DEATH IS CAUSED BY SCARLET FEVER

Funeral Services Are Held Here For Eight Year Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Debing.

Funeral services were held here last Thursday for Anna Debing, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Debing, residents of the farming section between Tumalo and Deschutes. Rev. Father Luke Sheehan of St. Francis Catholic church conducted the services and interment was made at Pilot Butte cemetery.

A malignant attack of scarlet fever, lasting only three days, and terminating in an affection of the heart, caused the child's death.

SUFFERED 28 YEARS

Nora Erney, 1351 Poplar St., Terre Haute, Ind.: "For 28 years I had rheumatism in my back. I tried everything. Foley Kidney Pills helped me right away." Cold weather makes aching joints, sore muscles and irregular bladder action, more unbearable. Foley Kidney Pills help kidneys eliminate pain-causing poisons. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

DEATH SEQUEL TO ONE DAY ILLNESS

Following an illness of only one day, Edna Williamson, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Williamson of Jefferson Park place, died last week at her home. Scarlet fever was the cause of death. Funeral services were held this afternoon and burial was made at Pilot Butte cemetery.

Humoresque.

They were three perfect boarding house ladies.

"Yes," said the lady who prided herself on her authoritative statements. "I think 'The Humoresque' is wonderful."

"That's the new theater downtown isn't it, dear?" asked the lady who prided herself on keeping up to date.

"No, my dear, that is the name of a motion picture," patiently explained the first lady.

"Is it?" asked the third lady, who prided herself on her musical ability. "I thought it was a musical composition. My brother is a musician," she continued. "He was the leader of a band during the war. That's where I learned what I know about music. He played 'The Humoresque' beautifully, so I am sure you are wrong about its being a picture."

Title Passed With Him.

The last holder of the judicial title of baron in Great Britain passed with the recent death in Dublin of Christopher Pallas, who was baron of the exchequer in Ireland. The title of baron was abolished when the court of exchequer was merged with the Queen's bench, and Lord Chief Baron Pallas was the last bearer of it.

He was the solicitor general for Ireland in 1872, and the same year was promoted attorney general. After holding the latter office for two years he became lord chief baron and held that position until 1916.

He was one of the ablest lawyers on the Irish bench and one of the wisest, but had a great regard for the dignity of his court. He was eighty-nine years old when he died.—Kansas City Star.

If a man wants to succeed he must give what success demands—hard work and thought. If he won't give it he has no right to kick and say luck is against him.

GRADE PUPILS SCORE HIT IN HOLIDAY PLAY

CROWD PACKS GYM TO SEE PAGEANT

ACTORS WELL TRAINED

Clever Dancing, Excellent Music, And Pretty Costumes Worn By Children Features of The Christmas Entertainment.

A crowd which filled the gymnasium to the limit enjoyed the presentation of the Christmas pageant, "The Gifts We Bring," given last Thursday by the pupils of the Bend grade schools, under the direction of the Reid, Kenwood and Central school instructors. Attractive costumes, excellent music, clever dancing and the very evident enjoyment of the juvenile actors in their work were features in making the entertainment a highly successful one. The pageant had been rehearsed, as a whole, only once, each separate group being rehearsed as a unit, and the entire program being put together at a final practice, held the day before the presentation of the pageant. Mrs. Ethel Travis was in charge of the musical part of the program.

A Christmas carol by children behind the scenes was the introduction, with a prologue by Kenneth Ramey as Father Time, sketching the story of Christmas, following. The story on which the pageant is based opened with a Christmas eve scene, in which two tiny tots, Alice Speck and Virginia Carpenter, were being put to bed before the coming of Santa Claus. Vernia Collier appeared as the mother of the children.

Solo Dancing Pleases.

The little folks were wakened from their sleep by the Christmas Fairy, (Olga Dickinson), who summoned the Fairies of Love, Peace and Good Will. These parts were taken, respectively, by Beatrice Sartain, Rena Kelley and Venola Gipson, and the entrance of each gave the opportunity for some clever solo dancing. Gerald Simmons, as Santa, appeared, attended by George Olson as Jack Frost and the Fairies of Play and Joyfulness (Elizabeth Keyes and Margaret Goodman) and the Snow Fairy (Gay Hamilton).

Santa then issued a command that all the tops in the shop be brought in, and groups of children danced in, the snowbirds garbed in white, the tinsel fairies with glittering wreaths, the jumping jacks with odd, jerky steps, the candles, the automatic toys, with typical clockwork action, the stick candles, dressed as pink and white peppermint sticks, the colored balls, special able dancers, flower fairies in red, carrying baskets of poinsettias, the holly branches, small boys in green and red, and the bell dancers.

Many Take Part in Pageant.

Morning came and the mother entered, wishing the children a "Merry Christmas," summoning the Christmas fairy and Santa. After another Christmas carol came the second episode, and bands of children from foreign lands are welcomed.

Another carol introduced the final scene, Gertrude Bates, carrying the national flag, appearing as America; Florence Nelson, bearing a dove, as Peace, and Good Will bearing the holly wreath.

In addition to the leading roles, the children taking part in the pageant were as follows:

Colored ball dance—Anna McNeal, Edna Ungerama, Jane Ryan, Virginia Bartlett, Helen Vinal, Madge Claypool, Annabelle Hexberg, Danna Dorneckers.

CATHOLICS COLLECT $136 FOR STARVING

Would Mean Oversubscription In City of County Quota, If Added To Local Committee's Receipts.

Separate from the fund gathered here by the local committee as part of the state campaign to aid starving children in Europe, the Catholic church has collected $136 for the same purpose, it was announced Monday by Father Gabriel Harrington of the Bend Catholic clergy. This amount, if added to the $2109 received by the local committee representing the state organization, would exceed the quota set for all Deschutes county.

BODY OF CHERRYTREE IS BROUGHT TO BEND

Tragic Death of Young Californian From Cold And Starvation Recalled—Companion Goes North.

The body of Frank Cherrytree, Californian, who died two weeks ago of cold and starvation, 15 miles below Crescent, was brought into Bend at 3 o'clock Friday morning by R. C. Geekler, mayor of Turlock, Cal., representing the young man's mother. Mr. Geekler left for Turlock Friday night, by way of Portland, accompanying the body.

E. C. Swoe, Cherrytree's companion on the auto trip south which resulted in Cherrytree's death, came into Bend the same morning en route to his home in Spokane.

RECRUITING OFFICER TO LEAVE BEND SOON

R. C. Smith, On Duty Here For Past Year, Will Ship At Bremerton—Office May Be Closed.

R. C. Smith, for the past year naval recruiting officer for the Central Oregon district, with headquarters in Bend, will leave about January 5 for Portland, to be sent from there to Bremerton, where he will be assigned to a ship. Mr. Smith will be given a leave of absence from duty, beginning December 30, which will allow him to close up his affairs in Bend.

Whether or not the recruiting office will be kept open is a point on which Mr. Smith could give no information. Recruiting has been progressing so rapidly that only four-year enlistments may now be made, except in the case of boys of 17 years, who may enlist until they become of age.

TELEPHONE OFFICE CONDITIONS STUDIED

To become acquainted with conditions in the various telephone offices in Oregon, representatives of the various exchanges are holding monthly meetings in Portland. As the oldest employes of the local branch of the Pacific States Telephone Co., Miss Noma Fultz will go from Bend to be present at these monthly sessions. Miss Fultz has just returned from attending the meeting held last week.

EVERYTHING THAT IS BIG HAS HAD ITS SMALL BEGINNING

At some time the large fortune was small, but it grew. Your fortune may be now in its infancy; you may not have more than a dollar that doesn't need to be spent at once for some necessity. But put that dollar away, in a safe place; let it draw interest; by and by put another dollar with it, and then another and another. Like a child your fortune will grow—steadily, surely. In time, what you have put aside, added to what your savings have earned, will amount to enough to make a good investment. You have made the beginning of your fortune.

Help your Moulters Moults

Moulting time is the time that a hen needs assistance. It is the off-season in the life of the hen.

Think of the amount of a hen's energy, vitality and red blood that's required to reproduce a thousand feathers! (which is only an average plumage).

A moulting hen needs good health, good appetite and digestion. That's just what Poultry Pan-a-ce-a does for a moulting hen—gives her appetite and good digestion, so that she'll eat more and digest more.

Dr. Hess Poultry PAN-A-CE-A

Helps your poultry through the moult. And starts your pullets and moulted hens to laying.

It contains Tonics that produce appetite and good digestion—Tonics that tone up the dormant egg organs—Iron that gives a moulting hen rich, red blood and a red comb. It contains Internal Antiseptics that destroy disease germs that may be lurking in the system.

No disease where Pan-a-ce-a is fed

Pan-a-ce-a helps your poultry to stay at par during the moult. They don't become run-down, pale and thin.
