AGED MAN IS FOUND DEAD

CHARLES GREN DIES WHILE RESTING FROM MORNING'S LABORS—WAS PORTER FOR YEARS AT THE COZY HOTEL.

Charles Gren, aged 76 years, porter at the Cozy hotel, was found dead in his cabin near the railroad tracks early Monday evening by James Smith, hotel clerk.

Heart failure, due to old age and a rheumatic affection, was given as the cause of death.

Gren left the hotel shortly after 1 o'clock shortly after eating dinner, and started for his cabin. He was apparently feeling fairly well, although his health had not been of the best for several weeks past.

According to his schedule, which he had always followed closely, he was due to return to the hotel at 4 o'clock, and, when he failed to arrive by 8 o'clock, Mr. Smith set out in search of him. He found Gren lying on his bed, and it is believed that the old man died quietly and without pain while resting from his morning's labors.

DAIRYMAN IS FINED FOR WATERING MILK

Tom Merchant Pleads Guilty to Charge of Inspectors Based on Chemists' Analysis.

Tom Merchant, dairyman, pleaded guilty in justice court on Tuesday to the charge of watering milk and paid a fine of $25, with costs, imposed by Judge J. A. Eastes. Merchant maintained that he had not sold water in the guise of milk, but stated that pleading guilty was the quickest way to end the trouble.

The case came into court as the result of the activities of W. B. Duncan and F. M. Phillips, dairy and food inspectors, who have been at work in and near Bend for several days past. Of 25 samples of milk and dairy products taken for analysis in Bend and on nearby dairy farms, 24 were passed by the state chemist, but the report on Merchant's milk included the comment, "Badly watered."

BARNYARD HENS SIT ON PHEASANT EGGS

Appeal Made in Bulletin For Foster Mothers For Unborn Chicks, Brings Quick Results.

As the result of an appeal made recently through the columns of The Bulletin, D. H. Peoples, who has been caring for a shipment of Chinese pheasants sent the Bend Rod & Gun club by the state game commission this spring, now has three hens industriously working to hatch four dozen eggs laid by the wildfowl while in captivity.

Sportsmen who owned setting hens saw in The Bulletin Mr. Peoples' request for foster mothers for unborn pheasant chicks and removed the hens from their own eggs to cover those with which the pheasants refused to be bothered.

In another day or two Mr. Peoples will turn the pheasants loose in the fields near Bend, where, in a natural environment, they will nest in their own way, he believes.

U.S. INSURANCE IS EXPLAINED

REINSTATEMENT OF LAPSED POLICIES IS ADVISED BY REPRESENTATIVE OF OLD LINE COMPANY.

The liberal features of war risk insurance, the advisability of reinstatement where policies have been allowed to lapse, and the possibilities of conversion from the term form of policy issued during the war were explained Thursday to members of Percy A. Stevens post, American legion, by Ashley Forrest, Bend representative of the Oregon Life.

Mr. Forrest emphasized the point that the time for reinstatement will end on July 1, and urged the ex-service men to take advantage of the government's offer before it is.

What the Red Cross is doing to aid former soldiers, sailors and marines in obtaining vocational training, disability pay and insurance was told by Mrs. V. A. Forbes, secretary of the home service section of the Bend chapter. She declared that, in spite of the red tape which must sometimes be severed, every man who has anything coming from the government can usually get it. She offered the assistance of the Red Cross at all times.

Frank R. Prince, finance officer of the post, reported on his trip to Portland last week, where he attended a conference of post representatives on the questions of vocational training, rehabilitation, insurance and kindred subjects.

PRIMARY WINNINGS GO TO PARK FUND

The city park fund was enriched to the extent of $2 today when Carl A. Johnson deposited the amount with The Bulletin to be turned over for park improvement purposes. His success in picking winners at the Oregon primaries was responsible for the sum, he explained.

FIREMEN COMMENCE BUILDING OF CABIN

Elk Lake Picked as Ideal Headquarters For Members of Department on Vacation Trips.

Work was started on the log cabin to be built at Elk lake by the Bend volunteer fire department on Sunday, when 10 members of the department felled the trees and peeled a sufficient number of logs to complete the structure.

Elk lake was chosen by the department for the location of its lodge on account of its wonderful sporting possibilities. The best of fishing all during the entire season, wildfowl, deer and bear hunting are all in easy reach of a cabin on the shores of this lake. Central Oregon is widely known to possess some of the most beautiful scenery that nature has placed in America, and Elk lake is considered among its most beautiful spots. Three snow-capped mountains encircle a body of water a mile and a half across, clear as crystal, and, from a distance, a beautiful green, just a shade lighter than the heavy foliage that surrounds it. It is the intention of the members of the department to return to the lake next Sunday and complete the cabin.

CAMPERS ARRESTED FOR LEAVING FIRE

Portland Men Apprehended After Quitting Elk Lake Camp—Supervisor Condemns Carelessness.

Arrested on June 16 by William Sproat of the forest service, E. S. and R. W. Ketchum and J. H. and F. E. Mountain, all of Portland, continued on their way after leaving behind them a check for $25, the price of leaving a campfire burning at Elk lake.

The fire was found by Supervisor N. G. Jacobson, who immediately hurried to the phone station at Lava lake and called up the Bend office, with the result that the campers were apprehended.

A determined campaign will be made from now on to enforce the law against leaving fires unextinguished. Mr. Jacobson declares. The fact that the forest fire season is just beginning, he points out, renders it imperative that the service have the unqualified cooperation of all those coming within the forest boundaries.

Saving Money on $8.50 a Week

No matter how small your income, it is possible to save a regular, definite sum. The first dollar out of the weekly pay envelope is the easiest one to save. If you can't save that dollar you can't save any, dollar.

The owner of a chain of retail stores reaching from coast to coast started on a salary of $8.50 a week. He demonstrated that he was destined for success by saving a definite part of that $8.50 each and every week.

You can do the same; you can save if you make the same decision he did. Make pay day your banking day.
