To Open Scenic Wonders,

There is a growing desire among easterners to see the scenic wonders of the west coast of America," Congressman Hawley declared in commenting on the proposed road construction. "Until very recently the best of our scenery has been securely locked away from the tourist. We must emulate the example set by Colorado and make these scenic wonders accessible. We cannot afford not to do so."

The trip over the pass was by no means so difficult as had been expected, members of the party reported. At times the pathfinders got out of their cars and pushed, but no need was found for the a towing in case of an emergency.
