

PORTLAND MEN WARN AGAINST INTEREST BILL

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE DENOUNCED

BUSINESS IS ALARMED

Five Per Cent Money Would Mean No Money At All, Declares Frank Gollehur—Non-Partisan to Start In Oregon On November 15.

Warnings against the 5 per cent interest rate bill and the Non-Partisan league were sounded in Bend by Lloyd Riches, secretary of the state editorial association, and Frank Gollehur of the State Taxpayers' league, who spoke at the regular weekly luncheon of the Bend Commercial club at the Pilot Butte Inn. Gollehur told his hearers that passage of the measure limiting the legal rate of interest in Oregon to 4 and 5 per cent would mean commercial paralysis to the state. He said Portland business interests had become alarmed recently when it was learned that plans were being laid to circularize the entire state by some organization in favor of the measure.

He said that there was not much fear that the bill would pass, providing the voters know that 5 per cent money would mean no money at all. However, he stated, to offset the damage which had been done to the state by reason of the fact that the bill had been put on the ballot, every attempt would be made to snuff the bill under by an overwhelming vote. Riches urged that a local organization be effected to conduct a campaign of education among the voters of the county to insure a thorough knowledge of the perniciousness of the measure before the fall election. Riches, speaking of the Non-Partisan league, said that it was a menace knocking at the door of Oregon and that it must be met, and met effectively, if the state were to be saved from a fate similar to that of North Dakota and other states where the movement had been successful. He outlined the growth of the league and stated that it would begin its active campaign in Oregon November 15.

At the suggestion of President McPherson the club postponed until its next business meeting the matter of completing an organization to oppose the interest rate bill and also to oppose the Non-Partisan league activity.

SOUTHWORTH GARAGE INSTALLS GAS TANK

New Auto Salesrooms on Bond Street Making Exclusive Showing of the Oldsmobile.

Installation of a 300-gallon gasoline tank was completed Thursday at the Southworth Bros garage on Bond street, between Franklin and Minnesota. The new auto salesrooms opened at the former site of the Bend garage are devoted entirely to a showing of the Oldsmobile in six and eight-cylinder touring cars and roadsters, with a truck as the last arrival.

A healthy demand for the Oldsmobile has already been evidenced in Bend, reports Roy Southworth.

ONE REQUEST MADE FOR LOWER TAXES

Bend Flour Mills Wants Reduction In Assessed Valuation, Attorney Tells Equalization Board.

In four days' time only one application for a reduction in assessed valuations was made to the county board of equalization, W. T. Mullarky, member of the board, reported on Thursday. The request was made by Ross Farnham, appearing for the Bend Flour Mills Co., the assessed valuation of which property is $10,500. Mr. Farnham named no specific amount in asking for a reduction and no action has as yet been taken by the board.

To Destroy Red Ants. Soak a sponge in sweetened water, wring and place where the ants have easy access to it. They will swarm over it and through it. Drop the sponge in boiling water and repeat the operation until the colony becomes alarmed at the loss of its workers and abandons the premises.

Bend Boy Smiles Through Illness; Death Ends Pain

Clifton W. McCuiston, little son of C. W. McCuiston, formerly of the A to Z grocery, died at the General hospital, Seattle, on Wednesday, September 15, according to a telegram received in Bend Friday. The funeral is to be in Seattle. "Buster," as the little fellow was generally known, would have been 7 years old on November 11. Three years ago he fell from a swing, injuring his hip. After weeks of suffering, he seemed to be recovering, when, in February, 1919, he contracted influenza, settling in his weakened hip and causing an infection, probably a form of tuberculosis. Since that time his has been a record of constant, patient suffering. His parents took him to the ablest surgeons in the Northwest, he was placed in casts and every known method was employed, but to no avail. Everything failed but his sunny smile. Day after day, as he lay at his window, he constructed every conceivable structure from his Erector pieces, he herded his toy horses into the top barn, and he dreamed the dreams of boyhood, but he never complained.

Y. M. C. A. COURSES PROVING POPULAR

Already a number of Bend young men have signed up for Y. M. C. A. extension division correspondence schools, reports Secretary L. W. Trickey of the Bend association. The courses, covering a wide variety of subjects, have only been offered for the past two months, but in spite of this there are no less than 5000 men and boys throughout the United States taking them, says Mr. Trickey. Students pay for the courses in installments, as the different parts of the study outline are received, and local supervision makes the results attained more beneficial, the Y. M. C. A. officials contend, than is the case with the ordinary correspondence school.

SCHOOL BOARD MUST PREPARE TO SEAT MANY

An early meeting of the teachers committee of the Bend school board with the city superintendent will be necessary in order to arrange for taking care of the present surplus of pupils and the even greater number expected with the coming of the second term, at its regular session, the board has been advised in the committee's report. The suggestion that vacant buildings be rented for temporary school purposes will be taken up at that time.

Thrift will be the keynote of the administration of the domestic science department, the committee reported, and an endeavor will be made to show a margin of profit as the result of the work of the various classes.

What solution will be made of the athletic hall problem was undecided and the matter was referred back to the committee. So far, the board feels able to pay only $100 a month rent to the Y. M. C. A., while the board of governors of that institution are asking double this amount.

It was reported that the grounds adjoining the Central building on the west, offered to the district by Joseph Innes, can be had at a figure between $2500 and $3000.

CRUISERS FINISH SWAMP WELLS JOB

George Bright and F. W. Furst, government timber cruisers, arrived in Bend on Friday after having finished work on a 5000-acre tract in the Swamp wells country, adjoining Brooks-Scanlon logging operations. The yellow pine mature timber in the tract is roughly estimated at 50,000,000 feet and the cruise has been made in anticipation of a possible purchase by private interests.

If sold, the timber will be logged under government supervision, it was announced at the office of the Deschutes National forest here this morning.

JUSTICE MUST BE DEFENDANT

H. G. HAYES, OF MCKENZIE BRIDGE, TO STAND TRIAL FOR GAME LAW VIOLATION—WARDEN McDONALD TO LEAVE.

H. G. Hayes, trapper, guide and justice of the peace at McKenzie bridge, will appear in Bend next Tuesday to answer to the charge of selling venison and of killing deer out of season, District Game Warden H. McDonald announced this morning on his return from a trip to Eugene, in the course of which he arrested Hayes. Because Mr. McDonald was not returning direct to Eugene, he did not insist on Hayes accompanying him, but took his promise to report for trial here on September 1.

The case will probably be the last which McDonald will attend in his official capacity of game warden, for he announced this morning that as soon as it is concluded he will leave for Seattle to enter the University of Washington. He intends to register in the pre-med department.

IMPROVEMENT OF STOCK

Choose a breed and stick to it. Breed with the correct type in mind. Study pedigrees for inherited characteristics, relative merit and value. Keep your herd or flock free from disease. Develop the young animals and maintain the breeding animals through wise feeding and management.

T. B. PATIENTS IMPROVING IN BEND CLIMATE

Fifty per cent of the men and women presenting themselves to Dr. Marr Bissillon, Portland specialist, for examination during the first day of the tuberculosis clinic held at the Y. M. C. A. here under the auspices of the Bend chapter of the Red Cross, were found to have the disease, but in a majority of these cases the patient's condition was found to be improving in the high, dry Central Oregon climate. A number who believed they had contracted tuberculosis were found to be merely suffering from the after effects of influenza.

Ten persons were examined that morning, and up to 2 o'clock in the afternoon five more had been passed on, while a waiting list of 12 was on hand.

Because of the great interest being taken in the clinic, Dr. Bissillon remained in the city through Friday, admitting to examination all those who present themselves tonight and Friday.

ROUND-UP POSTPONES KID TAYLOR'S FIGHT

A slight postponement in Kid Taylor's first appearance in a Portland ring has been made, due to the Pendleton Round-up, which has cancelled the smoker at which the Bend boy was to fight. Instead, Taylor will go to Seattle on September 23 and to Tacoma on September 29, under the management of M. C. Hill, and will fight preliminaries in both cities. His fight with Billy Maccott will take place after his return to Portland.

His Reason.

Speaking of politics and elections, we knew a man once who announced that he would vote for a certain candidate for office. When asked for his reason, he replied that the candidate was his friend. And when they asked him if he had no other reasons he said no; he said he didn't need any other reason. We have liked this man ever since.
