting of the body until after the first of the year, when the convention will be held in Salem during the legislative assembly. At that time matters of importance in regard to state legislation which will affect labor are to be taken up directly with the representatives and senators instead of recommendations being sent in, which would have been the case had the convention been held here on the scheduled dates.

This change in the program of labor will not permanently defeat Bend in the entertainment of state labor. It has been practically settled that Bend is to have the meeting next year, when even more elaborate plans for the entertainment of the guests can be made than would have been possible under the stress of war times this fall.

While no definite dates for the convention at Salem have yet been made, it is understood in labor circles here that several members are to be in attendance from this city.

SUMMER WEATHER.

(From Tuesday's Daily.) With a maximum temperature of 65 at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the thermometer reached the highest point during the month of December in a two-year period. The nearest approach to this was on December 31 last year, with a maximum of 63.
