(From Tuesday's Daily)
After warning some 30 auto owners of the necessity of immediately securing 1919 auto license tags, Police Judge D. H. Peoples announced today that failure to comply with the law after car owners had been notified would result in the application of heavy fines. The delay, it is believed, is due to the fact that many did not make application for licenses until the first of the year.

"FLU" SITUATION
HERE ENCOURAGING

Several Under Quarantine Already
Convalescing and Danger of Epidemic Is Virtually Over.

With only one new case of influenza reported since yesterday morning, the danger of an epidemic here is believed to be virtually over. A number of those quarantined are already convalescing, and City Health Officer Dr. J. C. Vandeventer reports that encouraging co-operation is being given by the physicians of the city and by quarantined families as well.

Continued observance of the rules laid down by the health committee of the city council may result in an almost complete wiping out of the disease in Bend in the near future, authorities believe.

SALMON SPAWNING IN DESCHUTES FORESEEN

Installation of Ladders Would Make River Accessible to Fish from Columbia, Is Belief.
(From Friday's Daily.)

That steps may be taken through the fish and game commission to make the Deschutes river a salmon stream is intimated by District Warden W. D. Hadley, now in Bend to superintend pipe line construction at the new fish hatchery.

At present the river is inaccessible to fish from the Columbia river because of falls which prevent them from coming upstream, but with the installation of a sufficient number of fish ladders, Mr. Hadley believes that the salmon, in considerable numbers, would come up the Deschutes to spawn. It is thought at present that three ladders might be sufficient for this purpose.

BAY RUM POPULAR WITH THE THIRSTY

Much Hair Tonic Being Used as Substitute for Whiskey Believes Chief of Police.

If bay rum would actually cause hair to sprout, many a human alimentary canal in Bend would be lined with a luxuriant hirsute growth. This is the belief of Chief of Police L. A. W. Nixon, who bases his opinion on the number of empty hair tonic bottles he has found in various places about the city and on the fact that cranial baldness here is not decreasing in the least.

The activity of county and city officials in running down bootleggers this winter is thought to be responsible for the increased consumption of substitutes, and the scented preparation designed primarily for external use with its 50 per cent. of alcohol, is proving a sore temptation to the thirsty.

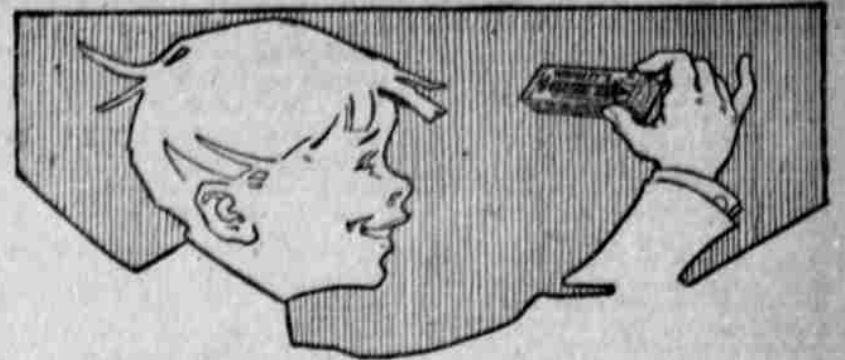

Chief Nixon is planning to ask the city council at its next meeting, Tuesday night, for an ordinance which will eliminate this variety of alcoholic beverage.

RAINBOW NOVELTY FOR BEND WINTER

Phenomenon Makes Its Appearance After Four-Tenths of an Inch of Rain Falls During Night.

(From Friday's Daily.)
A complete rainbow, with a faint supplementary bow, lasting for three hours, was the mid-winter novelty which presented itself to Bend today. The bow was also visible for a short time late yesterday afternoon.

This morning's phenomenon followed a rainstorm during the night which resulted in a precipitation of four-tenths of an inch of water. Continued wet weather, at the time when Central Oregon is usually covered with snow, is predicted.
