POOR HATCHES IN INCUBATOR

Carelessness in Manipulation of Machine is Sure to Bring Disastrous Results.

Many causes for poor hatches of chicks in incubators can be traced to the operators not educating themselves on what is necessary in the way of fertile eggs, saving eggs for incubation and taking care of them. Eggs for incubation should be kept in a well ventilated room with medium temperature. All eggs should be turned at least once every 24 hours, and no eggs should be over ten days or two weeks old at the outside.

One should be careful to strictly follow the directions accompanying the incubator. The directions for one make of machine do not always do for that of another make, for the ventilation, regulation, etc., may be different.

The principal reason why young chicks die in the shell about the eighteenth day is a poorly ventilated room.

Other causes than poorly ventilated rooms are poorly ventilated incubators, and eggs are not properly fertilized. An egg poorly fertilized will start to grow and die for lack of vitality. Opening up the incubator during the latter part of the hatch, or about the time the chicks begin to pip, lets out the moisture and dries the chicken up in the shell, or, in other words, stops the pores of the shell, and causes a great many to die. Under no condition should the incubator be opened after the eighteenth day until the chicks are entirely hatched.

As a rule, beginners with incubators do not read the book of directions properly. Many a person who has seen an incubator, and probably run a hatch of some other make thinks he knows all about it, does not read the directions and makes a flat failure every time. Sometimes no consideration is given to the ventilation of the room in which the machine is placed. Possibly there may be decayed vegetables therein, or the air is stale.

There are few failures nowadays by poorly regulated incubators, except in the cheaper line of machines where the temperature will change 10, 12 and 15 degrees. One point I have noticed here at home by having a green hand set an incubator, says a writer in an exchange. He reads the directions, maybe thinks he has learned them by heart, sets his regulator as soon as the thermometer gets to 103, turns the thumb screw where he supposes is right, and places the eggs in the machine.

Now, the thumb screw and regulator is a very tender affair, and one turn of the thumb screw will cause a change in the atmosphere inside the incubator of three to four degrees. It should be turned slightly, about one-fourth of the way round, so the temperature stands just at 103.

A great mistake is made by paying

DAN REE MAKES 27 POUND GAIN

Bend, Oregon, Man in Bad Shape Takes Tanlac and Feels Like New Man, Now.

I have actually gained twenty-seven pounds in weight and feel just like a new man since I began taking Tanlac," said Dan Reed, a woodman, who lived at Bend, Ore., while in the Owl drug store recently. Continuing he said:

"Some time ago I began to have trouble with my stomach. My appetite became very poor, and I finally got to where I would have to force down every mouthful I ate, and when I did this I would suffer with intense cramping pains in my stomach afterward. I would also bloat something awful and my heart would palpitate terribly and it would be all I could do to get my breath. I lost so much weight that I finally became so weak I could hardly drag myself around. When I got up in the morning I always felt worse than when I went to bed, and I had no energy and just felt tired and worn out all the time.

"I had been reading so much about Tanlac in the newspapers and the good it was doing others I decided to give it a trial, and it commenced to help me almost at once. My appetite improved and I began to pick up in weight and strength. I have taken seven bottles in all now, and am glad to say I have been completely relieved of all my troubles. I can eat anything I want without suffering any bad effects and all that tired, wornout feeling has gone. I can sleep all night long without waking and always get up in the morning feeling ready for my day's work, and while the job of a woodman naturally requires a great deal of physical strength I can do as much as I ever did. Tanlac did me a great service in restoring my health, and I am always glad to tell others about it, and never miss an opportunity to do so."

"Tanlac is sold in Bend by Owl Drug Co., in Sisters by George P. Aiken and in Bend by Horton Drug Co."

too much attention to an incubator. I never see to my machine more than twice a day, once in the morning and once in the evening. I see that the regulator is set properly and everything running nicely before putting in the eggs, and then place the eggs in it and do not touch the regulator. At first it will lower the temperature a little when the eggs are put in, but if the regulator is properly set, the temperature will rise to the proper degree.

The Mind of a Woman.

"A woman is more religious than a man," says Dr. A. T. Schofield in "The Mind of a Woman." There is more of the emotional and the mystic. Women, being more emotional than men, are pre-eminent in the spiritual life, for love is their nature more than it is that of men.

Lives Up to the Symptoms.

"You can nearly always tell a man who is suffering from this 'unrest,'" said Jud Tunkins, "by the way he manages to put in more time resting than anyone else in the neighborhood."

Poor Time Ahead.

Mother was going to take Billy visiting with her, so while dressing him she said: "You must be good today, exceptionally good, because Aunt Hattie is going to be there and she doesn't like noisy boys." "O, gee," said the youngster, "I see where I'm going to have a rotten time."

Census Data Grow.

The statistics of the first census of the United States were published in one small volume consisting of 56 pages. The statistics of the 1910 census required 12 volumes having more than 40,000 pages.
