FORTY-NINERS ARE DISTURBED

GLASS THROWING IN DANCE TENT FOUND COSTLY—MYSTERIOUS BOTTLE EXCITES NIXON'S CURIOSITY.

A "49 show" should have a little real excitement at least once in a while. Bill James and Ed Clark believed, and they proceeded to start things in the dance tent at the lower end of the carnival grounds Saturday night. Glasses in which soft drinks were served proved convenient missiles, and others joined in. Clark and James were escorted to jail by special officer Willard Houston, and charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

On Monday they assured Judge Peoples that they had been disorderly, extremely disorderly in fact, but that they had touched no liquor. The intoxication of the dance was the stimulus which had resulted in their unusual feeling of exhilaration, they said. A fine of $20 each was assessed by the court.

E. L. Carr had a large bulge in his hip pocket Saturday night when he was seen by Chief of Police Nixon. Investigation proved that it was a bottle, but Carr had not the slightest idea of what the flask contained, he told the chief. He had found it, and was carrying it home for experimental purposes. His trial, on a charge of having liquor in his possession, was being held this afternoon.

Another episode of Saturday night, was the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ekstrom at the jazz dance at the gymnasium, by Officer Houston. Details as to just how it happened are hazy, except that a warning as to allegedly improper dancing was given, but Ekstrom is charged with resisting an officer in the performance of her duty, while Mrs. Ekstrom is charged with resisting an officer in the performance of his duty.

MISS DOWNING WINS CONTEST

POPULARITY RACE ENDS WITH MISS DORA GILLIS SECOND AND MISS FERN ALLEN IN THIRD PLACE.

Miss Florence Downing, was first in the Reville popular girl contest at the official count Saturday night. Miss Dora Gillis was second and Miss Fern Allen third. Miss Downing won the La Vallier, Miss Gillis the Ivory dresser set and Miss Allen the camera and six rolls of films. Orders on the various merchants that had furnished the prizes were issued at the conclusion of the count.

The contest was one of the most interesting features of the week. While there was a great deal of rivalry it was of the very friendly kind, and some of the contestants who were active at the beginning turned their efforts to the advantage of friends that were also in the contest. When the vote was about half completed the contestants who were watching the count told the tally keepers to keep on working as they were "going to the dance". Following the Saturday night count the votes were again counted Sunday morning as a matter of precaution.

The three highest girls, Miss Downing, Miss Gillis and Miss Allen, want to thank those who so generously assisted in the piling up of votes as well as those who bought tickets. The young ladies assure their friends that the assistance was appreciated. On behalf of the Percy A. Stevens post, American Legion, Gene Comstock, who had charge of the contest extends to every person interested assurance of appreciation of their assistance. The vote for the three highest follows:

Miss Florence Downing.....1694
Miss Dora Gillis.....1584
Miss Fern Allen.....1515

URGES EXAMINATIONS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Lungs Attacked by Gas Especially Susceptible to Tuberculosis Infection, Says Miss Cronen.

All men who were gassed during the war should have medical examination, even if they consider themselves to be entirely recovered, is the belief of Miss Mary E. Cronen, representative of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, now in the city on an official trip to this section. The lung tissues which have been attacked by the poisonous vapors used by the Germans are rendered more susceptible to tuberculosis infection, and the disease should be given no opportunity to gain a dangerous start, Miss Cronen says. Miss Cronen is one of the few women members of the American Legion, belonging to the organization by virtue of 10 months service in the front line in the western war zone.

FALL FEEDING OF DAIRY COWS.

The wise dairyman will feed liberally during the fall months. Cows which are not well fed at this time will go into the winter thin in flesh and with reduced milk flow. It will be expensive and largely in vain to attempt to bring them back to normal flow after they go on winter rations.

It will pay to begin feeding silage and hay early. The extra feed given at this time will not only bring good, immediate returns, but affect the milk flow for the whole year by putting the cow in good condition to go through the winter months. Cows which go into winter in good vitality, and with undiminished milk flow, are the ones which will make most economical use of the high-priced feeds given them during the fall months by proper feeding. It will pay. Cold, uncomfortable cows will not make economical use of feed. Their highly developed nervous systems are very susceptible to sudden changes in temperature. This should be borne in mind in the fall, when the first cold rains and cold winds come. Protection from these will prevent the reduction in milk flow which they always cause. Do not waste feed by letting cows stand out in cold winds and rain.
