SON IS PITTED AGAINST SIRE

The first suit to be brought to a conclusion in the April term of the Deschutes County Circuit court was completed Tuesday, when the jury brought in a verdict, signed by 10 members, for the defendant in the case of Lela Usher vs. W. A. Beaver. The suit was for the recovery of five head of cattle, and as the stock had already been replevined by the plaintiff, the verdict carries with it an order for the return of the cattle or their equivalent in value, $470. Early in the trial it developed that the case was as much between the two star witnesses for the defense, W. H. H. Williams for the plaintiff, and his son, William Williams for the defendant, as between the nominal principals in the bearing. Father and son each claimed previous ownership of the cattle, and each testified to having made the sale Mr. Williams stating that he had sold them to Mr. Beaver in October, while his son told of selling them to the defendant in July of last year.

Lizards Victims of Curiosity.

Little boys of the Orient often capture lizards by catering to their curiosity. When one of them spies a lizard that has scurried into a crevice he makes a slipknot of colored straw and holds it before the hole. After a time he is rewarded by seeing the tiny creature coming out to examine the curious thing before its den and later it actually puts its head into the noose, which is quickly drawn together by the watchful boy.
