

POLICE CHIEF QUILTS JOB AT END OF YEAR

NEW COUNCIL CAUSE FOR ACTION

ORDER MORE PAVING

Resolutions of Intention for Congress and Delaware Passed at Council session—Bids to Be Opened Tuesday.

The first result of the municipal election held in Bend Tuesday was seen on Friday, when Chief of Police L. A. W. Nixon, for six years an officer in Bend, tendered his resignation to take effect at 6 o'clock on the evening of December 31. His resignation was accepted, but J. C. Rhodes, as president of the council, stated that such an action was deeply regretted, and that he doubted if Bend would ever again have as efficient an official to take Mr. Nixon's place.

"I have always worked in accord with the administration but I feel that if I continued in office after this year that such a condition would no longer be possible. There are some of the members of the new council whom I wouldn't work with," said Mr. Nixon.

Two more streets in Bend were listed for hard-surfacing, when the council received the report of City Engineer Robert B. Gould on the Delaware avenue and Congress improvements, and passed resolutions of intention. A two inch bituminous pavement is specified, but the work will differ from that authorized in the business section of the city, in the fact that the asphalt will be laid directly on the soil, instead of having a cinder base. Mr. Gould, in giving his report, mentioned that he was unable to recommend this type of paving. Councilmen McPherson and Rhodes in voting yes on the resolutions, explained that they did not because of popular demand expressed through petitions, and not because of any faith in a two inch asphalt surface, laid without a foundation. The Delaware avenue work is estimated at $21,196, and that on Congress at $13,856.95.

To Open Bids Tuesday
The ordinance definitely placing the management of the cemetery in the hands of the newly created cemetery association, was read for the second time and passed.

Four fires occurred during the past month. Fire Chief Tom Carlson stated, in his monthly summary of the work of the department. Dr. C. A. Fowler, city physician, reported the quarantining of 18 cases of scarlet fever and four of smallpox, and the release of two cases of each. Seventeen births and eight deaths occurred in October.

The viewers' report compiled by C. A. Warner, Joseph Innes, and E. A. Sather, assessing benefits and damages incident to the widening of the alley of block two, city of Bend, was received and placed on file.

LOCATION OF POULTRY HOUSE

Important Factors to Consider Are Convenience, Good Drainage and Yard Space.

The factors of importance to be considered in selecting the site for the poultry house are convenience of location, nature of soil, good water and air drainage, and a large amount of yard space or available grass range. In the matter of convenience the poultry house should be located near the other farm buildings and within a reasonable distance of the dwelling house, but not so near the house that the poultry will become a nuisance where they have free range by roosting on the porches. A southern or southeastern exposure should be selected, putting the house, if possible, on a knoll or elevation of the land where the water and air drainage are good. It is very important that the land be well drained, so that it will always be dry around the poultry house. Where there is good water drainage, the air drainage is also usually good, while if the poultry house is located in a low place, cold and frosty air tends to settle in such a low place, making it a very undesirable site for the location of the poultry house.

In regard to soil one must be relatively influenced by the kind of soil on the farm, but, if possible, select a

FOUR U. S. FARM BOYS WIN INTERNATIONAL STOCK-JUDGING CONTEST AND TRIP TO EUROPE

ATLANTA, Ga.—Four farmer boys without any agricultural school training will make a trip to Europe, the reward which goes with the winning of the International Stock Judging championship in south and southeastern competition here. This non-college team came from far off Texas, winning over teams from all parts of the country—including college-trained men. The Texas team finished with 3110 points against 2965 by the Mississippi team which was second. The Texas team were all members of Boys' Club and were coached by Cy W. Evans and W. B. Cook of the Texas Extension Service from the state college. The trip will be first to the Royal Stock Show at London—then to the agricultural districts of France, Holland, Belgium and Isles of Jersey and Guernsey. This is the highest honors ever conferred upon farmer boys in this country. Top row—left to right—W. B. Cook and C. M. Evans, coaches; Alvin Dehman, Lamesa; lower row—Gorden Gillispie, Coleman; Job. Turner, Hillsboro and G. W. Wetting, Marlin, Texas.

site which has a sandy loam soil and one that is well drained. Avoid a heavy clay soil or a very light sand. The land should be heavy enough to grow good grass and green feed and not burn up quickly in hot weather. A heavy clay which does not drain properly and which remains cold and wet late in the summer is very undesirable.

Free range is the ideal condition under which to keep poultry, where it is possible. On many farms the gardens can be fenced, allowing the poultry free range, provided the poultry house is erected at a suitable distance from the dwelling house or from the crops which would be materially injured by the fowls. Where only a very limited range is available and the fowls must be kept yarded, it is advisable to arrange for two yards. Alternate these yards, growing one yard to green crops, such as oats, wheat, and any quick-growing grain with a small amount of rape seed, or some other quick-growing crop which makes a tender succulent growth. If the fowls have to be yarded, and two yards can be kept in grass or alfalfa, this makes a splendid arrangement, alternating the yards so that the grass is not killed in either yard. Where the space is so limited, it is advisable to renew the land in this yard by plowing or working the land and planting it two or three times each year to some of the quick-growing grain crops, putting a temporary fence a half foot from the front of the house, thereby keeping the fowls off of the growing crop until the grains are from 2 to 4 inches high.

"Work Poor."
Charles M. Schwab at one of his Loretto dinner parties was talking about a man who was vainly beseeching the banks for a loan. "He's a rich man, too," said Mr. Schwab; "but he's work poor." "Work poor?" said a guest. "Yes, work poor," Mr. Schwab repeated. "You see, he's always got so many operations in hand that he's always short of money to finance them. Work poor, I call it." Then he smiled and added: "He's one of those fellows who dig so much that they're always in a hole."

DOGS ONCE CALLED VERMIN

Only in Comparatively Recent Years Have They Received Recognition Under English Laws.

Our laws regarding dog bites, which Judge Chier declares to be full of anomalies, are all of modern date, says The-Bits.

There seems to be no reference to dogs in any law passed before the accession of Queen Victoria. In a case heard by Mr. Justice Elliot in 1835 it was ruled that dogs were vermin, and for that reason the church would not degrade itself by taking tithes of them. Nor was a dog the subject of larceny at common law, the ruling being that "a man shall not hang for a dog."

Parliament first began to notice dogs in 1838, by passing a statute increasing "the resources of civilization" against the lawless doings of Irish curs. Ten years later, dog fighting, bull baiting and bear baiting were prohibited by parliament. Between 1854 and 1882 no fewer than eight statutes were passed regulating the condition and social status of the dog, one of which placed him in a position of a taxpayer. In addition to these which applied throughout the United Kingdom—a special act was framed to curb the sheep-worrying propensities of dogs in Scotland.

WOULD SELL AT THAT PRICE

Broker Declined to Wait for Any Further Advance in Quotations on Prepared Foods.

A prominent curb broker, wishing to make his lunch period as brief as possible, forsook his accustomed restaurant, a very exclusive place, for a "trust system" buffet.

Glancing up at the price board, he noted "Pot Roast Beef with Corn Muffins, 30 cents," which he ordered. As he "self-served" himself to a vacant place at one of the tables, he again turned his gaze to the board, where he noticed an attendant was now doing some sleight-of-hand work.

With much astonishment he beheld the 30, denoting the price of "P. R. B. with C. M. common" dexterously changed to a 35. When he had sufficiently recovered from the shock, with plate of victuals in hand, he approached the food trader, and indignantly inquired as to the cause of the sudden change in price.

"Why, I bought this hardly three minutes ago," he protested, "when it was quoted 30."

The lunch room profiteer smartly answered, "I know, but the asked price is now 35."

"Well," shot back the broker, "I suppose there's every indication of a further rise, but I guess I'll get out now. You can sell this for me at that price and keep your commission out of the proceeds."—Wall Street Journal.

FIRE RESULTS FROM A DEFECTIVE FLUE

Fire, starting from a defective flue, gutted the one-room house of Mrs. E. Pionaka, on Canal place, late Saturday afternoon. The Bend volunteer fire department answered the alarm, arriving on the scene in time to save the exterior portion of the building. Damage done by the flames was not estimated.

Protection for Antarctic Fauna.

It is likely that the Australian commonwealth will, at the instigation of Sir Douglas Mawson, the antarctic explorer, preserve Macquarie Island and the neighboring islets as a sanctuary for the subantarctic fauna. The island, which has an area of nearly 400 degrees S., 900 miles from Tasmania and nearly the same distance from Antarctica. It is the home and breeding ground of many millions of penguins of different species, including the now rare king penguins, and of vast hosts of sea-elephants and seals.

Here is a striking example of what a short span of years will do to Milady's hair. The pretty dark-eyed girl says, "You make a straight part down the right side, smooth it down to the ear, where you screw the ends into a tight curl, and pin them in a bunch right over the ear." The lady in the inset evidently doesn't agree with her system at all.

DAME FASHION IS IN MILADY'S BOUDOIR

For many years dame fashion has been content to play her pranks of the ever changing of milady's daily apparel. Now she attacks her bedroom and by style decrees that in order to be up to the minute she must wear the Parisian creation which is shown above or something very similar to it. The pajama is one single garment with a wide belt which is quite loose. The trouser legs are tightened at the ankle with an elastic, leaving about three inches of the cuff as a ruffe.
