

TOURIST ROUTE BY AIR PLANNED

H. C. CHARLTON, REPRESENTING PACIFIC AIR LINE CO., VISITS BEND TO LOOK FOR GROUNDS FOR LANDING FIELD.

Representing the Pacific Air Line Co., which holds the Curtis airplane agency for Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, H. C. Charlton, for 18 months an aviation instructor in the U. S. army, visited Bend from Portland Friday in an endeavor to find a suitable landing field for machines which might make the flight to Central Oregon from the Willamette valley.

The company of which Mr. Charlton is a member now has five two passenger machines on the way from the east, he said. These planes are army flyers, and later will be replaced by large machines capable of carrying a pilot and eight passengers. By use of the larger airplanes, fares charged passengers can be greatly reduced.

Mr. Charlton intimated that Central Oregon would be visited to a considerable extent by flyers from the valley country during the winter months, because of the absence of rain. Regular runs will be made from Portland to Seattle and Tacoma, while emergency flights would be made to Bend. The passenger carrying business of the company will be emphasized from the tourist standpoint.

SILVER LAKE WILL HAVE BRANCH BANK

Stock for New Financial Institution Is Quickly Taken Up When First National Representative Visits.

SILVER LAKE, Oct. 4.—That the First National Bank of Bend contemplates opening a bank here in the near future, was made known here this week. L. M. Foss, vice-president, has been here during the week, distributing stock among local people who had expressed a desire to become financially interested in the new institution. He stated early in the week that he had placed over half the required amount, and was confident that the balance would be quickly made up.

A reinforced concrete building will be erected, and a fire-proof vault, with burglar proof safe and up-to-date furnishings, will be installed. Because of the near approach of winter it is possible that the building will not be completed this fall, but in this case a temporary home for the new bank will be secured so that business may be commenced at an early date.

FIRE PREVENTION DATES ANNOUNCED

Will Coincide with Reville Week, October 20 to 25, Is Announcement by Chief Carlson.

Although other communities throughout the United States will keep fire prevention week from October 6 to 11, inclusive, Bend's will have a fire prevention week all its own. Fire Chief Carlson declared on Friday. It will be from October 20 to 25, the dates coinciding with those of Reville Week. Signifying a waking up for Bend in the fire situation, it can be most effectively put on in connection with the big celebration planned by the American Legion. Mr. Carlson believes.

One day of Reville Week has already been set aside by the program committee, for the firemen, and on this date the department's parade will take place, and in addition, runs by the new engine, and practice drills will be put on. Many novel features are promised by the Bend fire chief.

Other announcements concerning preparations will be made later.

LIQUOR KEPT TO FIGHT INFLUENZA

Had Three Quarts Hidden from Wife J. H. Taylor Tells Court—Fine Will Go to Fire Department.

Admitting that whiskey found under his house on Greenwood avenue near Wall on last Wednesday morning was his property, J. H. Taylor pleaded guilty in police court to the charge of having three quarts in his possession, but declared that he obtained it to use as a medicine in case another epidemic of influenza should break out. He had the liquor for four months, and had hidden it under the house to prevent his wife from finding it, he said. "What I get in police court won't be a circumstance to what I'll get at home," he assured City Judge Peoples.

Because the defendant is second assistant chief in the Bend Fire Department, Judge Peoples ordered that the fine, fixed at $25, should go to the account of the special fire fund.

ASK BIDS ON $10,000 BONDS

AMOUNT NEEDED FOR KENWOOD SCHOOL.

Bend District Willing to Pay 5 Per Cent.—Painting Contractor Given Clean Bill of Health by Investigating Committee.

To take care of warrants in the sum of $10,000, issued in order to complete the new Kenwood school, the Bend school directors, in session last night authorized the clerk to advertise for bids on $10,000 worth of five per cent bonds. Bids were also asked on the construction of a one room school near Carroll acres in the southeastern part of the district. The action was taken after acceptance had been made of Mr. Carroll's offer to donate a 15 years, one-tenth of the issue to be retired at the end of the fifth year, and one-tenth each year thereafter.

After investigation complaints concerning the painting of the Kenwood school, the building committee, through its chairman, Director Nordesen, reported that the painting has been approved by architect Lee A. Thomas, and that specifications had been lived up to by the painting contractor, H. J. Bookman, with one exception. For certain work, orange shellac had been specified, but this could not be procured, and with the consent of the architect, Mr. Bookman used a wood filler of equal cost, Mr. Nordesen stated.

Formal acceptance was made by the board, on the report of the committee on teachers' salaries, providing an upward revision.

REWARD TO GO TO BEND WOMAN

MONEY CLAIMED FOR TAKING CONVICT.

Will Be Sent to Mrs. M. Keeney of This City for Part Played in Capture of D. C. Brichoux Near Here in August.

[Special to The Bulletin.]

SALEM, Oct. 2.—Mrs. M. Keeney, of Bend, today made demand on Warden Steiner for $70 offered by the state for information leading to the capture of Dave Brichoux. The Sheriff of Deschutes county also makes a claim for the reward, but the money will go to Mrs. Keeney.

D. C. Brichoux was taken into custody on Tumalo Creek, near the county fish hatchery, two weeks after he had made his escape from the state asylum at Salem, with Edward Southwick. The latter convict was never recaptured, but Brichoux was returned to the state institution on August 28, the day after he was taken into custody near here. His conviction, in Malheur county several years ago, was for murder, and he is serving a life sentence.

Convict Taken August 27.
Southwick and Brichoux came to Bend immediately after making their escape, and using Southwick's younger brother as a messenger, sought assistance from Mrs. Keeney, whom Brichoux had previously known. She, however, informed Sheriff Roberts that the two were in the vicinity of Bend, and a search was instituted to determine the exact hiding place of the convicts.

Before plans were completed for the capture of the pair, Southwick and his younger brother made their escape, heading for Nevada, it was believed. Brichoux was finally taken on the afternoon of August 27, when he went to keep an appointment with Mrs. Keeney at the Tumalo bridge, believing that he might receive assistance, but instead finding himself surrounded by a posse.

He offered no resistance, and on the same evening was taken back to Salem by State Parole Officer L. H. Compton.
