

The very latest

ONE thing that resulted from the restoration of peace among the fighting nations has been the emphasis given to "style" in clothes.

Everybody seems to want to show in clothes the reaction from the strict military sameness of appearance; the military features are not wholly discarded—good shoulders, slender waists, curved hip lines; but aside from these physical requirements, there's a call for special "smartness" of design.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes offer just these things to you, in a way that you'll not find them in any other clothes. Just look at the welt-seam-waist type we show; the pockets, the lapels. One look at that suit and you want it.

We'll fit you in it; many variations in fabrics and colors; and prices.
