

JULY FOURTH

Independence Day in 1919

YOU may feel, as so many others do, that the Fourth of July in 1919 has, and should have, a new significance. The Fathers of this nation fought a strong enemy that they might gain political freedom for themselves and their children's children.

The Sons of the nation have just been fighting that they might give political freedom to others.

And we ought to pause long enough from noise and games and gaiety, to resolve with some solemnity, that nothing we can do shall be left undone, to keep and perpetuate what has been gained.

That's one of the uses of such a holiday; we're all going to quit business and make it a day

TEACHERS START HIKE TO EUGENE

Two Members of High School Faculty Expect to Reach McKenzie Pass Tonight.

Two instructors of the Bend high school, Miss Margaret Hanson and Miss Beatrice Cheaney, may be the first pedestrians to go from Central Oregon to the Willamette valley by way of the McKenzie pass this year. With expectations of reaching the summit by night, they left this morning, planning to go by auto as far as Sisters, and from there to walk to the Lane county seat. They are carrying light packs and expect to make from 20 to 25 miles a day.

JUNE UNUSUALLY COOL THIS YEAR

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Deschutes county experienced one of the coolest months of June on record during the last 30 days, according to official climatic observations made by the local representative of the weather bureau. The hottest day of the entire month, the 25th, merely sent the mercury up to 88 degrees, while on the 16th a minimum of 22 degrees was reached. Seven nights had a recorded temperature of below freezing.

Sunshine during the early part of the month was far from adequate, but in the latter weeks of June there has been a marked improvement, and the few frosts coming within this period have done little damage except to garden truck. Ranchers believe that there is still a good chance that normal crops may be produced this year on irrigated land.

As to distribution of sunshine, 12 days were clear, 12 partly cloudy and six cloudy. Rainfall, part of which was hail, totalled .28 inch, and thunder storms, of no particular violence, were noted on June 14, 16 and 27.

MUCH PRAISE IS GIVEN TO PILOT

(From Friday's Daily.)
Dedicated to Principal R. C. Johnson, the second volume of the Bend High School Pilot is now being distributed and is winning high praise as being truly representative of the high school and for the arrangement and general appearance of the book. It is probably the finest volume of the kind ever issued in Central Oregon.

The 1919 Pilot is edited by Miss Hilah Brick of the class of 1920, the business management being under the direction of Leroy Coyner, who has also just completed the third year. The book is profusely illustrated with photos, the portrait work having been done at the Hogan studio. The second part of the volume is devoted to athletics and is dedicated to Carl A. Johnson, member of the school board, in recognition of the active interest he has taken in this form of student activities.

The Pilot was printed and bound in the shop of The Bend Bulletin.

HOME BUYING IS STRONGLY URGED

Advertising Campaign of Local Merchants in Bulletin Receives High Endorsement.

(From Friday's Daily.)

Special commendation of a page advertisement appearing in The Bulletin, on June 12, under the heading "Confidence," and signed by a number of the leading merchants of Bend, is made by A. G. Clark, manager of the Associated Industries of Oregon, in a letter received this morning.

"People must be educated to the fact that if they want to live in a live town, some of the responsibility of making it that sort of place rests with each one," Mr. Clark writes. "They cannot send their money away and expect to build up their home community."

The Test That Tells.

There is only one real test for a cough remedy and that is use. S. M. Oliver, Box 192, R. F. D. 5, Greensboro, S. C., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is just fine. I keep it in the house all the time." It soothes and relieves hay fever, asthma, coughs, colds, croup and bronchial affections. For sale everywhere.—Adv.

UNUSUAL EXERCISE IS CAUSE OF DEATH

(From Friday's Daily.)

Funeral services for Nicholas A. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reynolds, ranchers living seven miles from Bend, will be held from the Niswonger chapel in this city at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, Rev. H. C. Hartranft of the Presbyterian church pronouncing the funeral sermon. Interment will be in Pilot Butte cemetery.

Death occurred shortly after 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when the young man, who had suffered for the past year and a half from valvular heart disease, dropped dead after chasing a horse on the ranch. He was nearly 25 years of age at the time of death, and had resided in the vicinity of Bend for the past 11 years.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother and sister living near Bend, and by a sister in La Grande, who will be in Bend tomorrow for the funeral services.

BOYS STEAL WHEELS, THEN CHANGE PARTS

Ten-Year-Old Is Leader, He Admits to Judge—Five Bicycles Taken in the Last Few Weeks.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
The puzzle which the local authorities have been trying to solve for several weeks past, namely in regard to the disappearance of a number of bicycles was solved yesterday when two small boys, taken into custody by Officer Frank Kulp, confessed to Juvenile Judge W. D. Barnes, that they had purloined the missing wheels. Not only that, but they had followed the old auto game, and had mixed parts so skillfully that it will be a good day's work for a skilled mechanic to unscramble them.

Roy Fuitts, aged 10 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Fuitts of this city, admitted that he had received his instructions from older boys and had then interested 13-year-old Marvin Walden, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walden of Bend, in the plan. Both boys were paroled with instructions to report at stated intervals to Police Chief Nixon. Failure to live up to their promise will mean commitment to the state training school the boys were informed.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS ORGANIZE FOR YEAR

(From Friday's Daily.)

Members of the Bend school board organized for the coming year at a special meeting yesterday afternoon, electing R. W. Sawyer as chairman of the directors. The clerk will be chosen at the regular meeting next week.

BEND IS READY FOR BIG TIME ON FOURTH

Artillerymen to Play.

As soon as these events have been completed, Bend will meet the crack Portland aggregation, Battery "A," 147th field artillery, on the depot grounds. Captain Ash Houston has assembled a formidable organization to meet this fast Rose City overseas bunch. For more than a week he has been out with his men whipping them into shape so that he can take a new scalp on the Fourth. The 147th has an enviable overseas and home record.

The afternoon's events will close with three fast horse races, to be staged on Bond street, at 6:30 p. m. These events have been added upon the request of horse fanciers, who want to make a showing on that day. Bend's Fourth will be totally without the old-time fireworks and fire-works. Not a local merchant is handling them. It is hoped to make it as comfortable as possible for visitors who will be in the city that day. A record attendance is expected from all points in Central Oregon.

Boxing Card Well Arranged.

One of the big events of the day will be the all-star boxing contest to be held in the gymnasium Fourth of July evening. There are three strong events. Sailor Charlie Fox will meet Fred Gilbert in a 16-round go. This event promises to be a winner. Both men are in fine condition and have been working hard for the last two weeks. Knowlton and Beyers are not so well known locally, but from all the reports from the coast they may be expected to give the local fans a rare treat. Of more than local interest is the go between Ted Hoke, formerly of Bend, now of Portland, and "Speck" Wood, who has tangled with Hoke before. Wood has been working under good instructors in Oakland and is confident that he will take Hoke's number. The events are being staged under the direction of the Bend fire department.

BOOZE RUNNERS FIND WORK TOO HAZARDOUS

that no attempt will be made to remove the contents for six or eight weeks at least. As for the possibility of any more shipments from the south—well, war-time prohibition goes into effect tomorrow, and will make the moving of liquor from state to state a highly hazardous undertaking.

Fifteen Cases Stolen.
To one cache where liquor had been hidden, Sheriff Roberts and Mr. Nixon were guided by the owner of the whiskey, which he said totalled 15 cases, but the whiskey was gone, and had apparently been taken only a few minutes before their arrival. According to the story told them by their guide, he had traveled behind another liquor-laden car which had come in from California two weeks

Would Give Five Dollars a Bottle

Railway Superintendent Says That Tanlac Helped Him Hold His Job.

"I would give $5 a bottle for Tanlac before I would be without it," said Joe Owens, division superintendent of the Memphis street railway, whose address is Box 31, Memphis, Tennessee.

"I was getting in mighty bad shape with stomach trouble," he continued, "and was all broken down and tired out. I was so nervous and had such awful headaches that I could hardly sleep or rest. I could eat but little of anything and was simply down and out, and don't believe I could have held my job much longer if I hadn't got hold of Tanlac."

"Since starting on Tanlac I have gained five pounds. I eat and sleep just fine and it has strengthened me up and made me feel so much better in every way that I can't say enough in its praise."

Tanlac is sold in Bend by the Owl Pharmacy and in Sisters by George F. Aitken and in Bend by the Hinton Drug company.—Adv.

before. The loading car, on approaching Crescent, was warned that officials were on the road and immediately dashed off into the sagebrush, returning with no cargo, to warn the driver of the second machine and to note the spot at which the second load of whiskey was hidden.

Fearing that his cache was to be rifled, the second autoist kept the other under surveillance for two weeks after arriving in Portland, and finally raced to La Pine, only to find that the man under suspicion had passed him on the road. Rather than have his liquor stolen from him he called up Sheriff Roberts, who, accompanied by Constable Nixon, raced to La Pine, picked up the man who had turned informer on himself, and went on to Crescent, meeting on the way the car which had gone from Portland to rob the cache. But the car was empty, and no liquor was left when the officials arrived at the hiding place to which they were guided.

It may have evaporated, but Sheriff Roberts is inclined to believe that the auto which they followed was only a blind, and that a car which actually removed the whiskey to a new cache had been sent out several hours before.
