

DUTY OF WATER WILL BE FIXED

WORK IN CHARGE OF W. L. POWERS

O. A. C. Man to Visit Central Oregon Next Week to Make Preparations for Extensive Irrigation Survey This Summer.

Preparation for a series of irrigation experiments having as their object the fixing of the duty of water in Central Oregon with particular reference to the lands included in the C. O. I. segregation, will be made this week by W. L. Powers of the Oregon Agricultural college, a letter received by DeArmond & Erskine, attorneys for the Central Oregon Irrigation district, states. Mr. Powers will arrive in Redmond on Monday, March 22, and will work toward Bend, expecting to arrive here on Thursday.

The experiments will be conducted on a large scale, and the chief purpose of Mr. Powers in his trip this week, will be to select a number of tracts, some as large as 40 acres, on which the work can be done. Practical demonstrations of irrigation methods will be included in the irrigation investigations.

"We are attempting to make a general soil map of the districts while there," Mr. Powers writes, in reference to the work to be done this summer, "and will be especially interested in locating any coarse areas having cinders or gravel in the sub-soil. Our funds will permit us to maintain one full time field agent during the irrigation season."

Mr. DeArmond, on the advice of Mr. Powers, has written to the federal department of agriculture asking for government cooperation in the work to be undertaken.

RANCH NEAR SISTERS SOLD BY G. W. FOSTER

G. W. Foster, former proprietor of the Wright Hotel, who has been ranching in the Sisters country for the better part of the past year, has sold his holdings consisting of 240 acres, and 50 head of cattle, to Fred Adkins, for a consideration of $11,000. The ranch is partly irrigated, with 50 acres under cultivation. Mr. and Mrs. Foster have moved into Bend, and are making their home at 229 Georgia avenue. The house in which they now reside was purchased from J. M. Lawrence.

Friends Notice a Big Change in Her

Was Almost a Nervous Wreck When She Began Taking Tanlac. Gains Thirteen Pounds.

"Since I began taking Tanlac I have gained thirteen pounds in weight and my general health has improved so much all my friends remark on how well I look," said Mrs. B. M. Lichtenberg, who resides at 4420 Forty-first St., South Seattle, Wash., recently. Continuing, she said:

"For years and years I have suffered with nervousness and finally became so badly run down I was on the verge of a complete nervous breakdown. The least little excitement or noise out of the ordinary would upset me and it would be hours before I could compose myself. I could get but little sleep and night after night I would lie awake all night long and just roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other, and would get up in the morning feeling a great deal worse than when I went to bed and, in spite of all I could do, I just kept getting weaker and weaker. I was also troubled a great deal with my stomach. I had a very poor appetite, and when I did manage to force down a little something it would sour and I would bloat terribly from gas and would have such intense pains in my stomach after each meal I could hardly stand them. I lost so much in weight, was so badly run down I just had to drag around, and it was with the greatest difficulty I managed to do my housework.

"I had read a great deal about Tanlac helping others and decided to try it, too, and I noticed an improvement in my condition almost as soon as I began taking it. At this time I took a trip East and, as Tanlac had not been put on sale at that time where I was visiting, I had the druggist order me some from the manufacturers, as I did not want to miss a single dose for fear of losing the benefits I had already received from it. Well, I continued taking it and kept getting better all the time, until now I have a fine appetite and can eat anything I want without suffering any bad after effects. I am never troubled with pains or gas and the improvement in my nervous condition is simply wonderful. I have gained my strength so that my housework is simply a pleasure to me. To see me now, one would not think that only a few months ago I was almost a complete nervous wreck. I think Tanlac is a remarkable medicine and I tell everybody I get a chance about it."

Tanlac is sold in Bend by Owl Drug Co., in Sisters by George F. Aitken, and in Bend by Horton Drug Co.
