OBITUARY (Contributed.)

Austen Barber was born April 8, 1904, at Wilson Creek, Wash. He died December 27, 1921, in the Golden State hospital, Los Angeles. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barber, five brothers and one sister survive to mourn his death.

For almost two years Austen had been a great sufferer from what local physicians recently pronounced tuberculosis of the stomach and intestines. After a recent attack of acute pain and hemorrhage, he began urging his parents to send him to his older brother in California. Much against their wishes and judgment, they finally yielded to his wishes.

He was too ill to travel, and his friends realized it, but they soon received a telegram from his brother, saying he had arrived and was in his care. This was followed by another wire announcing his death.

A letter from his brother finally reached his parents, telling the particulars of his death, which occurred less than 24 hours after his arrival. His brother met the train, finding Austen suffering from another acute attack. He was taken at once to the hospital, where the end came.

The doctors there found that he was suffering from general peritonitis, and told his brother he could not live. In California, the law requires an inquest and post mortem for non-residents. This revealed the fact that his death was caused by an inflamed and ruptured appendix. He was conscious to the last.

Austen was loved and respected by all who knew him and was surrounded by every comfort at the last. He was buried in the sunshine, covered by flowers and followed to his last resting place by relatives who resided in Los Angeles.

BEND BUSINESS DECLARED BEST

Business conditions in Bend compare very favorably with those of the middle western states, according to Harry Henderson, of 321 Congress street, just returned from a trip of five weeks, during which he visited points in Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Kansas, Michigan, Colorado, Missouri and Illinois.

While a reduction in prices of nearly all commodities is in effect in these states, it is not noticeable, as in the prices quoted by Bend merchants, according to Mr. Henderson, who also states that wages have been reduced by at least ten per cent, in all the large industrial plants which came under his observation during his trip.

Mr. Henderson is a sawyer in the employ of the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber company.

Russia's Iron Ore Deposits

The greatest iron ore deposits known are thought to have been located near Koursk, Russia, by magnetic disturbances of intensity unequaled elsewhere. These disturbances were studied several years by the late Prof. Ernst Leyst, a Russian, and his records are said to have been rescued and taken to Sweden. Two Swedish observers find that two immense parallel deposits of magnetic iron ore are indicated. These seem to have about equal length, 57 miles or more, and to be separated about 40 miles.

British Ship Gets Record

The Empress of Britain, the first transatlantic oil-burning vessel to pass up the St. Lawrence, arrived recently at Quebec from Liverpool, in five days and twenty-two hours, breaking all previous records between those ports. It was her maiden trip as an oil-burner, and she clipped six hours from her best previous time. The expense of reconditioning her as an oil-burner equaled the cost of her original construction.

Be sure and get the genuine Foley's. Contains no opiates. Sold everywhere.—Adv. 43-47c

SCHOOL BOYS FORGE CHECKS

MORE THAN $45 OBTAINED ON WORTHLESS PAPER BEFORE CULPRITS ARE FOUND AND CONFESSION SECURED.

Worthless checks, which have been scattered over the city recently, have been traced to two high school boys, 13 or 14 years of age, as the result of investigations pursued by Sheriff S. E. Roberts. A variety of names made the tracing particularly difficult, but the juvenile forgers made the mistake of using their true names on two of the checks. Confronted with this evidence, and with specimens of writing which matched their own, they confessed. The amount secured by the boys as the result of their fraudulent operations will exceed $45, Sheriff Roberts states.

VISITS OF STORK FREQUENT IN BEND

203 Births Recorded During Past Year, With Girls In Majority—Deaths Numbered Only 86.

Bend's population increase during the past year was in no small part due to the large number of births as compared to deaths. It is shown by vital statistics for 1928, made public by Dr. C. A. Fowler, city physician. Two hundred and three visits were paid by the stork during that time, while deaths numbered only 86.

In the list of births, girls were in the majority, with a total of 109. Boy babies were 94 in number.

SAYS REYNOLDS WAS AGGRESSOR

C. C. McNEELEY, CHARGED WITH ASSAULT WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON, DECLARES WARRANT WILL AWAIT RANCHER.

That a warrant would await A. L. Reynolds, Bear Creek Butte rancher, on his discharge from St. Charles hospital, where he was a patient, was the declaration Saturday of C. C. McNealey of Bend, in a written statement, made to The Bulletin. McNealey is alleged to have inflicted the knife wound for which Reynolds was under treatment.

"In your rather sensational article of January 6, headed, 'Death Feared at First from Knife Thrust; McNealey Accused,' etc., it looks as if the one that dictated or reported the story was very much interested in making it appear that I was the cause of bringing this trouble to a head," McNealey wrote.

"Now the fact is this—I had not seen Reynolds for a year, and have had no business with him, of any kind, for over two years, and have made no threats against him. Why he made an unwarranted attack on me is more than I can understand. After repeatedly telling him that I did not want any trouble with him, it was only after throwing off his coat, pulling up his sleeves, and calling me vile names, which were heard all over the house, and hitting me in the face, that he got hurt. There will be a warrant ready for him as soon as he is out of the hospital, and he will have a chance to show the judge why he was looking for trouble.

"No one can be more sorry than I am over this disgraceful affair," he concluded.

OREGON CITY MAN FORCED TO GIVE UP

Health Was So Bad He Couldn't Work—Tonic Puts Him Back on His Feet.

"My health got so bad I had to give up my trade, but since taking Tonic, I have gained 12 pounds in weight and have not felt better in 12 years," said Samuel H. Johnson, a well known painter, living at Oregon City, Ore.

"For the past seven years my stomach and kidneys were all out of order and often I was so bad off I had to stay in bed three and four days at a time. My appetite was about gone and sometimes I went for several days without touching a bite. My stomach was so upset that often I wasn't able to retain even water or milk, much less anything solid. I would burst up with gas and my heart would palpitate so terribly I became alarmed for fear I had heart trouble. Every few days I had awful sick headaches and most of the time there was a mean taste in my mouth. My kidneys worried me constantly and I had a severe pain in my back that kept me awake many a night. My complexion turned as yellow as a pumpkin, and finally I got so bad off I couldn't do any hard work and had to give up my trade as a painter.

"That was the condition I was in at the time I got hold of Tonic. My stomach feels like new and I have the finest kind of appetite, and it makes no difference what I eat. I can digest it without any trouble at all. My kidneys don't bother me any more and the pain has left my back entirely. Those sick headaches have been broken up altogether; I now have a good, healthy color and am 12 pounds heavier. My health is better than it has been in many years, and I am feeling so fine I am planning to go back to work."

Tonic is sold in Bend by the Owl Drug Co., in Sisters by George F. Aitken, and in Bend by the Horton Drug Co.

ANXIOUS FATHER SEEKING FOR SON

Boy Who Left Bend December 17 For Home in Monteca, California, Disappears.

Since writing his father, J. R. Monroe, of Monteca, Cal., early in December, that he was starting at once for home, Emery W. Monroe, aged 17, formerly an employe of The Shell-Hixon Company in Bend, has disappeared, says a wire received from the father by Mayor E. D. Gilson. The boy drew his pay, amounting to $28.75, on December 15, stating that he intended to start at once for Monteca, going by boat from Portland to San Francisco.

Nothing has been heard of him since then, either by his father or anyone in Bend, as far as can be learned.

BEND, OREGON

To The Parents and Children of Deschutes County:—

Credit—the backbone of business, means confidence. If you don't inspire confidence, you can't get credit except as charity, and you don't want that. The Central Oregon Bank wants to show you how you can be worthy of the faith of others in business and financial matters.

The surest way to inspire confidence is to be able to show that little red covered bank book, with its savings entries, one after the other, week after week, just as regular as clockwork.

You may need credit to start in business, to take on a contract that will pay you big.

Do you want to ask for that loan as a favor, or do you want to feel that it's a plain business transaction—just as much on one side as on the other?

Of course, there's only one answer, but lots of people don't realize this until the time comes.

Keep your self respect, and keep your credit good by opening a savings account.

You'll find the habit grows, and so will your account.
