Tenor Soloist Recommends Foley's.

John F. West, 272 Morris Ave., Trenton, N. J., well known tenor soloist, writes: "I had a very severe cough and tickling in my throat. I tried Foley's Honey and Tar and was relieved at once. I can highly recommend Foley's Honey and Tar. Good for coughs, colds, croup, hay fever, asthma. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

CLOVERDALE PUPILS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

CLOVERDALE, July 6.—The commencement exercises held in the school house Thursday evening were well attended. The school room was beautifully decorated with lilies, roses, and other flowers. At the rear of the stage the class motto, "Knowledge is Power," in red and green, surrounded with white daisies, was very attractive. The program consisted of written essays and orations given by the eighth grade pupils and was as follows:

"The Promised Land," Albion Peck; "Oregon," Helen Goodrich; "American Indians," Alvin Cyrus; "We Have Reached the Bay in Safety," the Ocean Lies in View," Louise Andrus; solo, Miss Fay Miller; solo, Miss Brown; chorus, B. Black, E. M. Peck, Miss Lee, Mrs. Peck, Thomas Arnold and Miss Hodson; Duet, the Misses Brown; chorus, Miss Doty, Misses Brown, Miss Miller; address, Rev. Schnable; presentation of diplomas, by A. L. Goodrich. At the close of the program ice cream and cake were served by the ladies.

Haying has commenced in this neighborhood and all report excellent crops.

A number from here attended the celebration in Bend on the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartly of Bend were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lantz on the Fourth.

Owing to rain in the mountains last week, which caused an extra supply of water in the ditch, the canal was broken in two places and the water had to be shut off. However, Superintendent Brewster soon had a large crew of men at work and the repairing was done in a half day.

Mrs. Earl Ralston is spending a few weeks with her parents at Terreboune.

For Summer Coughs, Hay Fever and Asthma.

Take Foley's Honey and Tar for hay fever, asthma, coughs, colds and croup. It spreads a healing, soothing coating over the inflamed, irritated, tickling surface, stops sneezing and wheezing, and eases distressing, racking coughs. Acts promptly and surely. Children love it. Contains no opiates. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

FARMERS TO HEAR BEE CULTURE TALK

POWELL BUTTE, July 6.—An event of much importance to the people of Powell Butte will be the lecture by Professor Schullen on bee culture at 10 a. m., July 15, at the George C. Truesdale ranch at Powell Butte. Professor Schullen is a bee expert of some note and, as he lectures at only two points in Deschutes county, no doubt many will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him.

The large advertising signs that the Powell Butte association ordered some time since have arrived and will be placed in position immediately, one at Community hall, one near the river bed and one near the Dave Still ranch.

Hay is on full blast at Powell Butte. It is reported that the first cutting will not be as heavy as usual, due to a shortage of water when the big flume broke. The alfalfa was dry for more than a week when it should have been getting much water.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stange and two children of South Dakota are visiting at the E. H. Stewart home. Mrs. Stange and Mr. Stewart are cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stewart and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Stange, and Jackson spent the Fourth on the Deschutes river.

Nearly all of Powell Butte celebrated some place, either at Bend or Prineville, the Fourth. All report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Milner entertained with a dinner party the evening of the Fourth. Their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Davis and daughter Lucy, of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bayne. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bayne and two small daughters of Seattle arrived the first of the week for a visit with J. A. Riggs and family. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Davis and daughter Lucy, of Portland, are guests at the home of A. W. Bayne. They made the trip by automobile.

AT THE FORTY-YEAR POST

Men and women in middle age have more or less kidney trouble and experience bladder irritations, dull headaches, weariness, lameness and rheumatic pains. Foley Kidney Pills tone up and strengthen the kidneys and bladder and give freedom from pain, a better appetite and unbroken sleep. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

NEWS NOTES FROM MILLICAN VALLEY

MILLICAN, July 6.—Con Breen left this week for his Alfalfa ranch. Mrs. L. Shaffer has the best garden in the valley. The abundance of her vegetables caused her to worry at the waste until neighbors, answering her invitation, helped to dispose of the garden truck.

William Schultz of Bend passed through Rosin ranch, en route to Pringle Flats to spend a few days on his ranch.

Valley Dystra called on his neighbor, Mrs. Rosin, and children Sunday. The had Bible study. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Stephen Breen called on Valley Dystra Monday.

Daniel Breen and Master Clifton M. Rosin visited the annual roundup at the Percival ranch Thursday.

Daniel Breen was a visitor at the Rosin ranch, en route to Bear Creek. Mr. Breen had a pack horse loaded with food supplies for sheep camps, besides his saddle horse. He expects to be on the way a week, stopping at several camps.

Mrs. Frank Percival is raising 15 lambs by hand. Ten of them are among the finest in the country.

HAYING BEGINS AT HAMPTON RANCHES

HAMPTON, July 6.—A number of ranchers have started haying this week.

Gladys Weeks was a passenger on the Bend-Burns stage to Bend Wednesday, returning Thursday.

B. F. Rhodes and Mr. Nicely were passengers on the mail stage last Tuesday, going to Bend.

Audrey and Wesley Hill, Jr., of Bend visited with the Meeks children Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Meeks motored to Lower Bridge last Saturday.

A number of persons from this vicinity went to the G. L. ranch to celebrate the Fourth. Among them were A. A. McFadden and granddaughter, John Carroz, Hazel and Royal Rhodes and Emile Carroz.

Tom C. Ewing, a former resident of this section, was here last Wednesday to get his personal possessions. He traded his homestead for land in the Hood River country.

FINE TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON

Napoleon's Eulogy of the World's Greatest Man Regarded as Worthy of Eternal Preservation.

Approach of the hundredth anniversary of the death of Napoleon Bonaparte recalls the order of the day which he issued in his capacity as first consul, to the French army on the occasion of the death of the first President of the United States. The document is as follows:

"Soldiers! Washington is dead! This great man fought against tyranny. He consolidated the liberty of his native land. His memory will always be cherished by the French people, as well as by all free men of the two worlds, but more especially by the soldiers of France, who, like himself and the soldiers of America in times past, are fighting for equality and liberty. In recognition thereof, the first consul orders that for ten days all the standards and flags of the troops of the republic shall be draped with crape. (Signed) Bonaparte."

Not content with this, Bonaparte insisted that an official eulogy of the liberator of America should be pronounced, in the name of the republic, in the Temple of Mars, the name then given to the chapel of the Palace of the Invalides. The task was confided to Marcellin de Fontane, the poet, who was given six days to prepare it. De Fontane accomplished his task to the satisfaction of Bonaparte, and it is generally agreed that his eulogy of Washington ranks among his very finest works.

Clever Trick.

Golden sausages were used by relief workers to carry money in parts of Asia Minor where bandits are at work. One of the best methods adopted was the taking of money from Constantinople to the interior of Anatolia by extracting meat from a string of sausage and substituting gold. This ruse succeeded because the robbers are mostly Turks and have the Moslem abhorrence of the pig and its products. The worker in charge of the golden sausages was held up several times, but the hidden gold was never touched.

Instead of Coin.

Queer things are often used for coins. Chocolate and coconuts are used in the interior of South America and whale's teeth by the Fijians. Other substitutes are salt, red feathers, iron spikes and cakes for tea.

DEMAND FOR PLAYING-CARDS

Manufacturers Report a Tremendous Increase in Their Use, Mostly in Private Families.

There has been a tremendous increase in the use of playing cards in private families within the last 20 years in this country, the representative of a big American card-manufacturing house says in the New York Times. It may seem strange, but it is the private family that does most of the using of cards. The proportion of playing cards used in the big clubs is small. There is an average of from two to three packs of playing cards used per family each year in the United States. It is estimated, which is a big percentage of the total.

Men's clubs absorb the higher-priced cards, which are sold at prices varying, according to the club, from $1 to $1.50 or $2 per pack. The government tax on cards since 1917, which was raised last year to 8 cents per pack, with increased cost of production, has practically driven the cheaper cards out of the market, and business has gone to the higher grades, which retail at from 30 to 75 cents. The increased playing of bridge has brought into vogue the narrower card, which is more graceful in shape, smaller and a little less bulky.

The bulk of the cards sold have a simple standard design for the back. Among those the best liked in the better class are the ones with the fine steel-engraved or "banknote" back, engraved with the lathework design. These come in the four colors and now have a linen-finish face.

GREAT VICTORY FOR SCIENCE

Cure Said to Be Assured for the World's Greatest Scourge, the Plague of Leprosy.

The news from Hawaii indicates that science has at last found the sure and systematic way to the cure of this world's most appalling disease. Of the 142 former lepers who have been paroled from the Kala hospital in the last two years none has been sent back.

It is peculiar that the plague which has troubled the world at least six centuries, and probably much longer, should eventually be controlled by one of the oldest remedies ever used for it. To modern science is due the discovery of the bacillus of leprosy, but its cure is accomplished with refined chaulmoogra oil, the essence of an Indian plant, which has been used by lepers in the East for centuries. Science has improved on native practice not only in the oil but in its application.

To a world which has 3,000,000 lepers the success of the doctors at Kala is heartening. China, when better days come, can set about the cure of her 2,000,000 stricken. India has 200,000 lepers, Japan 20,000. And the United States has a big leper problem which the developments in Hawaii should soon solve. While the cases of leprosy in the continental United States are few—perhaps not 300—we have thousands of lepers in our island possessions, particularly the Philippines. Now that the way is clear our medical service can go ahead there as it has proceeded in Hawaii.

The Home-Run Thrill.

A baseball fan writes to his favorite paper to protest against the undeserved honors heaped upon the "slugger." Why, he asks, should a home-run hitter be lionized above a fast runner, who uses both feet and brains, or a smart pitcher, who uses both brains and arms?

The answer is easy. The home run is the limit of accomplishment in batting. There is, there can be, nothing bigger. When it comes with the bases full it is catastrophic, and there is enough of the savage in all of us to delight in catastrophes that leave us untouched. In some this subconscious impulse shows itself in fomenting political revolution. Such people would like to see a universal smashup, the world turned inside out, just to see what it would be like afterward. In the baseball devotee the home-run with the bases full satisfies this craving. So far as that particular game is concerned, the home-run is the crack of doom.—New Bedford Standard.

Honors for War Birds.

In France many pigeons have been decorated for distinguished war services; one with the Legion d'Honneur. Diplomas with the citations were issued and kept at the headquarters of the French pigeon service, and because pigeons cannot wear medals on their breasts, special bands, with the colors of the decoration, were made for their legs. A bird which will go down in French history just as surely as Field Marshall Foch himself is the one which carried from Vaux to Verdun the last message for help sent by the Commandant Raynal before the Germans captured the fort. This pigeon flew through a hail of fire and a gas barrage, and, wounded and gassed, dropped dead as it delivered its message. It was awarded the Legion d'Honneur.

Find Old Indian Canoe.

An old Indian canoe, apparently hewn out of an immense log, was caught in the fishing net of William Otten, off Wright's wharf, between Seaford and the "Ferry" seine ground, about three miles below. The canoe is in a fair state of preservation. It was presumably used by the Nanticoke tribe, which inhabited this peninsula more than 100 years ago.—Baltimore American.

"Yours for Real Tobacco"

says the Good Judge

Men are getting away from the big chew idea. They find more satisfaction in a little of the Real Tobacco Chew than they ever got from a big chew of the ordinary kind.

Costs you less, too—the full, rich tobacco taste lasts so much longer.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.
