The Best Evidence

There is no more convincing evidence than "to be caught with the goods."

And that is the exact position of the Cashman store. When it comes to "right up-to-the-minute" fall styles we have to plead guilty of being "caught with the goods" right in style and right in price.

We have an unusually large stock in all sizes, too.

The certainty of getting exactly what you want merits your assurance of getting what you call for here.

No matter what it is, a suit, a pair of shoes or a collar button, you'll find absolute satisfaction here.

The World at a Glance

Weeks after the German peace treaty has been ratified by a majority of the allies, and by the conquered nation as well, it still remains to be endorsed by the United States senate, and public interest throughout the world centers this week about the fight being waged by President Wilson to have the peace pact and the league of nations covenant ratified, and the opposition element in the upper house, favoring the acceptance of the treaty with a number of reservations and amendments. In forceful and sometimes abusive language, the American president is speaking in the various large cities of the United States, condemning the action of his opponents, while a speaking tour intended to counteract the effect of the executive's was started yesterday in Chicago by Senator Johnson.

On the same date, the senate, foreign affairs committee, which has been considering the treaty ever since that instrument was brought to this country from Europe, reported to the senate today, advising ratification with amendments to allow the United States the same number of votes in the league of nations council as has Great Britain and her colonies, returning the Shantung peninsula to China and halting American participation in various committees created by the league.

Also on the same date a cablegram gave the news that Austria has accepted the treaty presented to her by the allies, and which is patterned after the one which now awaits action in the American senate.

After an absence from the United States for more than two years, General Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American forces overseas, set foot on American soil Monday, and yesterday, with his first division, headed the big Victory parade staged in New York City. General Pershing has already been designated to hold his present high rank during the remainder of his lifetime.

Labor troubles are being eclipsed in the shadow of what threatens to be the greatest strike of all, a walkout of steel workers and allied trades. A conference has been refused its employees by the United States Steel corporation, and letters have been written by representatives of the union urging President Wilson to induce the employers to grant such a conference. In the meantime, heads of 24 unions are perfecting plans for the strike, and a telegram sent to President Wilson yesterday stated that the steel workers would wait only 24 hours more.

Less important, although more spectacular, is the rioting in Boston, coming as the result of the policemen's strike, which has left the city unguarded. Looting on Tuesday evening, the first night of the trouble, was estimated at $500,000. Troops are now patrolling the streets in the place of the police.

Just about once in so long Pancho Villa, most notorious and troublesome of Mexican bandit chieftains, is due to be captured—almost captured, that is—and the past week has been no exception. Surrounded in Durango by Carranzistas, his followers slaughtered or captured, and his supplies acquired by the government forces, he was considered as good as taken on Saturday. At present, however, he is apparently still at large.

it at once and begin clearing it. Rasmus Peterson was baling hay several days this week.

IMPORTANCE OF CLEANLINESS.

Everything about a poultry house should be kept reasonably clean. As a rule droppings should be removed daily, for the accumulation of excrement harbors parasites, contaminates the air, and breeds contagion. After the dropping boards have been cleaned, they should be sprinkled with road dust, coal ashes, land plaster, or air-slaked lime to absorb the liquid excrement. Nests in which straw or other similar material is used should be cleaned out and new straw put in about once every three or four days, or oftener if it becomes damp or dirty.

The quarters should be thoroughly whitewashed at least once a year, late in the summer or early in the fall. The whitewash can be made by slacking lime in boiling water and then thinning to the proper consistency for applying. The addition of 4 ounces of carbolic acid to each gallon of whitewash will increase its disinfecting power. The runs should be plowed occasionally in order to bury the accumulated droppings and also to turn up fresh soil.
