PARK ISSUE TO BE VOTED UPON BY THE PEOPLE

Although no vote was taken on the question of placing a $21,000 park bond issue on the ballot at the primaries, an informal expression of opinion by members of the Bend City Council at their regular meeting Friday insures this being done. It is probable that a special meeting of the council will be held at an early date in order that an ordinance for such an expenditure may be placed before the voters.

The question was definitely brought before the council when a delegation composed of Mrs. C. P. Niswonger, Mrs. A. Whisnant, Mrs. Ralph Spencer, and Mrs. J. F. Arnold, from the Women's Civic Improvement league, with A. Whisnant as their spokesman, appeared in the early part of the session. It was explained that a 60 day option had been given by the Bend Company for its vacant tract on the east side of the river, which City Robert B. Gould estimated to contain between 12 and 13 acres. The Bend Company's proposition includes an expression of willingness to accept the city's bonds at par in payment for the park site.

Daylight Saving Loses.

Carl A. Johnson, of the Community Clearing House league, was in attendance, and suggested a children's play ground in connection with the park in case the needed bond is issued.

Bend will continue to observe standard time, the council decided when the recently introduced "daylight saving" ordinance came up for its second reading.

"I move that it be placed in the waste basket," Councilman Magee urged, and to the waste basket the ordinance was consigned.

The council passed, under an emergency clause, the ordinance providing for the impounding of animals and poultry and for the appointment of a deputy poundmaster and meat inspector.

W. B. Crawford was appointed to the newly created position, the appointment to take effect the first of May. An ordinance forbidding the construction of so-called bracket chimneys was held over until it can be compared with a model ordinance sent in by the bureau.

BUYER OF BEAVER PELTS FINED $50

A charge involving the buying and selling of beaver skins was answered in justice court in Prineville yesterday by a plea of guilty on the part of J. A. Stein, Portland fur buyer, defendant, Game Warden H. McDonald reported this morning. A fine of $50, with costs of $2.50, was collected.

Stein had made two shipments of beaver pelts, one of six skins to Chicago, and one of two to Denver, according to information secured by Mr. McDonald. The case was of two years' standing.

FILINGS MADE FOR PRIMARIES

With the time rapidly drawing to a close in which political aspirants may enter the race for office, filings and declarations are coming with increasing rapidity, and no less than four formal entries for the May primaries were reported at the office of the county clerk on Thursday. In addition, J. D. Davidson, whose name has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the republican nomination for county clerk, announced definitely this morning that he would ask the nomination, and that his petition would be filed at an early date.

Of the new filings reported last Thursday, two are republicans and two are democrats. Of the former C. P. Niswonger desires reelection as coroner, and Charles Carroll asks the republican nomination for county commissioner to succeed Seth Stookey. The democrats are R. H. Fox, who desires nomination for sheriff, and M. W. Knickerbocker who is the sole representative of his party seeking a place on the ticket at the general election for commissioner.

STOCK CONDITIONS GOOD IN DESCHUTES

Lake County Facing Hay Shortage, With no Crop on Swamp Lands, Reports Bend Banker.

While conditions in Bend and Deschutes county are regarded as favorable, a pessimistic view is taken of the hay and livestock situation in northern Lake county by an unnamed Bend banker, quoted in the spring business digest issued by the United States National bank of Portland. The report follows:

"In and around Bend our conditions for spring and summer range are very favorable, as we have been having late snows and there appears to be enough snow in the mountains to warrant this belief. Will have at least 15 per cent more hay than last year here; but have just returned from a trip into northern Lake county, and the range there is going to be very short. There is going to be practically a hay failure, except upon the irrigated lands in that part. The swamp lands will not cut any hay, owing to the lack of snow in the mountains this year. There have been very few of the cattlemen who have any more than broken even during their 1919 operations. Their stock has not gone through the winter in as good condition as in the past. They account for this a good deal owing to the heavy storms, which caught them unawares, and the late and backward spring. Our local Deschutes county conditions, I believe, are the best they have been in the last three years. Our farmers and merchants are in a prosperous condition and the general workers of the mills are saving their money and purchasing homes, and are very well contented."

FIGHT FANS FORESEE BITTER RING BATTLE

Despite the generalship and all around fighting ability displayed by Ted Hoke, of Portland, in his recent battle here with Frankie Warren, a strong contingent of local fans is backing Speck Woods, of Bend, to beat the Portlander in their 10 round main event here Monday night at the Hippodrome. The fact that they will fight at catch weights will give Woods some seven pounds the advantage of his hard hitting adversary, while it is generally admitted that Woods will be much stronger than in his combat with Weldon Wing, when he was weakened by training off real muscle in order to make weight. The long rivalry existing between the two since the time they were both in the ring in Bend, has never been definitely settled, and fight enthusiasts are looking forward to a finish scrap.

Kid Taylor, fighting at 12 pounds in the second preliminary, will meet one of the best coast boys of his weight in Jimmy Duffy. The bout is scheduled for eight rounds, and the kid will have the task of his young life when he endeavors to overcome the advantage which several years of experience have given the visitor. For the first preliminary, Albion Christensen and George Rowe, both of Bend, will four three minute rounds at catch weights.

"It Does the Work" Waring Declares

Has Gained Twenty-Five Pounds And Feels Fine Since Taking Tanlac.

"I know what I am talking about when I say there is one medicine that will do everything they say it will, and that's Tanlac," was the enthusiastic statement made recently by Frank Waring, a well-known ranchman living at Squamish, Washington, a town twelve miles from Seattle.

"I gave Tanlac a fair trial," continued Mr. Waring, "and I want to tell the world that it did the work. Several years ago my health broke down and since that time I suffered so much that I hardly knew what it was to be free from pain. I had indigestion so bad that I did not care to eat, for I knew if I did it would cause me misery afterwards. The little I forced down soured on my stomach and bloated me up with gas so bad that I felt nauseated and miserable. I had rheumatism in my shoulders and right arm so that I had no use of my arm and it was impossible for me to pick up anything to work with. My kidneys were all out of order, and my back was weak and pained me so bad that if I stooped over it was agony for me to try to straighten back up again. I was badly constipated and subject to severe headache spells. My nerves were all on edge and when I went to bed I would roll and toss nearly all night long and could hardly get any sleep at all. I was terribly run-down, too weak to do a day's work and never thought I would see a well day again."

"Several of my neighbors were taking Tanlac with such fine results that I started taking it myself, and in no time I began to feel better. My appetite came back, and as everything I ate agreed with me I started gaining in weight and strength. My digestion was never better and the gas has stopped forming on my stomach. I am no longer constipated and don't know what it is to have a headache. The rheumatism in my arms and shoulders has left me completely and I can use my arms as good as I ever could. My kidneys are in fine condition and the pains in my back have all disappeared, and I can now do as big a day's work as any man. My nerves are as steady as a clock and at night I sleep like a log, and when morning comes I get up feeling just fine. I have gained twenty-five pounds in weight, am in better health than I have been in years and I can never say too much for Tanlac."

"Tanlac is sold in Bend by Owl Drug Co., in Sisters by George F. Aitken, and in Bend by Horton Horton Drug Co."

Bend became headquarters Friday for a deputy district game warden, when H. McDonald, of Medford, formerly traveling deputy out of Portland, arrived to take charge of the work in Central Oregon. Mr. McDonald will have his offices, at least temporarily, with Forest Supervisor N. G. Jacobson, and will have as his territory all of Deschutes, Crook, Jefferson, and Wheeler counties, northern Lake and Klamath counties, and parts of Harney and Grant.

Mr. McDonald, who has for years held the position of deputy district fish and game warden in this part of the state, will continue in charge of fish ladder work.

SCHOOL BILL URGED BY SUPRINTENDENT

The importance of the two mill school tax bill and of the higher education millage bill, which will come before the people at the May primaries, was emphasized Thursday by County School Superintendent J. Alton Thompson, who declares that from the standpoint of school administration, both are necessary to insure a sufficient number of properly trained instructors.

The two mill tax, he pointed out, will make possible adequate compensation for teachers in the rural district, while proper support of the state university, the Oregon Agricultural college, and the Monmouth Normal, is needed to provide the needed facilities for the training of educators.
