FOOD SAVING STILL NEEDED

Prosperity combined with thrift will work wonders for any people.

The solid merit of our government's thrift stamp and war saving offer, plus its patriotic appeal, is proving a most effective stimulus to the growing thrift habit throughout the nation. The old adage "waste not, want not," is a sound one, too long ignored in the average American family. The individual book of thrift stamps for each child in the household, will go a long way towards eliminating thriftlessness in the coming generation, a goodly stride in the national development and towards the true American ideals.
