It is noted in the "Crop Report Special" issued by the government for the state of Oregon, June 8, that Crook county leads the state in acreage, compared with last year, on spring wheat, oats and barley. This is largely due to the fine work being done on the Big Ochoco project and in other irrigated sections. The present fine rain that seems to be general all over the county will help the dry farms and a big year is expected.

On the big potato project managed by S. D. Mustard and his associates, the work goes steadily on. About 250 acres have been cleared and half that amount plowed. There are at present something like 10 men employed there. They have been somewhat slow in planting because of the ground being too wet (after irrigating) to plow. The planters keep right up to the plow all the time. About 1500 sacks of seed potatoes will be used this, of which the most are Nettle Gams, with a small amount of Burbanks.

Grandma Spray, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Mary V. Charlton, celebrated her 86th birthday anniversary June 15. She is in fairly good health and walks a quarter of a mile to Community hall to attend Sunday school every Sunday. She went to the polls and voted at the primaries. She is an ardent republican and can remember the birth of the party. For many years she was an active worker in the Women's Christian Temperance union and holds a life membership in that organization. She hopes to be able to cast a ballot for Harding and Coolidge in November.

OBITUARY

Mrs. H. E. Falconer passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Hobson, of Tumalo, May 14, 1920.

Mr. and Mrs. Falconer came from Lake Preston, S. D., in April, expecting to make their home somewhere in the west, when they were both taken ill with the flu.

Mrs. A. Benn of Portland, Ore., was also with her mother during her illness. The Bend chapter of the Eastern Star held short services at the home and the body was laid to rest in Rose City cemetery, Portland. Another dear mother has gone to her rest.

With the honor and love of the souls she has blest;

As a wife and a mother and a friend good and true;

She was kind, dear and faithful to me and to you.

We see her sweet face in the roses she loved;

In the beauties around us, below and above;

In a thousand dear ways we remember her charm;

And thoughts of her always will shield us from harm.

BLACKSMITH KICKED IN HEAD BY A HORSE

ter part of last Wednesday afternoon, when he was kicked in the head by a vicious horse at The Shevlin-Hixon Lumber company's blacksmith shop, Henry Jonas has excellent chance of recovery. He is at the lumbermen's hospital, where he was taken after being injured. While no detailed examination had been made, it was reported that there was no indication of cranial fracture, and that the chief danger might be from concussion of the brain.

When the horse was brought into the shop for shoeing Wednesday, Jonas was advised to rop him, as the animal had a bad record. The advice was disregarded, however, and a moment later the blacksmith was kicked across the shop. He was unconscious when lifted from the ground and it was feared at the time that his injuries might prove fatal.

Saving Money on $8.50 a Week

No matter how small your income, it is possible to save a regular, definite sum. The first dollar out of the weekly pay envelope is the easiest one to save. If you can't save that dollar you can't save any dollar.

The owner of a chain of retail stores reaching from coast to coast started on a salary of $8.50 a week. He demonstrated that he was destined for success by saving a definite part of that $8.50 each and every week.

You can do the same; you can save if you make the same decision he did.

Make pay day your banking day.
