TO EMPHASIZE STOCK SECTION

TUMALO FAIR BOARD MEETS WITH O. M. PLUMMER, PLANS FOR COMING COMMUNITY EVENT, NAMES COMMITTEES.

Even greater emphasis will be laid on the livestock section of the Tumalo fair than had formerly been planned, following the meeting Thursday of the fair board, with O. M. Plummer, general manager of the Pacific International Livestock exposition. In a talk to the board Mr. Plummer emphasized the benefit that smaller fairs can be to the development of the stock industry and in acting as feeders for the larger stock shows. He agreed to provide judges for the stock entries, and will endeavor to secure Frank Brown, president of the Pacific International Livestock exposition, to act in this capacity.

Committees for the fair were appointed by the board as follows: Livestock, John Marsh, Ray Gerking and R. A. Ward; poultry, F. V. Swisher, Mrs. R. B. Foote and Mrs. C. H. Hatch; agriculture, C. H. Spaug, A. J. Harter and F. N. Wallace; Industrial club work, Mrs. R. U. Flickinger, Mrs. C. H. Spaug,

Mrs. E. J. Dunn and Mrs. J. F. Carey. The premium list now has funds available amounting to $600, the $500 appropriated by the county court having been augmented by a $100 donation from the First National Bank of Bend.

What Busy Farmers Are Doing

ALFALFA CROP NOW BEING CUT

NORMAL CROP IS REPORT FROM MOST PARTS OF COUNTY—TON AND QUARTER PER ACRE IS GENERAL YIELD.

The farmers of this county and Powell Butte, in Crook county are wearing a brighter smile than they did a few weeks ago, now that they have gotten the sickles working in the alfalfa cutting. The warm weather of the last few weeks, together with the rainfall, no matter how light it may have been in spots, has produced its effects.

It is reported that the first cutting of alfalfa throughout the county tributary to Bend, is about normal. In the Tumalo district the cutting is averaging around a ton and a quarter per acre. It is reported that the cutting on the John Marsh and Peter Jensen ranches is running somewhat better than the average. Dan Hourigan reports the crop in the Powell Butte district about normal with the cutting running in the average of one and one-half tons per acre. In the alfalfa district the crop production per acre is varying, but for the most part it is said to be about normal. In the Cloverdale sections conditions are reported as good.

S. N. HILL HAS FINE HERD OF HEREFORDS

Makes Purchase of Heifers This Week and Will Buy Hereford Bull This Year.

S. N. Hill of Fort Rock, is another of the converts of purebred cattle. Mr. Hill is becoming more interested every year in stocking his ranch with the best Herefords he can procure. This year he has 13 registered cows and has instructed R. A. Ward to keep on the lookout for a purebred, registered Hereford bull for his ranch near Silver Lake.

Mr. Hill is among the ranchers who has taken advantage of the bottom lands of Silver Lake, having about 20 acres under cultivation.

This week he purchased seven purebred Hereford heifers from George Mayfield of La Pine.

FARMERS NEED HELP. Farmers are needing help and calls are being sent throughout this section in an effort to obtain farm hands to handle the hay crop. The farmers are paying from $3.50 to $4 per day and board.

RABBIT PEST KEENLY FELT

RODENT INCREASE IS UNCHECKED.

Inroads of Blacktails Supplement Late Frosts in Making Hay Crop of High Desert Practically a Failure.

Ranchers on the high desert will be lucky if they cut even a half crop of hay this year, not merely because of the late frosts, but chiefly on account of the enormous number of blacktail rabbits, which are harvesting the fields before the farmers have an opportunity of getting in their rye. A glimpse of the conditions which the few farmers remaining on the high dry land beyond Millican are having to face may be gained by simply driving past the fields, noting the scant stand and long-eared rodents which are spread in thousands wherever any attempt at cultivation has been made.

So tame are the blacktails that autoists who returned this morning from a week-end trip report killing a number from their car, using automatic pistols and revolvers.

To a considerable extent, the high desert has reverted to a stock country, but the ranchers who are running stock endeavor to raise enough hay to feed their cattle during the winter months. Last winter, on the Brookings ranch the supply of feed

MISSOURI RANCHER IN CENTRAL OREGON

W. A. Pickering Has Fine Herd of Registered Herefords—Was Owner of Ardmore.

W. A. Pickering of Kansas City, a well known middle states lumberman, is in Central Oregon this week. Although generally known as a lumberman, Mr. Pickering is one of the best known ranchers and stockmen of his state. He was the owner of Ardmore, which died recently. This purebred Hereford, was the highest priced bull in the United States until his death. The ranch of Mr. Pickering at Harrelson, Missouri, contains more than 5000 acres on which he has 700 head of registered Herefords. He is also owner of Repeater, VII, one of the famous bulls of Missouri.

Mr. Pickering is a thorough believer that the only way to raise livestock is to raise purebreds, and advises every rancher not to waste his time with poor stock.

CHARLES SPAUGH RAISES LAMBS WHICH NET $10 EACH

Charles Spaug believes that the raising of flock lambs will pay, if not experimented with in too large a scale. This year Mr. Spaug raised 19 head of flock lambs. They were lambed January 27, produced about four pounds of wool each, fed and fattened to weigh about 100 pounds each, and netted Mr. Spaug this week, about $10 per head. The largest sheep of the lot weighed 108 pounds.

HUSTON HAS FINE ALFALFA.

J. C. Huston, whose ranch is about eight miles east of Redmond on the Redmond-Prineville road, is about the proudest alfalfa farmer in Deschutes county. Mr. Huston is one of the users of sulphur as fertilizer. The first cutting on the Huston ranch will be about two tons per acre. Mr. Huston has between 200 and 300 acres under cultivation.

PLUMMER VISITS COUNTY.

O. M. Plummer, general manager of the Pacific International Livestock show of Portland, and R. A. Ward of the First National Bank of Bend, spent Friday on the Tumalo irrigation project, in the Redmond and Powell Butte districts.

FOREST CATTLE ARE FAT.

The cattle in the Deschutes National forest, out in the Suttle lake district, are looking fine. Several hundred head were seen last Saturday in the vicinity of the lake where there is plenty of water and grass. The grass, reports stockmen who have been running cattle on the range, has been plentiful all year.

$1000 PRESENTED FOR ROAD WORK

DIATOMITE COMPANY, ANXIOUS TO INCREASE PRODUCTION, MAKES DONATION TO DESCHUTES COUNTY COURT.

Preparations for operation on a much larger scale by the Western Diatomite Co. on the silicon beds near Terrebonne was indicated Wednesday when the county court received a $1000 check from the company and a request that the money be used in the immediate improvement of the Lower Bridge to Terrebonne road. The haul to Terrebonne is approximately 11 miles.

Through the bond issue voted on June the county court has available $5000 for improvement of the Lower Bridge-Terrebonne road, and in addition to the $1000 already given by the Western Diatomite Co., it is intimated that more may be forthcoming from the same source if it is needed to put the road in proper shape.
