POTATO SHOW AT REDMOND ENDED

The Redmond Potato show held October 16, 17 and 18 was a decided success. Although the number of exhibits was, in some cases, not as large as had been expected, they fully made up in quality what was absent in quantity. Both the Terrebonne and Redmond schools had very good exhibits of different kinds. The Domestic Art department this year was pronounced the best ever displayed in this town. The livestock and poultry exhibits were not very large, but was of excellent quality.

Friday afternoon the parade and crowning of King Murphy was staged. Both the grades and high school classes competed for prizes of $5.00 each. Mrs. Disney's room in the grades won first place, and the senior class in high school obtained the honors. Following the crowning of the king, who this year was represented by W. N. Brown, the afternoon was devoted to street sports of all kinds, from a slow Ford race to climbing the greased pole.

Saturday afternoon was the football game between Bend and Redmond. The game was a complete victory for Bend, Redmond winning no points. However, this was the first time Redmond has entered into football for several years and this game was the first played against another team. Far from being downhearted, the Redmond boys have hopes of putting up a very strong fight in the return game with Bend. Following the game, street sports were again given. Both Friday and Saturday nights McElroy's Jazz band gave dances at the gym.
