H. H. DE ARMOND

First District Attorney of Deschutes County, Whose Resignation is Made Public Today.

DE ARMOND TO LEAVE OFFICE

INCREASED PRIVATE PRACTICE CAUSES WITHDRAWAL—A. J. MOORE, OF BEND, TO BE NAMED AS SUCCESSOR.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

After more than two years of service rendered Deschutes county, H. H. De Armond, the county's first district attorney, will officially give up his public position on the first of the year, and will devote his entire attention to his private law practice. Mr. De Armond's resignation was mailed to Governor Withycombe on December 17, and the executive's response, accepting the withdrawal, and stating that Arthur J. Moore, of this city, would be Mr. De Armond's successor, was received today. Mr. Moore has not yet received official notice from the state executive, but expects to hear from Salem within the next few days.

Following the formation of Deschutes county, Mr. De Armond was named district attorney, taking office on December 15, 1916. During his first term of office, he successfully conducted the county division case finally settling the status of Deschutes county, and then turned his attention to the suppressing of cattle and horse rustling. Sufficient convictions were secured to cut down to a marred degree the activity of stock thieves.

Re-elected to Office.

This fall Mr. De Armond was re-elected, but the growth of his private practice made it necessary for him to withdraw shortly after he had qualified.

Mr. Moore, who is to be named as his successor, has been a member of the legal fraternity of Bend for nearly three years. It will be his first appearance in public office here.

Governor Withycombe, in acknowledging Mr. De Armond's letter asking to be relieved as district attorney, writes as follows:

Service Appreciated.

"Have your letter of December 17, containing your resignation as district attorney of Deschutes county, and in view of the reasons set forth in your letter, I feel obliged to accept your resignation, to take effect January 1. I will appoint Mr. Arthur J. Moore as your successor.

"Assuring you that I appreciate the co-operation of your services as law enforcement officer in your county, and that you have my very best wishes for success in private practice, I am

"Very truly yours,
"JAMES WITHYCOMBE,
"Governor."

INTEREST IS TAKEN IN SUNFLOWER CROP

(From Friday's Daily.)

Considerable interest is being taken in the use of sunflowers for silage. This crop has given splendid results in Montana and experimental plots of sunflower have indicated that it would be a splendid silage crop for Crook and Deschutes counties. County Agent Ward has taken up with the Montana Experiment station the matter of securing seed and best cultural methods to use under irrigation. This information will soon appear in this paper. The Montana station secured a yield of 28 1/2 tons per acre, which more than doubles the tonnage of silage corn secured in Central Oregon.

The feeding value of sunflower silage ranks very close to corn and is greatly relished by livestock. If the crop proves a success in Central Oregon, which it is practically sure to do, the feeding problem in the higher more frosty sections will be largely solved. Two tons of silage replace one ton of hay in winter feeding. Silage makes an excellent ration when fed with alfalfa hay and straw, as it is succulent and has a splendid physiological effect on the animal's system.

YOUNGSTERS' LOSS QUICKLY MADE UP

Children Who Lost $10 Bill Receive Three Times Amount From Bend People.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Rivaling the loaves and fishes of Biblical lore, was the $10 lost by Melvin and Clifford Thomas, sons of Mrs. J. R. Thomas, of this city, the day before Christmas. By the time all those claiming to have found the money had reported, the greenback had grown to three times its original value.

C. A. Stevens, of the Windmill, read the Bulletin story of the youngsters' loss and immediately passed the hat around. Mrs. H. K. Brooks learned of what was going on, and insisted on contributing, and $11 of Christmas money was turned over to the happy boys before the stores closed Christmas eve.

At the Shevlin-Hixon office, Carl Johnson started out to find the missing $10, and was liberally aided by employes of the company. This was turned over to the boys Christmas morning. Shortly afterward, E. D. Gilson met a Bulletin representative. "I just found a dollar of that ten," he declared. Then to cap the climax, the original bill was found by a member of the Bend High school faculty.

What Was on the Arm.

A story comes from "over there" about a "bear cat," as the negro soldier is called by the fighting men, who raided a Hun machine gun nest and wiped them out. After the raid one of the negro soldiers was found searching the battlefield.

"What you looking for, man?" inquired another "bear cat," with some curiosity.

"I'm looking for mah arm," was the reply of the first soldier.

Then the inquisitive one observed for the first time that his buddy's left arm had been shot away. "That there arm ain't going to do you any good any more even if you do find it," the inquirer said.

"It ain't, eh," retorted the wounded man. "It ain't the arm I wants so bad," he continued, "but it's the wrist watch on it." And he renewed his investigation.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR SISTER

Nurse at St. Charles' Hospital Called by Death After Brief Stay in This City.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Funeral services were held this morning from the Catholic church for Sister Mary Victorine of St. Charles' hospital, who died Saturday from complications following an attack of influenza. She had been in Bend since November 2, coming here from the east as a nurse. She was of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

In Memory of Our Dear Sister Victorine.

One sweet flower drooped and faded,
One dear Sister's voice has fled,
One fair brow the grave has shaded—
One dear Sister now is dead.

She has gone to Heav'n before us,
But she turns and waves her hand—
Looking to the glory o'er her
In that happy angel land.

We shall miss, but we shall meet her. With her Jesus she is now. With her friends and dearest parents, Lord! to Thy sweet will we bow.
—By Sister M. Teresa.
