

TRIBUTES FROM THE WORLD'S LEADERS

Work of the American Red Cross Is Praised By Noted Men.

"It is on membership more than money contributions that the stress of the present campaign is laid, for the Red Cross seeks to associate the people in welfare work throughout the land, especially in those communities where neither official nor unofficial provision has been made for adequate health and social service."—President Wilson.

"The American Red Cross is the mobilized heart and spirit of the whole American people."—Henry P. Davison.

"A magnificent spirit breathes in the American Red Cross."—Marshal Foch.

In giving prompt and efficient relief the Red Cross has won the eternal gratitude of millions of people."—General Pershing.

"It requires no organization to allow one of us as an individual to buy a dinner for a hungry man. It requires the greatest degree of organization to deal with the foe of a world. The Red Cross seems to be essentially demanded. . . . Without the Red Cross I do not know whether the world would have been able to bear the horrors and devastation of this fearful war."—Newton B. Baker.

"The Red Cross is the great Neighbor. . . . If the world is made a little more comfortable, a little happier, a little stronger for the struggle of life through its effort, the Red Cross is content."—The Secretary of the Navy.

"The Red Cross is not going to turn its back on its responsibilities."—Livingston Farrand, Chairman, Executive Committee, National Red Cross.

"I don't know what we would have done without the help of the Americans. I thank you from the bottom of my heart."—Ignace Paderewski, Premier of Poland.

"Mr. Davison has spoken to me of how the Red Cross hopes to continue work even in peace time. This is a noble enterprise. . . . Wonderful results could be obtained if all countries would join hands, especially in all questions concerning small children, tuberculosis, and sanitation in general."—Queen Marie of Rumania.

"We surely can do no better than to emulate the human and social work of our sister organization, the American Red Cross."—Signor Ciruolo, newly elected President of Italian Red Cross.

"Our heartiest thanks go out to our American friends."—Union des Femmes de France.

"The help given by the Red Cross is but another proof of the great heart and sympathy of the American people."—Prince Regent Alexander of Serbia.

"The Polish people look upon the American Red Cross as their salvation. It holds in its hands the destinies of nations. This world war has been fought in vain if there is no early restoration of normal physical and moral conditions in the newly born Republic of Poland. Poland is the keystone of the world's permanent peace."—Lieut. Col. Francis E. Frauczak.

"I wish to express to the millions of Americans, who have made the work of the American Red Cross possible, the deep gratitude of my people."—The young King Alexander of Greece.

"I have confident hope that the American Red Cross' world-wide plans for charity and mercy will be largely realized, bringing the grateful appreciation of suffering millions as a partial recompense, and a greater reward, the richest blessings of God."—Cardinal Gibbons.

"One is honored by the privilege of membership in the Red Cross, and blessed in being permitted to make any kind of contribution to its work."—William Fraser McDowell, Presiding Bishop, Methodist Episcopal Church.

"The Red Cross is America at her best. . . . Money given to the Red Cross is not an investment, nor is it a charity. It is a sacrament."—Charles A. Eaton, Pastor Fifth Ave. Baptist Church, N. Y.

"It is extraordinary what can be accomplished when a free people all unite and work together for their common good and for the good of humanity."—Cardinal Mercier.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE MENTIONED IN BIBLE

"I commend unto you Phoebe, our sister, who is a servant of the Church which is at Cenchrea," wrote St. Paul to the Romans, "that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you, for she hath been a succorer of many and of myself also."

Phoebe, explains Biblical history, was a woman who went about nursing the sick and teaching them better methods of living. Phoebe was the first public health nurse.

Public health nursing, which is one of the most important enterprises in the peace program of the American Red Cross, is not a new movement, but it is one which heretofore has never received its just meed of attention as a factor in maintaining the health of the nation.

Phoebe's sister in the twentieth century is the community nurse who teaches better, cleaner living. Because the betterment of public health is now definitely accepted as an individual and a community responsibility, the Red Cross will make a definite effort to raise the standards of living in the United States by urging the employment of public health nurses in all cities, towns and rural districts, particularly in those where there are no organized public health activities. A healthier, happier America—that is what the Red Cross is striving toward in its Roll Call the first weeks in November.

WHOLE WORLD EMULATES AMERICAN RED CROSS

With the Red Cross societies of twenty-six nations cooperating as members, the League of Red Cross Societies is now actively engaged in extending Red Cross efforts throughout the world, says a cablegram to the American Red Cross from Sir David Henderson, director-general of the league.

The membership roster now includes, the cable said, the Red Cross of the following countries: Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Cuba, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Greece, Holland, India, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, Peru, Portugal, Roumania, Serbia, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, the United States and Venezuela.

MOTHERS MUST NOT DIE. SAYS THE RED CROSS

Sixteen thousand mothers die in childbirth every year in the United States of America, more than are thus sacrificed in any other country of importance in the civilized world. The American Red Cross has announced its belief that these mothers, the very flower of the womanhood of America and heroines every one, shall no longer die through ignorance or neglect, if the public health nursing resources of the country can possibly be extended to give them the necessary care. This is one of the reasons for the Third Red Cross Roll Call which begins Sunday, November 2.

A Little Talk

About Ourselves

WE believe that we have achieved a most wonderful record in the Central Oregon automobile field this year. The season is not over by any means, and we have a great number of prospects for whom we are using every influence to get cars.

STARTING out early in the year with only two car agencies, we now have six of the well known makes of automobiles. In every one of these we are enjoying a healthy patronage. Starting out with one tire agency, we now are handling five well known makes of tires.

Our Success We Believe is Attributable to These Things:

- 1—Giving our personal attention to the prospective customers' needs.
- 2—Using every means possible in dealing with distributors to obtain delivery of cars at the earliest possible date.
- 3—Assisting the purchaser in knowing his car so that he will be put to the least possible inconvenience and trouble due to inexperience.
- 4—Giving the purchaser service on his car after he has purchased it from us.
- 5—Absolutely backing up our "make good" guarantee on tires to the absolute satisfaction of the customer.
- 6—Being always on the job to attend to the wants of the automobile owner whether the car came originally through us or not.

There is a big year coming in the automobile world in 1920. We are going to be a part of the big year. You may not have felt in a position to get that new car this year—but feel certain of next year. With any of these—ESSEX, HUDSON, VELIE, CROW-ELKHART, WILLYS-OVERLAND, CHALMERS—we feel certain we will have the cars that will satisfy completely the wants of the Central Oregon buying public.

You may postpone now the purchase, but remember when the spring season opens we want you to take into full consideration these cars.

We feel that on the records of our achievement this year that we are entitled to say that we are
