

CHRISTMAS DAY IS HAPPIEST IN CITY'S HISTORY

HUGE CROWD DRAWN BY COMMUNITY TREE

300 ARE TURNED AWAY

900 Sacks of Candy Distributed Among Children, And Surplus Is To Be Handled By Red Cross—Carols Waken City Christmas

Bend experienced Saturday the happiest Christmas day in the history of the city, and that the holidays were not yet over was shown Monday in the long lines of people waiting in the postoffice to receive Christmas packages. So efficient was the holiday management of the office, however, that practically the only ones whose mail was at all delayed were box renters, whose addresses were not known to the postmaster.

The biggest community Christmas eve celebration ever staged in Bend, held Friday night at the gymnasium, ushered in the anniversary of the birth of Christ, and for once the hall and balconies at the Y. M. C. A. proved inadequate. Approximately 1400 people were crowded into the place, and E. H. Brandenburg, chairman of the committee in charge, estimated that nearly 300 were turned away. Firemen were on duty at the hall, and when it was considered that no more could be admitted without creating a grave danger in case of fire, the outer doors were closed.

Children Get Gifts.

Nine hundred of the 900 sacks of candy, prepared as gifts for the children, were distributed at the close of the evening, and those remaining are being turned over to Mrs. V. A. Forbes, home service secretary of the Red Cross, to be given out to those who received none.

Singing by the audience, led by Charles G. Wilson, opened the program, and the invocation was given by Rev. H. C. Hartman, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The addresses of the evening were by Rev. Father Luke Sheehan of the Catholic church and Rev. J. Edgar Purdy of the Methodist church. Father Sheehan told of the first Christmas, the birth of Christ, and the effect which it has had in bringing into being modern civilization, while Rev. Purdy spoke on the present day Christmas spirit.

Children's dialogues and tableaux, under the direction of Miss Hazel Hazleton, were followed by other numbers by children drilled by Miss Marie Brosterhouse. Among the most enjoyable features of the evening were selections by the Shevlin-Hixon band, which was at its best on Christmas eve. Recitations and dialogues were next on the program, with a vocal trio by Frances Heyburn, Jeannette Keyes and Kathryn Hayden, preceding the closing musical number, "America," with the accompaniment by the band. The distribution of gifts followed.

Continuing the custom which they have observed for the past five years, Ashley Forrest and Dr. R. D. Ketchum rose early Christmas morning and, at various points in the city, played Christmas carols, giving the one touch needed to introduce a perfect Christmas day. Because of the small number of musicians, it was impossible to reach all the people of Bend, but the many who did hear praised highly the quality of the music and the spirit which prompted it.

Christmas day was chiefly a home celebration in the city, and in this material aid was given by Postmaster W. H. Hudson in making possible the best holiday mail service ever given here. A large force of carriers was put on, and three auto trucks were employed, with the result that by 1:30 o'clock the large number of parcels received at the office had been delivered, only those whose addresses were not at the disposal of the office being left out.

Church Services Feature.

Special church services were well attended during the week-end, beginning with solemn high mass at the church of St. Francis of Assisi at midnight Christmas eve. Christmas day and Sunday services throughout the city emphasized the importance of the day as one of the two greatest anniversaries in the history of the Christian faith.

KEWPIE DOLL AIDS STARVING CHILDREN

A kewpie doll, offered as a prize by the Bend Hairdressing Parlors, played an important part in aiding the starving children of Europe, for numbers sold on the doll brought in $20, which was turned into the over-subscribed, but constantly growing, Bend fund to feed the starving kiddies across the sea.

WINTER OUTING IN MOUNTAINS ENJOYED

Bend Young Men Put In Ideal Month's Vacation In Vicinity of Davis Lake And Maiden Creek.

A winter outing in Central Oregon is just about the best ever, is the declaration of Christ Kostal and Theo Bond, just returned from a month's vacation spent at Davis lake and Maiden creek. Part of the time was spent in trapping, a good catch of marten and mink rewarding the efforts of the young men, and skiing was especially enjoyed. Snow was about two and one-half feet deep on the level at the time of their departure for Bend, Kostal and Bond stated.
