WOOL GROWERS SHARE IN FUND

TO RECEIVE PAYMENT OF EXCESS PROFITS.

War Industries Board Completing Its Work and Making Arrangements for Payments—Dealers to Pay Back Extra Sums.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1.—Collection of excess profits from wool dealers is proceeding and their distribution to wool growers will begin in the near future. This announcement is made by the United States department of agriculture, which is completing the work of the domestic wool section of the war industries board, in accordance with a provision of the agricultural appropriation bill.

Reports thus far received show that excess profits were made by about 10 per cent. of the "country" dealers. Correspondence with "distributing center" dealers, whose total reports are not yet completed, indicate that some of them have accumulated substantial amounts of excess profits on the wool which they actually bought. Auditing of the accounts of the larger dealers is a considerable task and will require several months. The bureau of markets, which acts for the department of agriculture in this work, will inclose with each check sent to a grower a circular letter giving the name of the firm which handled his wool and which has returned the excess profits of which the customer is receiving his share.

No Refunds to Consignors. The department calls attention to the fact that the regulations of the war industries board did not permit the purchase of wool in the great wool growing states of the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast region except in the case of clips of less than 1000 pounds each. All larger clips were required to be consigned. This region produces about two-thirds of the entire wool clip of the country, which was about 257,000,000 pounds in 1918. Growers in the eastern states were urged to pool and consign their wools and many of them did so. Since the government paid the dealers a fixed commission on consigned wool excess profits could be made only on that part of the wool which they bought outright. Therefore, growers who consigned their clips should not expect to receive refunds.

Since the government control of wool has ceased the work of the department of agriculture in this connection consists only of auditing the records and accounts of approved wool dealers, the collection of any profits which they may have made in excess of those permitted under the regulations of the war industries board, and the distribution by the department of agriculture of these profits directly to the growers upon whose wool the profits were made, wherever the identity of the wool can be traced.

Permits Issued to Wool Dealers. The war industries board issued permits to about 3500 "country" dealers authorizing them to buy wool direct from the grower. Permits were also issued to 179 "distributing center" dealers who had facilities for handling wool in large quantities and most of whom were located on the eastern seaboard near the centers of wool manufacture. These larger dealers were required to handle wool on consignment from either growers or country dealers and were also permitted to buy from country dealers direct, or from growers through their agents.

Blank forms calling for a detailed accounting have been sent by the department to both classes of dealers. Reports have been received from about 3000 of the country dealers and about one-half of the dealers in distributing centers. The taking over of the wool

FRIENDS SEEK EX-ARMY MAN

WALTER BEESLEY STARTS ON FOOT THROUGH WOODS, WITH NO EQUIPMENT, AND FEAR IS FELT FOR SAFETY.

Although a search party has been out since Monday morning seeking a clue to the whereabouts of Walter Beesley of this city, who disappeared Friday, no trace of the missing man had been found this afternoon, Sheriff S. E. Roberts reported. Beesley left the home of Fred Winters, where he and his wife had been staying, and was last seen at noon Friday walking from Bend on the logging road near the Orewiler mill on the Tumalo. Friends fear that he may be temporarily unbalanced as the result of injuries received during his service with the American expeditionary forces in France.

Mr. Winters, a close friend of the missing man, states that Beesley had been unusually taciturn for several days, and that the evening before his departure he had remarked that he was going to look for work. He had had no difficulty in securing employment in Bend.

Friday morning Beesley donned a new suit of blue serge and put on a suit of coveralls, wearing his blue coat over the one-piece garment. Aside from his razor and a bottle containing an iodine preparation which he had been using, he took nothing with him. News of his being seen so far from the city, coupled with his non-appearance, led to fear for his safety, and the searchers started out this morning. Beesley enlisted from Bend early in the war, and sustained wounds in action which necessitated his remaining in an army hospital for nine months. After his discharge from the service he was married, and for some time since then had made his home in Bend with the Winters family.

SEES "DRY" WORLD

The U. S. helped Europe crush militarism, so now if national prohibition is possible at home, then world prohibition is bound to come, says Lars Larsen Ledet, foremost editor of Denmark, here to study anti-alcohol methods.

by the war department was completed so recently that many of the larger dealers have been unable to prepare their reports at an earlier date. The auditing of these reports is proceeding as rapidly as it can be done with the limited force available for assignment to this work, the department says.

To Keep The Children Well. Mrs. Amanda Flint of New Philadelphia, O., writes, "I heartily recommend Foley's Honey and Tar. It relieved my little girl of the most tickling cough. She was so badly annoyed at night I tried a great many things and found nothing to help her until I got Foley's Honey and Tar." Contains no opiates. Is best for any cold. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

ELKS PLAN ON FIRES IN FOREST KLAMATH MEET UNDER CONTROL

TO BE A CELEBRATION FOR VICTORY.

Varied Entertainment Planned, Including Barbecue, Vaudeville, Featuring Surprise Stunts and Trips Into Country.

Elks from every city and county of Oregon are making plans to leave within a few days for Klamath Falls, where the second annual convention of the Oregon State Elks' association will be held. The meeting of the antlered herd of this state will differ from its former meetings or similar affairs held in the past for numerous reasons.

In the first place, the Elks are first of all, a patriotic order, and during the war took a prominent part in war-time activities. Thousands of Elks answered the call to the arms, and the honor roll of those who made the supreme sacrifice includes many of the order's membership.

Therefore, the annual meeting will be in the form of a victory celebration, and plans for the assistance of wounded ex-service men promises to be one of the foremost topics of the business sessions.

The entertainment of the large herd of Elks and their families, many of whom will make the journey to Klamath Falls in the shape of a vacation jaunt, is likely to outshine any entertainment ever planned for a body of men and women.

The usual entertainment accorded to delegates who attended conventions in large cities will be missing, it is true, but the natural beauty of the country in southeastern Oregon will be utilized in a big outdoor frolic. An Elk barbecue will be staged on Thursday, August 15, at Harriman lodge, on the shores of White Pelican bay, and following the big feed a vaudeville will be staged in a natural amphitheatre, discovered by the Klamath Falls committee some months ago. The acts for the entertainment will be staged by each lodge of the state, in the form of surprise acts, which are to be both novel and entertaining.

Trips into the wonder spots of the Klamath country, street dances and old-fashioned carnival will be staged in Klamath Falls, and every moment of the three-day session promises to be filled with fun and frolic.

NONE BURNING IN DESCHUTES AREA AT PRESENT TIME—THREE OUTSIDE FOREST ARE UNDER CONTROL.

Officials in the office of the Deschutes forest are congratulating themselves now that there is no fire burning anywhere within the boundaries of the forest. All blazes that have started recently are completely out and the members of the summer force, while keeping up their vigilant watch for fire, are resting from the more arduous work.

Outside the forest boundaries three fires are reported as still burning, though under control. One on Brooks-Scanlon land in the vicinity of the Arnold ice caves is being patrolled and will not give further trouble unless carried by high winds. Another is on Shevlin-Hixon land near Lava butte, and the third is on state land near the Branton sawmill, in the Gist neighborhood.

FINE DAIRY HERD TO BE AUCTIONED

Complete Farm Equipment, Draft and Saddle Stock Will Be Sold at Sam M. Wood Ranch.

One of the finest herds of milking stock in the county will go under the hammer next Monday, when 25 head of Jerseys, Guernseys and Brown Swiss cattle will be auctioned at the Sam M. Wood place, near Redmond. Half of the stock are from the famous Henry McCall herd, in addition complete farm equipment will be offered, together with draft and saddle stock, poultry and swine.

Mr. Wood is selling out as he has accepted an offer from the Northwest Auto company, in Spokane, tendering him the position of salesmanager.

DOGS ONCE WERE WORSHIPED

Custom Practised in Many Countries in Past Ages—Ethiopia Had One for a Monarch.

Dog worship spread from Egypt to many other countries, where it took different forms. The Romans sacrificed dogs to Anubis, the lesser dog star, Procyon, and to Pan, and the Greeks made similar offerings to propitiate Proserpine, Mars, Hecate and other imaginary beings of whom they stood in fear, says National Geographic Magazine.

Plutarch says: "The circle which touches and separates the two hemispheres, and which on account of this division has received the name of horizon, is called Anubis. It is represented under the form of a dog because this animal watches during the day and during the night."

Out of this idea it seems there arose two mythical personages—Mercury, or Hermes, and Cerberus, the three-headed dog supposed to guard the gates of hell.

But there were humpbacks even in those days, and they humbugged the dog worshippers even as charlatans often humbug Christians today. Perhaps the limit of deception was practiced on a certain nation in Ethiopia, which is said to have been bamboozled into actually setting up a dog for its king. Clad in royal robes and with a crown upon his head, he sat upon his throne and received the homage of his subjects. He signified his approval by barking. He conferred honors upon a person by licking his hand, and a growl might condemn a man to captivity or death.

SURVEY STARTED FOR ROAD TO ELK LAKE
