Are Ladies Afraid of Reasonable Prices?

(A business editorial intended to inform the lady purchaser of Central Oregon that a reasonable price for merchandise does not mean inferior quality.)

PRICES

The word prices is the watchword of every household in America today. Housewives keep in constant touch with them. She has come almost to believe that in order to obtain quality merchandise she must pay the top price.

It is not fair that this impression should go broadcast. The methods a merchant employs in buying and selling determine, in a great measure, the selling price of an article after it leaves the producer or manufacturer.

WE WANT EVERY LADY TO KNOW

Our methods of buying directly from the manufacturer through a thoroughly competent and experienced buyer who knows the market, understands fabrics and can appreciate values, eliminates the jobber. Our goods come direct from the manufacturer.

Buying and selling for cash reduces, in a great measure, the cost of doing business, which advantage comes in cutting the selling price of our merchandise.

Our prices have been so reasonable that ladies who have come into our store after seeing other merchandise of similar quality believe at first sight that our merchandise is inferior. But after thorough inspection they have come to be convinced that it is only a matter of better values at a more reasonable price.

To the lady who is not one of our customers we feel certain that we have the merchandise you want at the price you feel able to pay.

CROP PROSPECTS IN NORTHWEST BETTER

Farmers throughout the northwest are beginning to pin their faith to winter grain, according to J. T. Hardy, travelling freight and passenger agent for the Oregon Trunk railroad, who was in Bend Monday on one of his regular business trips to this section. Because of failures of spring sown grain, a much larger acreage is in fall wheat than ever before, Mr. Hardy says.

The car supply is still somewhat less than the demand, but crops are largely threshed and under cover, Mr. Hardy states. Mention of the coal strike failed to worry him. "We're burning oil you know," he said.
