

CONTRACT CLOSED FOR $100,000 JOB.

Majority of 150 Men to Be Employed on Shevlin-Hixon Extension to

Be Drawn from Bend

and Vicinity.

(From Saturday's Daily."

Returning from a business trip to Spokane, J. H. Meister, logging superintendent for The Shevlin-Hixon Company, announced this morning that during his stay in the Washington city he let the contract for the seven-mile logging railroad extension planned by the lumber Dr. R. W. Hendershott health company to the firm of Simms & Carlson of Spokane. The price agreed upon for the work is $100,000.

The letting of the contract crystalizes plans which Mr. Meister made public a little more than a week ago for a substantial addition to the present railway system of the company to tap heavy pine forests in the Benham falls section. Work is to start immediately, the logging superintendent states.

The employment of 150 men for period extending over at least six months will be necessitated in constructing the railroad extension, the contractors estimate, and a large proportion of the labor supply will be drawn from Bend and the immediate vicinity. A few men will be brought in from Spokane, but the C M. McKay, expenses, trancontractors plan to pick up most of their help after their arrival here. H. E.

That this plan of action will aid materially in upholding Bend's reputation for offering employment to all returning soldiers, sailors and marines is the belief of officials of the company.
